RULES BRIDGES, CIO LEADER, IS NO COMMUNIST

Landis Finding Mum on Deportation.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—James M. Landis, Harvard law school dean, acting as a special labor department examiner, submitted to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today a finding that Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. leader, neither is a member nor affiliated with the communist party.

James M. Landis.

Harry Bridges.

Landis' finding was set forth in a letter to Secretary Perkins transmitting his report on the deportation proceedings instituted by the department against Bridges, at which Landis presided. He made no specific recommendation as to whether Bridges should be deported, altho his finding was negative on the principal grounds for deportation.

Landis informed the secretary that the evidence submitted "does not permit" a finding that the C. I. O. leader has communist affiliations. Bridges had denied that he was a communist.

Act Against Him in 1938.

The deportation proceedings against Bridges were instituted in March, 1938, on the grounds that he was a member of an organization allegedly advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The 39 year old C.I.O. leader, who came into labor prominence during the 1934 maritime strikes on the west coast, is a native of Australia. He came to the United States in 1920.

The hearing afforded Bridges an opportunity to show cause why he should not be deported and the government was faced with the obligation of proving two essential points to win its case.

What Must Be Proved.

It was required to prove: First, that Bridges was a member of the party or affiliated with it at the time warrant was served upon him in March, 1938. Secondly, the government was required to prove that if Bridges was a member or was affiliated with the party that the organization advocated the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

In his report to Secretary Perkins, Landis said he did not deem it necessary to make a finding as to whether the party "advocates, advises or teaches the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence."

The next step in the case—approval or rejection of the Landis finding—is up to Secretary Perkins.

Legal experts said that if she approved the finding her action would annul the warrant issued against Bridges and close the case.

Finds Him Energetically Radical.

Landis' report was compiled from a 3,000 page record accumulated during an 11 weeks hearing at Angels Island, San Francisco. His report runs 75,000 words and covers 152 printed pages.

After weighing the evidence and credibility of the witnesses and Bridges' own testimony on his social and political beliefs, Landis said:

"That Bridges' aims are energetically radical may be admitted but the proof fails to establish that the methods he seeks to employ to realize them are other than those that the framework of democratic and constitutional government permits."

Landis described one witness as a "self-confessed liar." One he said was "neither a candid nor a forth-

ASSASSINS BEAT GARAGE OWNER WITH BALL BAT

Marinus Hvid, owner of a union picketed garage at 3514 North Halsted street, who was beaten by labor terrorists Wednesday night, died of his injuries in the John B. Murphy hospital early today.

Police immediately speeded up their efforts to apprehend the goons who committed the fatal assault. Even as Hvid died they were on the trail of a man named in an anonymous letter as his actual assailant. They refused to divulge the suspect's name. Meanwhile they were holding four union pickets and a garage employé as witnesses.

Never Regained Consciousness.

Hvid, 51 years old, was beaten into unconsciousness in front of 655 Buckingham place, near his garage, by two men, one of whom was armed with a baseball bat or club. He was belabored so heavily that his skull, jaw, and several vertebræ were fractured. He was found unconscious. He died without regaining consciousness.

Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Town Hall station was at once notified of Hvid's death. He gave orders to his men, who have been working ceaselessly on the case, to follow every clew.

City-wide Search for Suspect.

In particular he ordered them to run down the clew contained in the anonymous letter. Detectives went to the man's home, but were told he was out of town. A city-wide search for him was directed.

Police said the attack on Hvid, a respected business man, was unusually vicious, and that it was obvious that the hoodlums did not care if they killed him. In ordinary labor attacks, police pointed out, hoodlums are content to injure and frighten a victim.

Expelled from Association.

Hvid was expelled last March from the Affiliated Garages of Chicago, a garage owners' association. He had refused to pay a $75 fine for an alleged violation of association rules. Pickets soon were established at his garage by local 727 of the Auto Livery Chauffeurs, Drivers and Garage Helpers' union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Officials of both organizations were questioned by State's Attorney Courtney's police. Emil Mermall, executive director of the Affiliated Garages, and Edward Reilly, president of the chauffeurs' union, denied their organizations were involved in the assault. They also denied that there is any connection between the two groups.

Two More Arrested.

Among the five persons held, two were placed in technical custody last night. They were Roy McDonald, 931 Windsor avenue, and Jack Parks, colored, who gave the garage as his address. McDonald denied knowledge of the attack. Parks is held as a possible witness.

Others in custody are Alex Schragel, 1108 North Pulaski road; Frank Dougherty of Delavan Lake, Wis., and Charles Gilliam, colored, listed as pickets.

Hvid lived at 438 Briar place with his wife and four children. His wife told police he had been threatened often.

North Side Building Bombed.

What police reported as apparently another labor attack occurred late last night when hoodlums exploded a powerful black powder bomb at the main entrance of a building being remodeled at 5320 Broadway.

The blast did about $500 damage. Sergt. Marshall Pidgeon of the bomb squad, said the bomb would have blown to pieces anyone who had been near it.

The bomb was evidently aimed at Wholesale Tobaccos, Inc., which is to occupy the building soon, police said. One of the company's other branches, situated at 6009 Broadway, was bombed in August, 1938. At that time Perry Rose, vice president, blamed the attack on his concern's refusal to join a jobbers' association.

He laid last night's bombing to the same cause. He charged that the association was a racket which sought to control prices and regulate no counts. Rose's employés are unionized.

LEAVING A FEW THINGS BEHIND THAT WE'D BE GLAD TO SPARE

FAVORS PERSONS LOSING THEIR VOTES AS THEY REACH FOOLISH AGE

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP).—Possibility that there might be an age beyond which people are "too foolish" to be allowed to vote was suggested tonight by Dr. Raymond Pearl in an address for the centenary celebration of the American Statistical association.

"The wisdom of the founding fathers led them to the view that persons under 21 years of age were on the whole too foolish to be entrusted with the power to vote," said the Johns Hopkins university biologist.

"But not having envisaged the possibility of such weird economic philosophies as those currently associated with 'ham and eggs' or '$200 a month,' it apparently never occurred to them that there might conceivably be an age beyond which people would also be too foolish to be allowed to vote."

MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS TURNS OUT TO BE SOUR

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 29 (AP).—The woman's car had a flat tire. So Highway Patrolmen Leedy Hunter and O. K. Bivins climbed out in freezing weather and changed tires for her.

Then they discovered the car was out of gasoline. They gave the woman a gallon.

Attempting to start the car, they found a light fuse had burned out. The obliging patrolmen drove to the nearest town, bought one at their own expense, and came back and installed it.

"Well," the woman said as she started to drive away, "I would thank you, but I know that's what you're getting paid for."

GERMANY AGAIN REDUCES SUGAR IN BAKERY CAKE

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—German bakers face the problem of presenting the German public with pastry which is tasty but which does not contain too much sugar, fat or butter in its preparation.

Rations of these products issued to bakers are to be further curtailed, it was announced today. The bakers are to confine themselves to making fewer kinds of cakes but better ones, thereby saving both raw materials and labor.

Federal Court Says Company Union Is Legal

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP).—A former chairman of the National Labor Relations board—now a federal judge—handed down a ruling today that so-called company unions are entitled to the same recognition as American Federation of Labor or Congress of Industrial Organizations unions—providing the "independent" organizations are not company influenced.

Judge Biddle. [Acme Photo.]

Judge Francis Biddle wrote the decision for the 3d United States Circuit Court of Appeals. He based it on a like opinion of the 2d Circuit court in New York.

Concurring with Judge Biddle were Judges Albert B. Maris and John Biggs Jr. All are appointees of President Roosevelt.

The decision voided a National Labor Relations board order on the Swank Products company of Attleboro, Mass., that it disband the Swank Products Employés' association.

Finds No Discrimination.

The court's decision said the fact the association is an "inside union" does not make it illegal. The Swank company, the court said evidence showed, took only a "passive" interest in its employés' organization and never discriminated against labor unions or showed hostility toward them.

The labor board had upheld the International Jewelry Workers' union [A. F. of L.] complaint that the Swank company's organization was "company dominated."

"The act [Wagner labor law] does not purport to prohibit plant or so-called company unions, except where they are linked with the employer," said Judge Biddle's opinion. "That relationship does not arise from passive acquiescence of an employer, for acquiescence has none of the positive and aggressive quality contemplated by such words as 'interfere,' 'restrain,' 'coerce,' and 'dominate,' which we find in the act."

Another Order Overruled.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 29 (AP).—The United States 4th Circuit Court of Appeals overruled yesterday an order of the National Labor Relations board which had directed L. Grief & Brother, Inc., and an association of the company's employés to cease giving effect to a contract between the company and the employés' union.

The case grew out of a complaint of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America [C. I. O.], which had sought to organize the company's employés at Westminster, Md. The court held that the evidence "shows beyond a reasonable doubt that the great majority of the workers got the kind of representation that they desired by the formation" of their association.

EXISTENCE OF CANALS ON MARS CONFIRMED, ASTRONOMER ASSERTS

Delaware, O., Dec. 29 (AP).—Existence of canals on Mars is now definitely confirmed, Dr. Earl C. Slipher of Lowell observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., told members of the American Astronomical society today.

"We cannot say positively whether these canals are artificial, but there is no longer any doubt in my mind that they exist," he said.

Dr. Slipher's belief was based on 8,000 photographs taken of Mars last summer at the Lamont-Hussey observatory in South Africa when Mars was the closest to the earth in recent years, a distance of approximately 35,000,000 miles.

The canals run in straight directions as if an engineer had laid them out, he said, and are geometric in pattern.

WINTER SPORTS NOTE: BANDITS NOW USING SKIS

When Arthur Charron arrived at his restaurant near Ste. Scholastique, Que., he found his wife firing a revolver at two robbers skiing off in a cloud of snow with the contents of the cash register.

"Here, let me have it. My aim is better than yours," shouted Charron.

In the transfer the gun was discharged and a bullet went thru Charron's hand and his wife's leg.

Provincial police said two arrests were made in the case today.

Russian Flyers Attack Own Men in Arctic

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROVANIEMI, Capital of Finnish Lapland, on the Arctic Circle, Dec. 29.—A mutiny in one of the Russian armies which are invading Finland, during which soviet flyers bombed and machine gunned the rebellious troops, was reported here today.

The mutiny was said to have occurred on the Salla front east of here near the Russian-Finnish frontier, where a Russian column is attempting to drive thru Finland from Kandalaksha to the Gulf of Bothnia. It was on the Salla front that the Finns exterminated the first invading force of Russians shortly before Christmas. The Russians in that battle lost about 2,000 dead.

Political Commissars Slain.

Finnish scouting detachments which are harassing the Russians in the present drive report that political commissars accompanying the Red troops called the soldiers together for a meeting. Fighting was said to have broken out and the commissars and some of the officers killed by the men. Afterward Russian planes appeared over Salla, bombing and machine gunning their own troops.

[The Associated Press reported from Helsingfors that the Russian drive in the Salla region bogged down when Russian artillery and planes shelled and bombed their own troops by mistake. The soviet forces were said to be in confusion. British reports told of bloody and unexplained fighting between two Russian regiments in the Salla area. These reports said it was believed that each regiment took the other for a Finnish unit.]

Traffic on the Leningrad-Murmansk railroad has been paralyzed for the last fortnight. Finnish planes have repeatedly bombed troop and supply trains. The Finns declare that the soviet army in the arctic is doomed. The Reds are cut off not only from their chief supply base, Leningrad, but also from Murmansk, and the ice conditions in the White sea prevent help from arriving by steamer from Archangel.

Prisoners Work on Railway.

Soviet authorities are said to be using prisoners in the Kem, Soroka, Parandovo, Pongamsk, Chuli, and Kandalaksha concentration camps to repair the railway. These prisoners normally are used by the soviet lumber trust for lumbering.

On the Suomussalmi front, south of Salla, the Finns have been successful in another large military operation. After wiping out an advance force of Russians at Ristijarvi last week the Finns flanked the main group of soviet invaders at Kiantajarvi. Fighting has been going on daily.

It is reported from this sector that the soviet supply column has been destroyed and yesterday two cannons, three tanks, and one armored car were captured.

Report 900 Russians Slain.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Dec. 29 (AP).—The Finnish high command today announced that 900 Russians had been killed in two separate, unsuccessful attacks and that Finnish soldiers had captured quantities of war materials.

The Finns said 600 Russian dead were left in a battle at Kelja, on the Karelian isthmus, between 8 p. m. Dec. 26 and noon of Dec. 27.

About 300 Russians were said to have been left on the field after fighting on the Sysky lake sector on Dec. 27.

"On the [Karelian] isthmus," the high command's communique said, "the enemy again attacked on Dec. 28 at the northern end of Lake Hatjalahden and east of Summa. Both attacks were repulsed and altogether

POLES IN BRITAIN PRAY FOR LIBERTY IN FRONT OF AN ANCIENT ICON

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Praying for deliverance from the Germans, Polish refugees knelt today in a Suffolk church in front of an ancient icon of Our Lady of Czesto, the same one to which Poles prayed 300 years ago when attacked by Swedes and Russians. The Poles emerged victorious in that war.

The icon, which tradition says was painted by St. Luke, hangs in a shrine at Sudbury. It was placed in charge of Father Gerald Moir in gratitude for his work in behalf of Polish refugees. It will remain there until the end of the European war.

WARSHIP LIMPS TO PORT AFTER U-BOAT ATTACK

Four Britons Killed and One Hurt.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30, Saturday.—A 30,000 ton British battleship torpedoed by a German submarine while patroling home waters limped back to port last night. Four men were missing—they were presumed to have been killed—and one was seriously injured, according to a statement issued by the admiralty shortly after midnight.

The name of the battleship and the scene of action were not disclosed by the admiralty. A German high command communique broadcast over the radio, however, revealed that the torpedoing occurred off the west coast of Scotland and that the battleship belonged to the Queen Elizabeth class.

Returns Under Own Power.

The British version as outlined in the meager admiralty statement was that the attack took place Thursday afternoon and that the battleship, not seriously damaged by the torpedo, returned to harbor under its own power.

Britain possesses five battleships of the Queen Elizabeth class—the Queen Elizabeth, Warspite, Valiant, Barham, and Malaya—four of which took part in the battle of Jutland in the last war.

Averaging around 30,000 tons each, they were completed between January, 1915, and February, 1916. All are heavily protected against torpedo attack by 13 inch armor on the waterline and bulges especially designed to frustrate torpedo attacks. They carry eight 15 inch guns, powerful secondary armament and aircraft, and steam at 24 to 25 knots.

Cost of Reconstruction.

The normal complement numbers around 1,100 officers and men. They cost $12,000,000 each to build and a further $4,000,000 each for reconstruction between 1925 and 1933.

In addition to the Queen Elizabeth class Britain has six other battleships in commission and three battle cruisers. The battleship damaged by the German submarine on Thursday was the second to be torpedoed since the start of the war. The first was the Royal Oak, which was sunk in Scapa Flow on Oct. 14 with a loss of 810 lives.

Small Ship Sinks.

The list of victims of the war on commercial shipping was increased yesterday by the sinking of the British fishing trawler Reserche, 258 tons, after it struck a mine in the North sea. The crew of nine was rescued.

An air ministry spokesman said today that British planes had flown to sea off the southeast coast yesterday to investigate reported firing, but that they had not encountered any German aircraft.

GERMANS HAIL FEAT

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—The torpedoing by a German U-boat of a British battleship of the Queen Elizabeth class off the west coast of Scotland was hailed by naval circles here tonight as "another step toward destruction or disablement of the British grand fleet."

Germans stressed that, even tho the vessel was able to reach port, it would be laid up for some time if not for the remainder of the war. Warships in dock, the Germans said, are ideal targets for bombers.

The torpedoed vessel, the Germans declared, was the sixth capital warship of the British to be either sunk or disabled since the start of the war.

Sunk by Torpedoes.

The battleship Royal Oak and the aircraft carrier Courageous were sunk by torpedoes and the 21,250 ton battleship Iron Duke, converted into a training ship, was damaged by an aerial bomb. The British have admitted these German successes.

The Germans also have insisted that the battle cruiser Repulse was damaged by a torpedo and that the battle cruiser Hood was damaged by a bomb. They also have maintained that the aircraft carrier Ark Royal likewise was damaged by German bombers. The British have denied these German claims.

German naval circles said that when ships of the Queen Elizabeth class were modernized special care was taken to equip them with various kinds of devices to protect them from torpedoes.

These devices, the Germans contended, proved partly inadequate in this most recent torpedoing and completely so in the case of the Royal Oak, which also was equipped with bulges against torpedoes.

Germans attached much importance to the fact that he British battleship was torpedoed off the west coast of Scotland. Attacks by the German air force, they declared, had forced the British grand fleet to abandon its bases on the east coast. It also was argued that if German U-boats are employed in greater numbers they will be able to paralyze British ports on the western coast, including those lying in the Irish sea.

ASKS PEACE GUARANTEES

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 29.—Premier Edouard Daladier told the senate today after it had unanimously approved a 1940 war budget of 249,000,000,000 francs [about $5,560,000,000] that "without material and positive guarantees France will not lay down arms."

This statement was the first authoritative French declaration to indicate that something less than the so-called total victory might be accepted as a prime condition for peace negotiations. The premier also praised the British-French war agreement and said all nations could join the pact.

"As much as I distrust grand utopian conceptions," he said, "and as much as I demand material guarantees against the return of events such as those we are suffering today, to that extent I conceive the necessity of a new European organization."

Urges Federation of States.

He declared that barriers must be broken down. A federation of states must be envisaged, he said, and promised French collaboration in this objective.

The senate, in passing the new budget estimates, also authorized a 55,000,000,000 franc [about $1,227,000,000] credit for the first three months of 1940. Defense costs this year were 27,000,000,000 francs [$606,200,000].

The premier said the military appropriations would be spent with a stress upon aviation and tanks and upon completion of France's three new 35,000 ton battleships, the Richelieu, the Jean Bart, and the Clemenceau.

Take Prisoners at Front.

"Mastery of the seas is an essential factor for victory," he said, adding that the French navy had thus far destroyed nine German submarines.

Tonight's general staff communique reported capture of German prisoners on the western front. It said:

"Renewal of air activity. Some action by our advance units. In the Vosges a reconnoitering detachment surprised an enemy patrol and took some prisoners."

[The communique of the German high command said that "except for minor artillery disturbance fire, the day passed quietly on the entire front."]

Comparison of French defense budgets for 1939 and 1940.

British, French to Confer.

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—Leslie Burgin, minister of supply, announced today that the French minister of munitions would visit London next month to confer on the coördination of the allies' war supply efforts.

Burgin said that Britain's shell output had doubled since the war began, while production of guns in some cases had increased eightfold.

He asserted that next year the gun production rate would exceed the highest rate achieved during the world war.

KIN OF SWEDISH PREMIER OFF TO FIGHT FOR FINNS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 29 (AP).—Jon Olof Soederblom, son-in-law of Premier Per Albin Hansson of Sweden, left today with the fourth contingent of Swedish volunteers to fight in Finland. Numerous high army officers are resigning their commissions for service in Finland.

In one Stockholm factory 1,100 workers voted to contribute one day's pay to Finland. They chose to work on a holiday, when their wages were doubled.

One hundred doctors, 100 nurses, and some dentists and veterinarians have been signed for service in the Finnish Red Cross and are leaving for Helsingfors soon.

A report from Malmoe, Sweden, said that four Americans, one identified as John Hasey of New York, were there awaiting other members of an American ambulance unit.

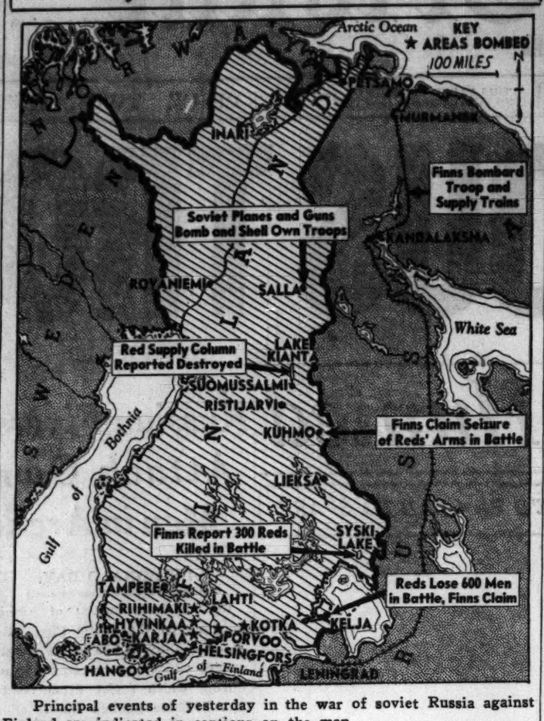
20 Killed in Collision of Two Trains in Italy

ROME, Dec. 30, Saturday (AP).—At least 20 persons were reported killed today and about 100 injured in the collision of a fast passenger train with a troop train in the station at Torre Annunziata, 18 miles south of Naples. Reports from the scene said 20 bodies were recovered an hour after the collision. Both trains were coming from Calabria, in southern Italy. Many troops and officers, including some of high rank, were reported on the troop train.

Finns from Canada Reach Helsingfors to Fight Reds

LONDON, Dec. 30, Saturday (AP).—A Reuters News agency dispatch from Stockholm said today that the first contingent of Finnish volunteers from Canada arrived at Helsingfors today to fight against the Russian invaders.

Day of Russian-Finnish War



Principal events of yesterday in the war of soviet Russia against Finland are indicated in captions on the map.

A Finnish communique issued yesterday announced victories in three areas of the Karelian isthmus. Attacks were repulsed at the northern end of Lake Hatjalahden and east of Summa (1), five tanks destroyed, and two captured, it was announced. Six hundred Russians were killed in the battle of Kelja (2), said the communique.

five enemy tanks were destroyed in addition to the two we captured."

Reds Bomb Rail Junctions.

The Red air force again lashed out across southwestern Finland, bombing several railway junctions and seacoast towns during the brief daylight hours, but it still was not clear tonight whether there had been any serious damage. The rail junctions which were bombed were at Hyvinkaa, Rükimaki, and Karjaa. Air raids were reported at the coastal towns of Hango, Kotka, and Porvoo.

In the icy gloom of the Petsamo area, in arctic Finland, nothing new has been reported since the Russians were observed trying to entrench themselves and end a precipitate retreat.

There were unconfirmed reports that Dictator Stalin was moving ruthlessly to accelerate the creeping pace of the Russian attack.

Picked troops of Russian sharpshooters, accustomed to fighting on skis, were said to be en route to the front from as far away as Siberia. Other hard bitten battalions, experienced in dealing in guerrilla warfare, now favored by the Finns in some sectors, were moving up from the Caucasus. Regiments of Cossack cavalry were being sent to replace the frosted tank battalions.

Reds Report Bombing Raids.

MOSCOW, Dec. 29 (AP).—A number of successful bombing raids were carried out today by Russian flyers, the headquarters of the Leningrad military area reported tonight. The text of the communique:

Authoritative soviet quarters, when asked for comment on reports of revolt in the Red army in Finland, said: "The reports are so ridiculous there is no need for us to deny them."

The same source also denied rumors abroad of soviet troop concentrations on the Afghan border or in the Caucasus.

Peace Proposals Reported.

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—Peace proposals to the Finnish people were reported by London listeners to have been broadcast today by a Russian station over the wave length of the Finnish Lahti station, which temporarily went out of action during an air raid.

The announcer said the Russians wanted to end the hostilities as much as the Finns and that, if a truce were reached, the Karelian area would be returned to Finland, all Finnish workers would be given holidays with pay, and large estates would be liquidated.

Finnish circles in London said the proposals were ridiculous.

LONDON PAPER URGES CHAMBERLAIN TO FIRE 5 CABINET MEMBERS

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard today editorially urged Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to "clear away the dead wood, particularly old stumps," in the administration.

It named Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade; Sir Reginald Hugh Dorman-Smith, minister of agriculture; W. S. Morrison, food minister; Euan Wallace, minister of transport, and Admiral Lord Chatfield, minister for coördination of defense, as not possessing "the caliber for a great wartime administration."

"The next 12 months will determine the fate of our country—for such a high task we need the best measures and the best men," the paper said. It commended the war office, the admiralty, the exchequer, and ministries of air and supplies, but said "failures were equally apparent."

BRITISH CRUISER SEIZES GERMAN SHIP, RIO HEARS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 29 (AP).—The newspaper Oglobo today said it had been informed that the German freighter Bahia Blanca, which left here several weeks ago, was captured last week by the British cruiser Shropshire, now in port here. Neither the British nor the German embassy would confirm the report.

Oglobo said the captain and crew of the Bahia Blanca were taken aboard another ship and that the Bahia Blanca now is being guarded by a second British warship.

SWISS MILITARY SUPPRESSES NAZI AND RED PAPERS

Police Say German Sheet Was in Pay of Berlin.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 29.—The banning of Nazi and communist newspapers in Basel by Swiss military authorities was regarded today as a new move by Switzerland to crack down on subversive elements.

The powerful military control, which amounts almost to a dictatorship, especially in this frontier area, was reported determined to keep Switzerland for the Swiss.

Former employés of the Neubasler Zeitung were packing up records after having been ordered to cease publication following a police raid which disclosed they were in the pay of the Nazis.

Receives Money from Nazis.

The raid revealed that Dr. Rudolf Heune received large sums of money from the Nazi party in Germany for writing a Germanized history of Switzerland. In checking the files of the paper the police said they discovered that articles appeared at the same time in the German newspapers. This, the police added, indicated a link between German Nazis and what was represented here as a Swiss paper.

Basel observers have noticed that the Neubasler Zeitung upheld the German point of view at all times and attacked Swiss opinion on world problems. This was especially noticeable at the time of German seizure of Austria and Czecho-Slovakia.

Police said the paper had a circulation of 80,000 in Germany and only 1,500 in Switzerland. This proved, they asserted, that the paper was a propaganda sheet printed in Basel and represented to Germans as a paper from a neutral country and therefore representing an unbiased picture of German affairs.

Carries No Advertising.

The police declared the paper carried no advertising but was able to carry on despite this fact. This was regarded as further indication that it was subsidized by German funds. So much clamor was raised about the Neubasler Zeitung that the Germans banned it for a day or two several weeks ago. Authorities here said the ban was ordered to make the paper look like a legitimate enterprise.

It now is banned under a reich decree prohibiting all German language journals printed outside German borders, but it was reported that an exception is to be made if the Neubasler Zeitung resumes publication.

The paper was banned indefinitely but has the right to appeal within five days. A new editor, Dr. H. E. Wechlin, formerly with a Nazi paper recently prohibited in Berne, was named several weeks ago to take over the Neubasler Zeitung on Jan. 1, but he may never assume the post.

Freiheit, a Basel communist newspaper, was banned at the same time for advocating the policies of soviet Russia in democratic Switzerland. This paper has enraged residents of Basel by supporting the Russian invasion of Finland. Almost nightly, residents of Basel put on benefit demonstrations for the Finns. Public opinion demanded suppression of the communist daily, the police said.

New York Paper Barred.

BERLIN, Dec. 29 (AP).—German language newspapers printed outside of Germany are banned for the duration of the war, according to a postal ministry announcement today.

This applies above all to Swiss newspapers printed in German. The ban also affects the New York Staats Zeitung and the widely read Pester Lloyd of Budapest, Hungary.

These newspapers have been good sellers on German news stands as they often brought information not contained in the newspapers of Germany. The Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune also has been barred permanently.

BROTHER OF RED GENERAL IN U. S. FAVORS FINLAND

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—The American brother of Russia's new general in the Finnish war is not in sympathy with the soviets' campaign.

"I don't like it," said Morris Stern, who last saw Gen. G. M. Shtern [a variant spelling of the family name] when he visited Russia nine years ago. "Finland is a democratic country. Why don't they leave her alone?"

Stern, who came to the United States 26 years ago, supports his wife and his several children by operating a grocery store in suburban Maywood.

"The first I knew my brother was in the soviet army was when I saw his picture in a magazine a few days ago," Stern said.

BRITISH MEN HURL BACK INVASION OF MILITARY STYLES

Balk at Letting War Show in Suits.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 29.—This war, which many people call "cockeyed," has not been able to affect men's clothing styles, according to English tailors, who say war styles are unpopular with the men.

However, the women put military effects on their hats, borrow epaulettes and patriotic emblems, and use air force blue and army khaki as color schemes.

Military Styles Stay on Shelves.

J. W. Hall, chairman of the Association of British Clothing Designers, said today: "The least suspicion of anything to do with war in a man's suit is enough to keep it on the shelves forever.

"There may be slight indications of the military influence on certain types of suits, but there is none of this in the better class trade. One thing certain about designing clothes is that the men want to get as far away as possible from the war in their civilian clothing.

"Recently the British color council issued a set of colors which it said would be predominant during the next year. It is my opinion and that of the other designers that anything like khaki or war design in men's clothes will be taboo."

Women Started Before War.

But the women went in heavily for uniform influences as early as August. You see the women eyeing that dashing military scarlet cloth in the collections of high fur hats of Polish and Cossack styles and those frogged and braided trimmings and jackets with pockets like an officer's.

BERLIN PROTESTS WARTIME USE OF MANDATED LANDS

Charges Empires Violate Their Pledges.

BERLIN, Dec. 29 (AP).—Germany, with a special eye on Syria and former German East Africa, has protested to Great Britain and France against the use of mandated territories for war purposes.

Authorized quarters said the step was of interest to all members of the league of nations, since these territories were entrusted to the empires solely as trustees.

France's action in assembling war materials in Syria and the presence in Syria of Gen. Maxime Weygand, head of the French near eastern forces, are being watched closely by Germany. Close attention is also being given to the possibility that the empires may use Syria to aid Turkey in event the European war spreads to the near east.

Dominions Also Get Protest.

The German protest was delivered to the governments of Australia, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa as well as to Paris and London. It mentioned the mandated territories of Tanganyika, the Cameroons, Togo, Southwest Africa, New Guinea, Samoa, Palestine, and Syria as having been placed by the mandatory powers in a state of war.

"The aforementioned governments," the protest said, "and the local administrative authorities at their direction, have taken measures in these territories against Germans, their property, their rights and interests, which prove that the governments aforementioned consider the mandated territories entrusted to them to be in a state of war with Germany, and treat the Germans present in these territories as enemy aliens.

"The governments mentioned are not, as mandatories, in possession of sovereignty over the mandated territories and they are, in consequence, not entitled to involve these territories in a war declared on Germany.

Called Violation of Law.

"The relevant conditions under which the exercise of official and administrative powers was granted to the mandatory powers have as their fundamental purpose a neutralization of the mandated territories in a European war. They were drawn up with the object of hindering such territories and their inhabitants from being drawn into such a war and expressly exclude any use of those territories, entrusted to the mandatories solely for administration and development, for aggressively hostile actions against a country, its citizens, and interests against whom the governments of the mandatory powers have declared war on their own account."

ENGLAND'S ENVOY TO LEAVE RUSSIA FOR A VACATION

MOSCOW, Dec. 29 (AP).—Sir William Seeds, British ambassador to Russia, will leave for London next Tuesday for a visit described by the British embassy as an often postponed leave. Sir William bade farewell today to Vladimir Potemkin, Russian vice commissar for foreign affairs.

The British embassy said the ambassador had been ill frequently during the last year and, in addition to that, the protracted British-French-Russian negotiations prevented him from taking a vacation.

PRESIDENT WILL LEAVE TAX PLAN UP TO CONGRESS

Doubts He'll Offer Specific Farm Aid Program.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—President Roosevelt said at his press conference today he doubted that he would submit to congress any specific recommendations on taxes or on outlays for parity payments under the farm aid program.

He seemed to confirm reports that he will lay the whole fiscal problem, including Secretary Henry Wallace's certificate plan to finance extraordinary agricultural benefits, on the doorstep of congress, leaving it to the legislative branch to say whether there shall be new taxes, a drastic reduction in federal expenditures, or an increase in the statutory debt limit to allow more deficit borrowing, or a combination of any two or all of these.

Reaches Budget Figure.

In speaking of the 1941 budget, the President said that he had arrived at a figure, but merely smiled and replied that it was "good" when asked what the figure was. Estimates are that it will call for an expenditure of about 9½ billion dollars and another deficit of about 3 billions, pushing the New Deal total to more than 45 billions.

In connection with the farm program, Mr. Roosevelt has already said that he will ask congress in January to provide the 550 million dollars owed the treasury for farm benefits voted without offsetting revenues.

The need for revenues to finance the national defense program, which will cost an estimated 2½ billion dollars, was foreseen by Mr. Roosevelt some time ago.

Confers with Speaker.

The President conferred with Speaker William B. Bankhead [D., Ala.] at lunch today on the legislative program for the next session of congress, which will open on Jan. 2. Later Bankhead announced that the President will deliver his annual message to the house and senate in person about 1 p. m. [Chicago time] next Wednesday. The budget message will be received by congress the next day.

New Treasury Undersecretary.

President Roosevelt announced that he will nominate Daniel W. Bell of Illinois, former acting director of the budget, as undersecretary of the treasury, to succeed John W. Hanes, whose resignation will become effective on Jan. 1.

The appointment of Bell upset all predictions. Assistant Secretary Herbert E. Gaston and Randolph E. Paul, New York tax expert, were considered here the leading contenders for the post.

Bell, who is 48 years old, is a career man, having come into government service under civil service as a clerk when 20. He was born at Kinderhook, Ill., in 1891 and maintains his legal residence in Illinois. He is married and has one child.

President Roosevelt appointed him acting director of the budget in September, 1934, when Lewis W. Douglas resigned as director in protest against administration spending policies. Bell served in that capacity until last April, when Harold D. Smith was appointed director. Since then Bell has been assistant to Morgenthau, handling finances and fiscal offices of the department.

Career Begun as Bellhop.

Quincy, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—Daniel W. Bell, who will be nominated undersecretary of the treasury, earned his way thru business college here as a hotel bellhop and semi-professional baseball player. He came to Quincy from Kinderhook in 1910, and after paying his tuition in a business college, had only $5. A place was found for him in the Farmers hotel, where he worked for room and board. On Sundays he played baseball for money.

SUGAR WORKERS IN PHILIPPINES SET FIRE TO CANE

MANILA, Dec. 29 (AP).—Reports of violence were received tonight from various points in Pampanga province where workers in sugar mills threatened to strike Jan. 1 unless their demands, including wage increases, were met. Standing sugar cane on seven plantations was reported to have been fired and railway tracks of the Pampanga Sugar Development company were ripped up. Labor department officials, fearing a strike in Pampanga might be the signal for a general walkout, maneuvered to get the dispute into the industrial court.

NAVY TO BUILD HEAVIER SHIPS, HINT BY VINSON

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] of the house naval committee hinted today that the proposed 1 billion 300 million dollar naval expansion program might be altered to give the fleet a new type of warship—possibly an answer to Germany's pocket battleships. Committee hearings will start a week from Monday.

The Georgian indicated that inasmuch as the 10,000 ton limit on cruisers expired with the Washington Naval treaty, this country could construct a new type of ship between the cruiser and battleship classes. Heavy cruisers now in service are considerably faster than pocket battleships, but they are inferior in gun caliber and armor. With larger ships, however, those deficiencies could be remedied.

Vinson said that at hearings next month on the expansion program, there would be full consideration of alll such questions, including whether the United States should construct the 65,000 or even 80,000 ton battleships being talked of in congressional and naval circles.

URUGUAY TO GIVE GERMAN SHIP 24 HOURS TO LEAVE

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 29 (AP).—President Alfredo Baldomir was reported tonight to have decided to give the German merchantman Tacoma, which took off the crew of the German raider Admiral Graf Spee before the pocket battleship was scuttled, 24 hours to leave port or be interned.

GEN. FORD GETS NOTICE OF 1940 ARMY MANEUVER

Troops in Illinois to Take Part in Exercises.

Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commander of the 2d army of the United States, with headquarters in Chicago, has been notified that the war department is planning a maneuver for the 2d army in 1940.

The 2d army includes the regulars, National Guard, and reserves of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, and Ohio.

Gen. Ford has issued orders for National Guard and reserve officers of the 6th corps to assemble here Jan. 8 to discuss tentative plans for the maneuver. The 6th corps embraces Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

Added Funds to Be Sought.

Definite plans and orders for the maneuver will await action by congress. The war department already has recommended the enterprise, and adequate appropriations to finance it will be sought when congress convenes next week. It is understood all the Illinois troops will participate in the maneuver, which is expected to be held next summer, probably in August.

The Illinois National Guard has complied with government requirements for increasing its strength to 12,639 officers and enlisted men. This is an increase of 2,198.

Year's Accomplishments Cited.

Among the year's accomplishments are these:

Organization of the 23d Reconnaissance squadron, consisting of Troops A and B of the Mechanized cavalry, which will be housed in Springfield.

Transfer of Troop F, 106th Cavalry, from Springfield to Chicago, giving Chicago a horse squadron consisting of Troop E [the Black Horse troop] and Troop F.

The colonel of the 106th Cavalry was allocated to Illinois. Lieut. Col. Kenneth Buchanan of Urbana was promoted to command to regiment.

The hangar for the 108th observation squadron, the largest National Guard hangar in the United States, soon will be completed at Chicago airport.

EXTENSIVE GAMES PLANNED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The general staff is shaping plans to move approximately 50,000 troops across four or more southern states next spring in the army's most extensive war games.

Official sources reported today that corps maneuvers of five streamlined divisions would extend from South Carolina to Mississippi. The maneuvers will start in April if thousands of motor trucks ordered this month are delivered in time.

A March Through Georgia.

The general plan is first to group the 1st and 6th infantry divisions and auxiliary troops into a corps and move it across Georgia toward the 5th infantry, now in training at Camp McClellan, Ala.

The 2d infantry division and the 1st cavalry division are to be shifted eastward from their present stations in Texas, and much of the mock war is expected to center around the De Soto National forest in Mississippi.

More than three hundred tanks, numerous aircraft, and more modern weapons of all kinds than the army has assembled since the world war will be used.

Plan War Games

IRISH ASK EXTRA POWERS TO CURB I. R. A. OUTBREAKS

Call Parliament to Vote Authority.

DUBLIN, Dec. 29 (AP).—Alarmed over increased activities of the outlawed Irish Republican army, the Irish government today summoned the Dail [parliament] to meet Wednesday to pass on a request for extraordinary powers.

It was reported the powers would include the detention without charge of prisoners in internment camps. Six tons of cartridges, or about a third of the million rounds stolen in a raid on the Phoenix park army arsenal Saturday, have been recovered. Police said the band which raided the arsenal was composed of I. R. A. members.

While the military held Dublin in a tight grip, ten more men went before a court today on charges growing out of the arsenal raid. Six previously had been arrested in connection with the foray.

Plot Against British.

The government's request for the power of indefinite detention was regarded as the outgrowth of a high court action recently which released nearly a hundred prisoners on habeas corpus actions.

Reports were in circulation that the I. R. A. was plotting a move to force the British out of Northern Ireland [Ulster] and unite it with Ireland. Prime Minister Eamon de Valera also wants such a union, but not by violent means.

Reports were that I. R. A. leaders felt that if they could engineer a coup within the six counties of Ulster they probably would have help from the 26 counties in the south.

NEW APPOINTEE NAMED TO PUSH LAKES SEAWAY

Roosevelt Puts Federal Employe on Board.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—President Roosevelt today moved forward his reorganization of the international joint commission which is concerned with land and water boundaries of the United States and Canada, hoping to obtain a board in sympathy with his attempts to develop the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project.

R. Walton Moore.

The President named R. Walton Moore, 80 year old counselor of the state department, to be a member of the body. Moore will succeed John H. Bartlett, former Republican governor of New Hampshire. Bartlett was reported to have been forced out because he was not in sympathy with the program, but he said tonight he favors the development and resigned because he learned Mr. Roosevelt planned to revamp the board. His resignation was made public after Mr. Roosevelt announced his intentions.

He'll Hold Two Jobs.

At the White House it was announced that Judge Moore will remain as counselor of the department of state and take on the additional duties without extra compensation. Mr. Roosevelt launched his reorganization of the commission by acclaiming it as an economy move.

The administration will save $22,500 a year by appointing men already on the federal pay roll to replace the former paid commissioners. The new commissioners are expected to further the project, in which Mr. Roosevelt became interested when he was governor of New York, so that the United States may spend millions in its development.

Housecleaning Under Way.

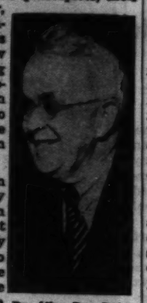
Moore is expected to delegate his duties on the commission to John Hickerson, a career man in the diplomatic service and a specialist on Canadian affairs.

Moore's appointment is the second Mr. Roosevelt has made since he undertook to clean house on the international joint commission. His first was Roger Barton McWhorter, chief engineer for the federal power commission.

DAFOE TO RESIGN AS 'A GUARDIAN OF DIONNE QUINTS

Agrees to Let Sisters Join Family.

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 29 (AP).—Life for the Dionne quintuplets, their father, mother, and seven brothers and sisters may begin anew in a house big enough to support them all in the style to which the little sisters have been accustomed.



Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

This was in prospect today with confirmation of reports that Dr. Allen Roy Dafoe, who brought the quints into the world five and a half years ago, would resign as their guardian. Under the terms of an agreement with Oliva Dionne, father of the sisters, Dr. Dafoe will recommend their reunion with their family.

Plan to Build New House.

Building of a new house for the Dionnes in the Callander district may defer the reunion for a year. The quintuplets have lived in the Dafoe nursery, near their parents' home, since they were three months old.

The agreement designed to effect this reunion must have the approval of the Ontario government, which by legislation made the girls wards of King George VI. of Great Britain. It would leave the quintuplets' affairs in the hands of their father; Judge J. A. Valin of North Bay, Ont., and Percy D. Wilson as official guardians.

Dr. Dafoe would continue to care for the children's health. Moreover, under the agreement Dionne would discontinue several legal actions he has brought against the north country physician in their long disagreement over the conduct of the children's affairs.

Libel Action Recalled.

One of these calls for an accounting of moneys received on contracts dealing with the quintuplets. Another is an action for alleged libel based on Dr. Dafoe's appearance at a New York night club, carrying a bag labelled "Doctor of Litters."

Henri St. Jacques, Dionne's lawyer, said the agreement was reached recently, but whether it had been formally signed was not known. St. Jacques said Dr. Dafoe probably would make his resignation effective about the middle of January.

"This does not mean that the quintuplets will go on tour or exhibition or anything like that," said the attorney.

Dionne, himself, added: "The quints' mother and I are happier than we have been since our babies were taken from us five years ago."

Takes Blame for Photos.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—F. Darius Benham, founder of the Circus Saints and Sinners club, an organization of circus fans, said today he was responsible for unconventional photographs of Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe when he appeared at initiation rites at the club.

"I urged Dr. Dafoe, who was entirely innocent, to attend the luncheon," Benham said. "He consented only on the understanding that there would be no rough stuff."

Benham said that he and other initiators "did not consider blindfolding the little doc, making him fall guy, and allowing pictures to be taken, rough stuff."

"To us it was only cutting up, or horseplay," he said. "Nor did we intend any offense to Dionne. But now, with the agreement reached, surely everybody will be happy. At last my conscience is clear."

PERSHING APPROVES OF ARMY'S PROGRAM FOR MODERNIZATION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 [Special].—Approval of the program for modernization of United States defenses is expressed by Gen. John J. Pershing in a New Year's letter to the army chief of staff. Gen. Pershing congratulated the army for its accomplishments in 1939 and continued: "The recent developments in the modernization of our national defense system, which I have followed with much interest, have been very gratifying to me. The new program places unusual and heavy demands upon the army, but I have supreme confidence in the fine personnel upon whom it depends."

PRESIDENT TALKS WITH EMPIRES' PURCHASE BOARD

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The treasury disclosed today that it had taken steps to make sure that Anglo-French buying of American goods does not skyrocket the prices that the United States government pays for its supplies.

Officials of the Anglo-French purchasing board, set up jointly by France and Great Britain to make war purchases in the United States, conferred with President Roosevelt today. Sitting in at the White House meeting was Capt. Harry E. Collins, chief of the treasury's procurement division.

A treasury official explained that the procurement division and the allied board consult in order to prevent the allies from bidding against the treasury in the purchase of non-military supplies.

IN ACCOUNT WITH FRIENDSHIP

By CALEB

WHAT ONE asset of any far-sighted business is more gratefully prized, earnestly appraised, and painstakingly preserved, than any other you can name?

The simple fact that buying and selling are not automatic robot gestures, but vital expressions of personal relationships—with service and merchandise merely the raisons d'etre of such expression—gives the incontrovertible answer in three familiar words. Public Good Will.

That is why, regardless of whether the accounting procedure of a concern arbitrarily places Good Will upon its books at $1, or fixes its valuation at some figure commensurate with facts—the entry itself is the most practically significant among its entire records. For without this priceless intangible, neither enterprise nor records could exist.

It seems pre-eminently fitting, therefore, at this, another year's end, for the house of Marshall Field & Company to express as explicitly as possible, its warm sense of appreciation to the multitude of customers and well-wishers, not only in Chicagoland, but throughout the country and from many lands abroad, who have honored it with their good will during Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Nine. Specifically as sales-volume—collectively, and beyond all dollars-and-cents measuring, as word-of-mouth commendation—it is such good will alone . . . the "priceless intangible" referred to above . . . which has given this business both its permanence and its magnitude.

Some concept of what the business world's Account with Friendship means to any organization was vividly demonstrated in the holocaust of 1871. Obliterating hundreds of great Chicago institutions—Marshall Field & Company among them—its withering touch of wind and fire left one thing indestructible remaining to each: a fixed name and place in public preference. And by that same token, physical catastrophe could again erase, tomorrow, the buildings, goods, equipment, and financial resources of this enterprise . . . yet not annihilate its ability successfully to rise from such oblivion and resume business. For its greatest asset would still remain: the name and fame of Marshall Field. . . .

Human friendship, in the final analysis, is the primary motive-force behind all commerce. World-wide expressions of individual good will have maintained our own operations for over three-quarters of a century. Hence the sincerest New Year's resolution on our program is to continue, by worthy serving, deserving of those expressions throughout the future.

BUSINESS HURT BY NEW DEAL; COLLECT $41,000

Co-ops Pay Damages to Duplex Tractor Firm.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 29 [Special].—Damages of $41,000 have been paid to a manufacturing company here, it was disclosed today, in compensation for business losses incurred thru competition with a New Deal resettlement project.

The payment was an out of court settlement of a suit filed by the Duplex Machinery company, manufacturers of farm tractors, against six midwest farm coöperatives. The company charged the coöperatives ruined its tractor business by entering into a deal for the manufacture of tractors at the federal subsistance homestead project at Arthurdale, W. Va. The $41,000 settlement was announced when the suit was dismissed in Circuit court here today.

The transfer of manufacturing operations from private industry to the government sponsored community caused widespread repercussions in 1938. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg called it a trend toward communism and Representative Paul W. Shaffer accused Washington planners of "sovietizing American industry."

Demands $376,574 Damages.

The Duplex company filed suit last June in the Calhoun county Circuit court seeking $376,574 damages as a result of the transfer.

The Duplex Machinery company was organized in 1935 as a subsidiary of the Duplex Printing Press company, printing machinery manufacturers. The company had a contract under which the six coöperatives were to buy trucks exclusively from it.

With this business in view, according to the suit, the company bought and rehabilitated a building here for a tractor plant and in February, 1936, began the manufacture of high speed tractors for sale thru the coöperatives. Up to August, 1938, a total of 1,775 tractors were built from parts supplied by automobile plants in Michigan.

Hope to Gain New Business.

In May, 1938, the company said, the coöperative induced it to modify its contract to release them from the provision they could not buy tractors elsewhere. They assured the company it would not lose any business and in reality would gain new business.

According to the suit, the coöperatives claimed their reason for wanting the contract modified was to permit a New York coöperative to join the six original parties to the agreement to take the Duplex plant's complete output.

But at the very time the contract was being modified, it was charged, the coöperatives were engaged in secret negotiations with government agencies for removal of the tractor manufacturing to Arthurdale, the company contended. It charged the coöperatives conspired to deceive it with fraudulent representations and to destroy its business.

On Aug. 3, 1938, the organization of the Coöperative Manufacturing company of Arthurdale, W. Va., was announced. Its purpose was to manufacture tractors for the six coöperatives. Instead of having the tractors made in Michigan, they were to be made in Arthurdale.

U. S. Contributes $300,000.

The government contributed $125,000 to erect a building for the Arthurdale tractor factory and other federal agencies supplied $200,000 working capital.

It was announced that the tractor business was being transferred to Arthurdale for the benefit of resettled miners. However, nearly 200 persons were thrown out of work in Battle Creek by the Duplex company's loss of business. No tractors were manufactured here after the contract was changed in May, 1938.

The six coöperatives who were defendants in the Duplex suit, along with their tractor making company, the Coöperative Manufacturing company of Arthurdale, are:

The Consumers Coöperative association of North Kansas City, Mo.; the Farm Bureau Coöperative association of Indiana, the Farm Bureau Cooperative association of Ohio, Farm Bureau Services, Inc., of Michigan; the United Coöperatives, Inc., and the Farmers' Union Central Exchange, Inc.

RULES BRIDGES, C. I. O. LEADER, IS NO COMMUNIST

Landis Finding Mum on Deportation.

Friends Are Communists.

Landis summed up Bridges' own testimony about his beliefs, his aims and his activities on the west coast labor front, pointing out that the CIO leader had friends and associates who were communists; that he found and "welcomed" support from communist quarters, and that he refused to discriminate against communists in his union of longshoremen.

Landis declared that Bridges' own statement of his political beliefs and disbeliefs was important.

"It was given not only without reserve," Landis said, "but vigorously as dogma and faiths of which the man was proud and which represented in his mind the aims of his existence.

"It was a fighting apologia that refused to temper itself to the winds of caution. It was an avowal of sympathy with many of the objectives that the communist party at times has embraced, an expression of disbelief that the methods they wished to employ were as revolutionary as they generally seem, but it was unequivocal in its distrust of tactics other than those that are generally included within the concept of democratic methods."

His Ties to Red Party.

Landis outlined in his conclusions some phases of what he called "Bridges' relationships with the communist party."

"They are, in general," he said, "his well defined opposition toward 'Red-baiting'; his acceptance of aid and assistance in his industrial struggles from the communist party—indeed, his solicitation of that aid; his expressed disinclination to disavow that help; his association with persons admittedly communists, an association that derives primarily from his requests for and acceptance of such aid."

"This evidence," he added, "however much it may disclose lack of judgment or associations that may be regarded by others as reprehensible or unfortunate, falls short of the statutory definition of affiliation.

"Persons engaged in bitter industrial struggles tend to seek help and assistance from every available source. But the intermittent solicitation and acceptance of such help must be shown to have ripened into those bonds of mutual coöperation and alliance that entail continuing reciprocal duties and responsibilities before they can be deemed to come within the statutory requirement of affiliation."

"The evidence therefore establishes," Landis went on, "neither that Harry R. Bridges is a member of nor affiliated with the communist party of the United States of America."

Subject of Controversy.

The Bridges proceedings have been a subject of controversy in and out of congress ever since the department issued the warrant.

Most of the criticism was aimed at Miss Perkins for what appeared to be a long delay in proceeding to the actual hearing.

She replied repeatedly that the delay was unavoidable until the Supreme court could rule on a somewhat similar deportation case involving the question of communist party membership as grounds for deportation.

The high court in the other case—involving Joseph G. Strecker of Hot Springs, Ark.—held that an alien could not be deported solely because he once held membership in the communist party. The court did not rule directly on whether a communist could be deported.

Refers to Court Findings.

In this connection Landis declared in his report that previous lower Federal court rulings sustaining the department in its contention that membership in the party is grounds for deportation, were not conclusive of the question at this time.

"Not only is there the possibility that the characteristics and objectives of the communist party have changed," he said, "but it is possible, in the light of changing economic and political conditions, to view the type of radical advocacy indulged in by that party as now so indefinitely related to force or violence as to cast doubt upon its appropriate inclusion within the ban of the statute.

"Constant re-examination of the theses and aims of such radical organizations is thus under the statute the responsibility of the secretary of labor."

Long Publicized Hearing.

The Bridges decision climaxed the longest and perhaps most publicized deportation hearing in labor department history. Thirty-one witnesses were produced by Chief Government Counsel Thomas B. Shoemaker in a tiny hearing room on Angel Island—the Ellis Island of the west.

The Bridges defense was financed with some $28,000 contributed by C. I. O. and A. F. of L. unions. The president of 25,000 longshoremen and warehousemen spent hours on the stand in his own defense of searching examination before Dean Landis.

The alien Australian-born Alfred Renton Bryant Bridges—but referred to as "the alien" throughout the trial—admitted accepting the assistance, political aid and sometimes picketing support of the communist party, but not its program.

Reds in Bridges' Union.

There were communists in his unions, Bridges said, and mostly he "found them good union men," but, he said "sometimes I get a little irritated when my views are ascribed to the communist party, because I had them before the communist party came into being."

The hearing highlighted his career after joining a San Francisco longshore gang in 1922. He rose to prominence in the bloody 1934 strike, and in the three month waterfront strike of 1936-'37 helped other maritime unions to the gains the longshoremen had made. In 1937, also, he led coast stevedores en masse from A. F. of L. into C. I. O., and became west coast C. I. O. director. [Shortly after the sensational hearing his status was changed to California director.]

CALL DEMOCRATS FOR FEB. 5 TO FIX CONVENTION DATE

Farley Move Gives Edge to Republicans.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee tonight issued a call for that body to meet in Washington Feb. 5 to select a city, fix the time, and make other preliminary arrangements for the party's convention.

James A. Farley.

In issuing the call for the committee meeting Postmaster General Farley made it possible for the Republican party to nominate candidates for President and Vice President and to adopt a party platform after the Democrats have made their selections and announced their platform.

The call for the meeting of the Republican national committee has not yet been issued by Chairman John Hamilton. It was regarded as certain tonight that the Republican committee will not meet until after the Democrats have fixed the date for their convention.

G. O. P. Position Explained.

However, it does not follow, according to political observers, that the Republican convention will be held after the Democratic party meeting. The Democratic party leaders may choose a date in July or even mid-August and cause the Republican party to fix an earlier date.

The Farley move was regarded here as an effort to smoke out President Roosevelt on the question of a third term. As the leader of his party, Mr. Roosevelt will have a voice in fixing the date and selecting the convention city.

It is an open secret in the Democratic party that Farley delayed the meeting, which is ordinarily held in January, in the hope that Mr. Roosevelt might declare himself on the third term question.

Letters were sent out by the postmaster general after Mr. Roosevelt evaded the last effort of the year to get from him a statement on his position. At his press conference, when newspapermen wished him "an eventful 1940," Mr. Roosevelt would give no hint as to his intentions. He asked newspapermen why they were so equivocal and laughed heartily.

Hamilton Refuses Comment.

At the Republican national committee headquarters, Chairman Hamilton, who would like to see the Republicans gather after the Democrats select their candidate, said he had no comment to make on Farley's call.

In the past the Republican national committee has met in advance of the Democratic committee and set a date early in June, permitting the Democrats to meet later in the month. The Republican committee call was usually issued at a meeting of the party executive committee in December for early January.

The Republican executive committee met early in the month, but adjourned without issuing a call or without deciding on the proposal to hold a late convention.

Short Campaign Suggested.

The late convention suggestion for both parties was advanced by President Roosevelt himself, at Warm Springs, in advocating a "short campaign and a sweet one." The statement was regarded as a third term bid in that it would give Mr. Roosevelt an easier chance of renomination, particularly if the war situation becomes acute. The proposal also was seen as helpful to the Democratic party, no matter who the candidate may be, because the full power of government patronage and spending would be more effective in a short campaign.

DEMANDS TWO ON LABOR BOARD GIVE UP POSTS

Georgian Speaks After Seeing Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—After a conference with President Roosevelt, Representative Robert Ramspeck [D., Ga.] reiterated his demand for the resignations of Chairman J. Warren Madden and Member Edwin S. Smith of the National Labor Relations board, which is being investigated by a house committee.

The congressman reported he told the President that most of the trouble over the act had come from maladministration by the present board rather than errors in the act itself. He acknowledged, however, that the law should be changed, but insisted that change in the personnel of the board is more imperative.

Proposes Congress Act.

"I think" he said, "that unless some changes are made in personnel, congress ought to abolish the present board and set up a new one. My own conviction is that it ought to be done in the coming session of congress."

Ramspeck said he believed the situation in the board could not be cured unless some changes were made in personnel. He declared some changes also are needed in the law creating the board, but added he thought most of the trouble is due to an interpretation of the law.

"Under the existing law the trouble comes where the board has upset bona fide unions by their decisions as to the appropriate unions," he said. "My own idea is that the board ought not to upset any existing bona fide union, unless the majority of that union agrees to it."

Believes Board Is Wrong.

Ramspeck said he believed the board had erroneously construed its duty to help labor organizations. Asked in this connection about company unions, Ramspeck said:

"Of course, if a union is company dominated it ought to be abolished. It has been charged that the board is prejudiced—that it is a majority of the board—against independent unions. If that is true, they are wrong.

"The board, I think, has misconstrued the law in that it has gone out and tried to help labor organizations to organize; and also is prejudiced against the independent unions. These are the two things, I think, that might be regarded as the main complaints against the board."

FARMER MILK PRICES REDUCED FOR DECEMBER

N. J. Cladakis, federal milk market administrator, announced yesterday that farmers would be paid $1.936 a hundred pounds [46.5 quarts] for class I milk delivered to Chicago dairymen in December. Class I is milk used for retail distribution as a fluid. The December class II price, paid for milk used in cream products, was put at $1.666 a hundred pounds.

This price is lower than that in November when $2.085 was paid for class I milk and $1.705 for class II. Prices paid for class III milk, which is to be evaporated or condensed, were about the same as those for November.

The federal milk control was established here in September. There retail delivery prices have increased 2 cents a quart, from 11 to 13 cents, since then.

MILK DRIVERS' UNION NEW OFFICERS PLEDGE DEMOCRATIC POLICY

Newly elected officers of the [illegible] Wagon Drivers' union pledged themselves yesterday to a policy of democratic administration. The officers chosen Thursday night in an election—the union's first since 1937—take office Feb. 1.

Two powerful leaders who had dominated the union since the early 1900's were defeated in the election. They are Robert G. Fitchie, president, and Steve Sumner, secretary-treasurer.

Henry Weber, a milk wagon driver for 29 years, replaced Fitchie by a 4-to-1 majority.

Other new officials are Peter Hoine, recording secretary, a driver for 3 years; Thomas J. Haggerty, a law student at John Marshall law school, who succeeds Sumner, and Gus Moline, a driver for 23 years, custodian and trustee. Officers reelected are James Kennedy, vice president, and the business agents, Ray Bryant and Al Richards.

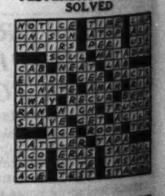
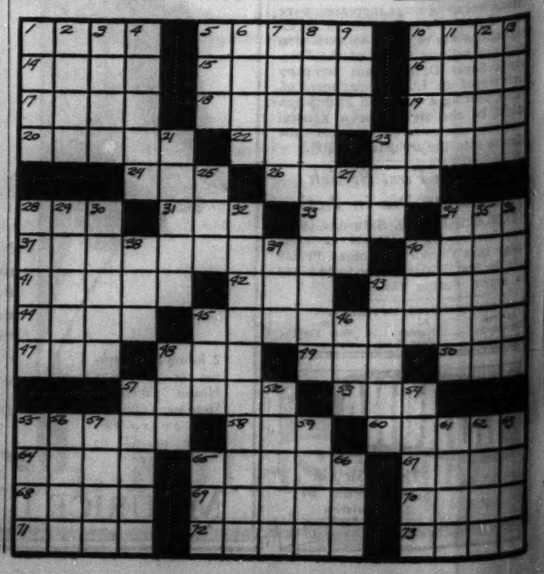
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





COURT REQUIRES UNION TO SUBMIT BOOKS FOR QUIZ

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday denied motions to quash subpenas for the records of the tile layer's union which are to be produced Tuesday at the opening of the government's investigation of the building industry. He also refused to permit Benjamin H. Vanderveld, attorney for the union, to inspect the petitions on which the subpenas were issued.

Vanderveld appeared for the Ceramic, Mosaic, and Acoustical Tile Layers, local No. 67. He charged that the subpenas violated constitutional rights since they would require witnesses to testify against themselves.

FLIVVER PILOTS FLY SAFELY ON IN SNOWSTORMS

Only Two Minor Mishaps Mar Mass Cruise.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 29.—The total score tonight against the 225 pilots forming the central wing of the flivver plane cavalcade to Florida was two broken propellers. Two minor mishaps, which meant the loss of one plane from the tour but which did not even cause a bruise to the airmen involved, were the highlights of another day's battle against weather.

Veteran airmen who have helped supervise the sportsmen flyers on their 800 mile flights from upper Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, and North Dakota, in the last 48 hours, said this safety record is remarkable. However, they said it is entirely in keeping with the flivver plane tradition, for on four previous tours not a person was injured.

An aero insurance agent with the cavalcade declared that a similar number of motorists, traveling on the ground thru the same conditions of storm and snow that the amateur airmen have encountered in their flying thus far, would be expected to have sustained more losses.

Brave Fog and Snow.

The weather has been terrible. At Louisville yesterday the cruise ran into the worst snowstorm the weather bureau there has recorded in 17 years. Today icing fogs, more snow and low ceilings over the rugged Tennessee hills continued to harass the flyers and their little 40 to 75 horsepower planes.

The worst of the two mishaps involved Dr. G. A. Stevenson of Harvey, Ill. The doctor and his wife, hunting the Louisville airport last evening, made a forced landing in deep snow drifts of a convenient cow pasture five miles north of the flying field. The ship was undamaged, and early today, after moving to a slightly better field where a runway was partly cleared, he attempted a take-off.

However, the 50 horsepower Porterfield plane couldn't gain flying speed in the treacherous snow and the ship struck a fence without leaving the ground. In addition to smashing the propeller, several of the wing braces were snapped, and the Stevensons were forced to retire from the trip.

Witness Describes Mishap.

The second mishap involved John H. Frost of Waterloo, Ia., who was flying a Taylorcraft monoplane with a 55 horsepower Lycoming motor. Frost left Louisville about noon bound for Smith Grove, Ky., about 95 miles due south. The story of this incident was told by the only eye-witness, Verne Hoyt of Winona, Minn., who was flying near Frost.

"I was lost," said Hoyt, "and circled a little town I found in the hills until some people came out to look at me. After a while I wrote a note and asked them to form an arrow pointing toward Smith Grove. They did, and I started off the way they indicated.

"Ten minutes later I saw Frost flying close by and he signaled he was in trouble. While I watched him he circled a field, undershot, and clipped the fence with his propellor as he went in. I landed behind him and found that he was unhurt and that the only damage to the plane was the shattered propeller tip.

Frost to Rejoin Cruise.

"I left him there and flew on to Smith Grove. I arranged to have a new propeller flown down to him from Louisville tomorrow and Frost says he will be able to rejoin the cruise at Albany, Ga., tomorrow night."

At dusk tonight when the last little plane ceased putt-putting there were 48 ships staked out on Chattanooga airport and 52 on the Nashville airport, with four others of the advance squadron left at Smith Grove—not including Frost. At Louisville there was another group of 63 light planes with larger motors—the 55 to 75 horse power class—that started the trip today.

Behind them at Indianapolis' three airports were another 22 airplanes. And there are 32 more ships to join the central wing from Nashville and Chattanooga tomorrow.

The advance guard is scheduled to be at Albany, Ga., tomorrow night, and the heavier classes of flivver planes are to spend tomorrow night in Atlanta. The two groups will join with western wings from Texas and eastern wings from the Atlantic seaboard in Orlando, Fla., Sunday.

PROMOTER HELD IN $50,000,000 LOTTERY FRAUD

Orlando, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP).—George Henry Garlick, 60 years old, was arrested at his winter home in Mount Dora today in connection with a lottery that Federal Commissioner Alex Daley said had fleeced the American public of about $50,000,000.

The charge was based on Garlick's activities in originating and promoting the Grand National Horse Race Charity Fund of Liverpool, England, Tennyson Jefferson, postal inspector of Boston, Mass., said.

EFFORT STARTED TO UNITE FORCES OF BROOKS, LYONS

Club in Kane County Prepares Campaign.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The beginning of action that may unite the Republican forces supporting Richard J. Lyons for governor and those backing C. Wayland Brooks for United States senator was seen in a meeting held in Geneva, the county seat of Kane county, Thursday night.

The first pre-campaign meeting of the Kane County Brooks club, an organization considered remarkably effective in recent elections, laid plans to enter the approaching battle and its first step was the adoption of a resolution indorsing both Brooks and Lyons.

The nomination of these two, the resolution read, "will insure the party a young, strong, and virile leadership capable of leading the G. O. P. to victory in 1940."

Expect Movement to Spread.

County Treasurer Louis C. Rockwell, chairman of the club, said that the action was "spontaneous, sincere, and enthusiastic."

"We are sure it is the start of a movement that will spread thruout the state," he continued. "We helped make this Brooks' banner county in 1936 when it gave him 33,560 votes and a plurality of 6,884. And, as individuals, we helped Lyons roll up a county total of 30,649 votes in the off year—a total that gave him the county by better than 2 to 1.

"Last year also Kane was the best Republican county in the state and in our discussion we felt that it was up to Kane county to lead the way this year in attempting to point out the way to victory."

First Step Toward Alliance.

The action at Geneva was the first direct step toward the formation of a Lyons-Brooks alliance, altho followers of both candidates in Cook county and downstate have urged that their forces unite. It has been contended that it was largely the same forces that supported Brooks in 1936 and Lyons in 1938. The candidates, however, have acted independently in their activities to date.

One of the arguments advanced for amalgamation has been that Dwight H. Green, running for governor, and Otis F. Glenn, candidate for senator, have been receiving support from the same downstate factions, chiefly the old Emmerson group, for several months. This has aroused a belief that they will team up together before long. But, like Lyons and Brooks, Green and Glenn have followed separate paths so far.

Special Service to Recall Theater Holocaust.

Thirty-six years ago today 1,900 persons, many of them school children, trooped into Chicago's beautiful Iroquois theater in Randolph street west of State street to see Eddie Foy in "Mr. Bluebeard." Before the second act of the celebrated extravaganza was over 575 of them lay dead, victims of fire and smoke. Within the next two weeks more than 30 more were dead.

At 3:32 today, the exact moment the alarm was sounded on Dec. 30, 1903, Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan will ring the firebell in the council chambers of the city hall. The bell will signal the beginning of the city's annual commemoration of the ghastliest thater tragedy in its history.

Survivor Tells Story.

Among the survivors at the ceremony will be Mrs. E. J. Buchan, the matronly, ageing, but still comely Annabelle Whitford, a famous beauty of the turn of the century. Mrs. Buchan, a statuesque blonde, once glorified by Florenz Ziegfeld, was waiting backstage at the Iroquois for her cue when the fire leaped into a flimsy curtain.

"I was just ready to put on my long satin train for my appearance as queen of the fairies," she recalled yesterday at her home, 452 Briar place, "when I heard a commotion. I glanced up and saw a thin flame where one of the carbon lights had ignited a drapery curtain.

Stage Door Locked.

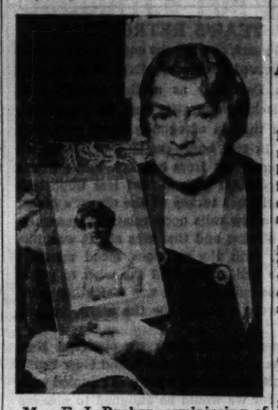
"Then some one locked the stage door, and the stampeding crowd broke the lock. The gallery audience, maddened with fear, smashed a skylight. Then came the holocaust. A rush of wind thru the theater swept flaming heat, smoke, and gases over the audience.

"They tell me that I carried one of the pony ballet girls downstairs, but I don't remember it."

The Mercy Day program, as it has come to be known as a result of reform laws that have reduced theater hazards, will be directed by the Junior Association of Commerce. Kenneth P. Wood, president, will preside. Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist church will be one of the principal speakers.

Recalls Disaster

(Story in adjoining column.)



Mrs. E. J. Buchan, reminiscing of the Iroquois theater fire of thirty-six years ago, holds a picture of herself as she appeared at that time. As Annabelle Whitford she was an actress in the play given on the afternoon of the disaster.

NEW YORK CITY'S 1939 RELIEF LOAD DIPS 43 MILLION

New York, Dec. 29 [Special].—The cost of government aid to unemployed and needy persons in New York City dropped $43,675,444 during 1939, a survey among federal, state, and municipal agencies disclosed today.

The total of this year's relief and unemployment insurance payments was estimated at $339,319,010. Last year the same agencies distributed $382,994,454, an all-time record. Most of the saving—$33,780,295—resulted from cutting federal expenditures here from $172,832,778 in 1938 to $139,052,483 in 1939. The city's own relief bill was reduced $4,735,872, from $95,416,250 to $90,680,378. The state, with unemployment insurance included in its contribution, spent $110,731,443 last year and $104,297,646 this year.

Missouri Will Reduce Monthly Pensions 12 Pct.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 29 (AP).—Faced with the necessity of conserving its 1940 funds to meet an increased pension load, the Missouri social security commission today authorized a flat 12½ per cent reduction in present monthly payments to some 78,743 recipients.

STATE TEACHERS OPPOSE LIMIT ON PROPERTY LEVIES

Legislative Program Is Adopted.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29 (AP).—The Illinois Education association went on record today in opposition to "any limitation on the total tax rates levied against property, unless and until other adequate and dependable sources of revenue are provided."

The unlimited property tax proposal was part of an 18 point legislative program adopted by the association's 86th annual convention. Also opposed by the resolution was "state adoption of textbooks."

Favor Consolidations.

The convention adopted all of its committee on legislation's report as presented by the association's new president, B. F. Shafer of Freeport. Shafer is the retiring legislative chairman of the organization.

The legislative program recommended "the gradual reorganization of school districts about larger units of administration and support, by and with the consent and understanding of those persons affected."

The reorganization plan, which would combine many of the state's smaller school districts, was directed at more economical per capita administration of schools and increased efficiency.

Urge Higher Requirements.

The enactment of legislation gradually raising the educational requirements for beginning teachers was also advocated.

Other ends sought in the legislative program adopted were: A minimum wage of $100 a month for teachers; establishment of the school superintendent as the executive officer of the board of education; a minimum school year of nine months; civil service for teachers; "more adequate and equitable sources of revenue and fair assessment of both tangible and intangible property"; codification of the state school law; and support of special legislation sponsored by the Chicago division of the association.

DISMISSAL ASKED OF SUIT ON SHAW'S TRACTION FEES

Counsel for Walter A. Shaw, traction adviser to the federal court, asked Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday to dismiss an objection filed Tuesday to the payment of Shaw's salary and expenses. Judge Igoe continued the case until Thursday.

Objection to the payment was filed in behalf of three bondholders of the surface lines. They objected to a court order allotting $20,000 to Shaw for expenses, on the grounds that Shaw's appointment as traction adviser was illegal and that his pay is excessive. Thomas Dodd Healy, attorney for Shaw, argued yesterday that the bondholders had not obtained the court's permission to file an objection.

Shaw was appointed traction adviser Dec. 17, 1937, to make plans for unification of the elevated and surface lines. Since that time he has received by court orders $60,000 personally and $160,000 for staff and legal expenses, including the amounts now under protest.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."—From the Farewell Address.

DRIVE THE GOONS FROM UNION LABOR.

Chicago awoke Thursday morning to learn of another atrocity by sluggers in a labor dispute. Their victim died early today of his injuries. His slayers, if previous cases furnish any criterion, will go unpunished. Neither the police of Chicago nor the state's attorney of Cook county has had much success in finding and convicting the gangsters, sometimes known as gorillas, more recently as goons, who are operating in the labor unions of this city.

These goons constitute the greatest single menace to domestic peace not only in Chicago but thruout the nation. They are virtually immune from the law because they operate in politics, contributing violence at the polls and money extorted from union members and employers. There is an exact parallel between the immunity of the labor gangster and that once enjoyed by the prohibition gangster. It is purchased in the same way.

There has been too much faltering with goons because of the cry that is raised, every time an attempt is made to bring them to justice, that labor and the labor movement are being persecuted. There has been too great a tendency to excuse labor from responsibility for the goons in its ranks. It is pleaded that most unions are peaceful and law abiding, which is true, and that even in the union ruled by goons the majority of members are honest men suffering from oppression, which is also true.

But organized labor has done little, comparatively, to drive goons from its ranks. It has often, thru its spokesmen, sought to excuse their acts of violence and attempted to represent punishment of that violence as persecution. On its record, the labor movement cannot be depended upon to clear its own house. The problem is one for public authority, and it should not be impeded by false cries of persecution.

The right of labor to organize is no more an absolute right than any other right. It does not carry with it the privilege of using violence any more than freedom of the press carries with it the privilege of libel. The possibility that some unions cannot be organized and maintained without violence is no excuse for the violence.

The slugging on Wednesday of the garage owner, Marinus Hvid, displayed one particularly reprehensible circumstance. Hvid was engaged in a dispute with a union over the unionization of two of his employés, one of whom had quit when he was offered more wages as a picket than he was earning as a garage worker.

Hvid's wife also told police that he had been expelled from the association for his refusal to pay a $75 fine and to order one of his customers to keep his car in another public garage, which the customer had patronized before going to Hvid's garage. If this story is true, the garage owners' association, known as Affiliated Garages, is a racket, a conspiracy by its members to fix prices and allocate customers. Such an organization should be suppressed without delay.

The willingness of labor goons to do the dirty work for employer groups, a practice euphoniously termed "policing the industry," is not unprecedented in Chicago. If the Hvid slugging is an instance of this, it furnishes grounds for prosecuting the leaders of both the union and the association.

THE FLIGHT OF THE FLIVVERS.

Some people may think that the flight of the flivver planes to Florida is unworthy of serious attention. That would be an error of judgment. It can safely be predicted that the progress of aviation in the future as in the past will come from the efforts and contributions of individual enthusiasts.

Save for pioneering by sportsmen of this type the automobile industry today would not amount to much and might not exist at all. They got themselves up in linen dusters and goggles and they drove their rattle-traps over roads which no sane motorist today would dare. The engines were fickle and the tires were, if possible, even less reliable. There were no filling stations except the village hardware and grocery stores and the nearest approximation to a garage was the blacksmith shop. Every motorist in those days had to be a mechanic and expected to return home smeared with engine oil and grease. Some people thought they were looney.

These pioneers gave us our present-day automobiles. They didn't know discouragement. Some of them became inventors and manufacturers. Their enthusiasm and their readiness to recognize and accept improvements in the automobile gave us the reliable machines we have today, the good roads, the filling stations, garages, and all the rest of the conveniences we now take for granted.

There used to be something called the Glidden tour which in many respects resembled the present flivver flight. Manufacturers and sportsmen-owners competed for prizes awarded for reliability and road-worthiness. Out of these contests came knowledge of where the mechanisms were faulty and ideas for increasing the comfort of motoring.

The pioneers on their way to Florida are an advertisment to manufacturers that governments and transport companies are not the only customers for airplanes and in the long run may not be the best customers. An immense market awaits the manufacturer who can produce a plane that the ordinary citizen can afford to buy and fly.

The hop to Florida is demonstrating what's wrong, if anything, with the mechanisms and with the training of the amateur pilots. That knowledge will be put to good use.

From the ranks of the amateurs will come not only inventions and improvements in planes, engines, and instruments, but also the military pilots whom we may need some day. The flivver flyers deserve every encouragement they can get.

FAIR DEAL FOR AMERICAN EXPORTS.

A summary of British trade policy with special reference to Latin America was published the other day on the financial page. England has destroyed Germany's overseas commerce and is seeking to replace Germany in the foreign markets, notably in South and Central America. Americans may also hope to increase their share of Latin American trade at Germany's expense, but if they do so it will be only after a struggle for which England has already completed her preparations.

The British are more or less consciously modeling their war economy after the pattern introduced by Hitler when he undertook his program of rearmament. Hitler perfected the technique of barter to his own country's temporary advantage. By clever maneuvering of trade agreements, blocked marks, and premium prices he managed to get raw materials into his country while deferring a substantial part of the payment for them in manufactured goods. He contrived to get the central banks of the countries with which he did business in debt to their own people on his account and by doing so created a pressure in those countries for the liquidation of the debts thru further orders placed in Germany.

This curious economic arrangement, altho it was showing signs of breaking down before the war began, did serve as a temporary expedient, and the British appear to have adapted it to their own immediate problem. Thus they are buying heavily in Argentina and paying for their purchases in blocked pounds which can be redeemed only thru the purchase of British goods. Whether Britain will actually be able to supply the things Argentina wants when they are wanted is another question; from the British point of view the important consideration is the immediate one that foodstuffs from South America are moving to England on credit, and presumably in large volume.

No one can blame the British for employing these and other devices, unorthodox as they are, for Britain is at war and victory is her paramount concern. Naturally she hopes to win with a minimum of economic loss, and naturally she is trying to compensate herself for some of her sacrifices thru the capture of German trade in Latin America.

It does not follow, however, that America must accept the achievement of this design as either desirable, from our point of view, or inevitable. We have lost much of our trade with the European continent, and the loss has been compensated only in part by increased trade in war materials. With Germany out of the Latin American markets, an opportunity for export business for us has been created. There is no reason why our business men should stand by to permit British competitors to take business which might come our way if it were energetically solicited.

For purposes of trade to the south we have two very great advantages. One of them is financial: we have the cash with which to buy and ample capacity to extend credits where they are justified. The other is industrial. Our factories and means of transportation are not overburdened with war requirements, and we can, therefore, deliver superior goods and deliver them promptly. In the competition for the German share of Latin American trade we need not come off second best, and we will not if our government does not interfere with our exporters for Britain's benefit.

MIRACLES OF THE MICROSCOPE.

[Des Moines Register.]

Over three centuries ago Anthony van Leeuwenhoek saw strange sights in a drop of water through a powerful small lens of his own making. Just as the ocean was alive, so this drop teemed with wriggling, swimming, fighting, voracious creatures. A new world was opened, tho its full meaning was not revealed until Pasteur, two centuries later in France, identified some of Leeuwenhoek's organisms as the seeds of infectious disease.

When Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin exhibited his electron microscope at Richmond, Va., last year, the scientists who saw molecules of gas in action, and specks in viruses that have some connection with such puzzling diseases as infantile paralysis and the common cold, must have realized the possibility of penetrating still deeper into the world of the infinitely little. Now comes word from the University of California that theoretic refinements on the electron microscope have already been made, and it is hoped that pretty soon a model will be available for actual testing.

The ordinary microscope used in our schools has reached the limit of its power. When light is "coarser" than the thing it illuminates, a new principle must be applied in magnification. Physicists found it in the electron microscope—a tool which makes it possible to analyze the fine structure of matter, living and dead.

Nor is this the end.

The electronic telescope already looms as an instrument which will permit a closer examination of the planets, a wider extension of the universe than is possible even with the 200-inch mirror to be mounted on Palomar mountain in California.

From electrons to viruses and stars—it is to such leaps that the science has accustomed us.

NEW YEAR'S RETROSPECT.

For 20-odd years, or until the end of our studenthood, we observed New Year's Eve not at all, and New Year's Day only as a dim afterglow of Christmas, lacking the gifts and the happiness. That was in the era of eggnog bowls and New Year's calls in silk hats—customs of which we know nothing except from hearsay. There would be a family dinner, with a fowl less important than the Christmas turkey at the carver's place; and perhaps a few calls upon relatives, generally rather dull affairs; and that was all. It was like any Sunday, with the religious mood missing; and over the holiday brooded the wish to get it over and done with. Since it was a starting point in life, we were eager to toe the mark, get set, and go.

For the next 20-odd years we observed New Year's Eve as a man about town, and New Year's Day as a penitent. At first, work was mingled with the revelry, for we would be assigned to observe and report on the bacchanals in hotels and cafés; and thus, while remaining sober enough to earn our salary, we witnessed alcoholic carnage in dizzy panoramas. Then came participation in the midnight frenzies; but of all the parties the ones we remember most fondly were at the Cliff Dwellers' club. A picture of the late Robert Reid, an artist who looked like an Assyrian king, swaying like an ancient pine tree in a gale and finally crashing to the dance floor, all six and a half feet of him straight as a falling log, in a tremendous débâcle, lingers in our mind as a New Year's masterpiece.

Then came 15 years [are we counting correctly?] in which we have spent the Eve and the Day like a hermit, a mystic, and a statistician. We have withdrawn from the madding crowd and sought our cell, there to meditate upon the past, present, and future, and also to calculate, in various ways, the yardage, spiritual and material, that we have gained during the year.

We shall do it again this year; and when the hands of the clock point to midnight we will turn on the radio for a few minutes to listen to the racket in some cabaret. Then, loudly and clearly, we will greet the New Year with the single word, "Suckers!"

A MESSAGE IN MARBLE.

Today I touched the very stone
Which felt the subtle hand of Michelangelo
Four centuries ago, giving it
Life and form and immortality.

I touched it,
And could sense the love and reverence
That guided the skilled carving of the figure
Of the small God-child,
And that of Mary
Filled with mother love for this her son
Yet mingled with deep wonder at the child,
The King of kings.

And when I left the spot where his work stands,
It seemed that I had heard a voice
Saying across the centuries:
"Fear not the ills and misfortunes of life
They are but passing things.
If you but trust."

There Was a Great Peace in the Land.

The day after Christmas was very, very quiet; everything gave up and went to sleep; nature kindly spread a dimming blanket of frosty fog over the fields and let them sleep. The hills just cuddled down right where they were and slept with their bundles clasped to them. The right of way sprawled out like hikers gone to sleep and too weary to kick off their shoes or collect their small bundles. The straw stacks settled cozily and fluffed out like brooding hens. The barns closed their tired eyes and leaned comfortably against the neatly wrapped candy stick silos. Even the fences went limp, drooping between the posts, and the posts were asleep on their feet; the bridges humped themselves like sleeping camels and forgot to rumble; and the creek broke its silver Christmas seals and curled safely under the drowsing bank.

A Philosopher Discovers a New Custom.

At least our age will be credited with this: We have added a new custom to the Christmas tradition. It is the decoration of our portals and shrubbery and trees with the little twinkling lights that turn our streets, especially in the suburbs, into jeweled ways of blue and red and white.

The roads are crowded every night with motoring folk who are children again, "oohing" at each new display in the fairyland villages on the city's outskirts. I suppose the holiday truce can never last more than a week, but I wish that we would keep the Christmas lights burning a while longer. We shall soon enough go back to the dark and unromantic streets of the humdrum year.

MENINGITIS OR "BRAIN FEVER."

THIS is the season of the year when we are likely to encounter an ailment long known as spotted fever, or epidemic meningitis. Particularly when young people are brought together in large groups—during the colder weather—some cases will be likely to appear. The reason is that an individual here and there may be a carrier of the causative microbe—the meningococcus. While the organism is not dangerous to them, if and when it is communicated to others it may give rise to a virulent infection.

While the malady may afflict persons of all ages, it is far more menacing with infants and young children. In recent years, thanks to serum and sulfanilamide, it has been robbed of much of its aforetime terror, altho the same urgency remains that the diagnosis must be made at once so that treatment may be given a chance to save life. It is the single isolated case that may puzzle both the parents and the physician. Such an illness requires the most critical analysis, taxing medical skill to the utmost.

As a rule, a seizure comes on abruptly. It may develop within two or three days or smolder for a week or more. The first symptom is usually an intense headache which is confined to the forehead, later extending over the vault of the cranium. Then comes vomiting, which may have no association with nausea. In other words, there may have been no warning — no consciousness of being "sick to the stomach." Backache is often severe. As a rule, the child desires to be let alone and will resent the slightest disturbance. The posture of the victim is typical—lying with the head drawn backward. Delirium is a common accompaniment.

If the disease is allowed to progress, the skin may manifest numerous reddish or purplish spots which may assume the qualities of a true rash. This is the characteristic which was recognized in epidemics of years gone by. The disorder, however, must not be confused with Rocky mountain "spotted fever" which comes from a specific but quite different source—namely, infection transmitted by the bite of a wood tick.

Serum or sulfanilamide, or both, may be needed. The former is administered directly into a vein as well as into the spinal canal and, fortunately, many patients have responded unusually well to sulfanilamide. Apparently the microbe is rendered innocuous by it. Frequent drainage of the spinal canal may be employed to relieve pressure and to reduce greatly the possibility of complications. Deafness, which was once a routine sequel, now occurs less often.

Good nursing is important. In the home, care must be used to sterilize all material that comes from the patient or with which he has had the slightest contact. Dishes, eating utensils, and bed linen must be boiled, while all discharges should be collected on soft paper tissue and burned. Every one who enters the sickroom should be protected with a gauze mask which covers the nose and mouth.

No attempt is made to give solid food, at least until convalescence is established. Milk, reinforced with raw egg, thoroly beaten, may be utilized. An ice cap to the head will prove comforting, altho it is rarely necessary or wise to reduce the temperature by means of cold sponges. The fever seems to help the victim to develop a higher resistance to the organism.

To prevent further spread it is customary to take repeated cultures from the nose and throat and no young person should be allowed to come near the sufferer until the quarantine period [at least 21 days] has elapsed. If the germs are still present, the patient must be content to remain a household or hospital guest until they have disappeared entirely.

In meningitis we are dealing with a serious but relatively rare disease. Early recognition is essential. With prompt and adequate treatment few tragedies need be anticipated.

BRAIN X-RAY.

J. B. A. writes: What is the purpose of an X-ray of the brain? Is the procedure dangerous?

REPLY.

Within the brain there are several spaces. Air injected into these so-called ventricles makes them visible on X-ray films. Changes in their outlines point to pressure from tumors or other abnormalities. In skilled hands there is no danger.

STUFF A COLD?

W. H. writes: Should we stuff a cold and starve a fever?

REPLY.

A fever is usually one of the symptoms of a cold. The meals, therefore, should not be heavy. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a light diet sheet and advice on how to handle a cold.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

December 30, 1914.

[155th day of the world war; 121st day of the present war.]

LONDON—The press and the public of Great Britain united in voicing hope for a settlement of the American protest over British interference with American shipping.

WASHINGTON—Leaders of all parties backed President Wilson's note demanding that England keep hands off American shipping. Several leaders asserted the protest should have been made earlier.

CHICAGO—Chicago packers were reported to be solidly behind the American warning to Great Britain to keep her hands off American shipping. Shipments valued at more than $5,000,000 from Chicago packers were reported to have been confiscated by Great Britain.

PARIS — Lieut. Bruno Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patriot, was killed while leading a charge of Italian volunteers in the Argonne region. Important gains by the allies on both ends of the western front were reported.

BERLIN—The German government admitted that the Russians were strengthening their position with regard to the Austrians in Galicia.

FOR AN AMERICAN THEATER.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 27.—Your "Theatrical Revival" editorial might have offered another excellent reason for play production in Chicago! Recent and long deferred exposure of leftist domination of book publishing in these slumbering United States applies equally to the stage.

The middle west is the last stand against a sickly intellectualism that is sweeping more of America than it should. As the capital of the middle west why shouldn't Chicago offer American plays for Americans?

It is more than a coincidence that many plays liked in Chicago are prompt failures in New York. London and Chicago are more akin in theatrical taste than New York and Chicago because London and Chicago have a more common cultural heritage among their peoples.

Now that the juice has been turned on to some of these leading intellectual pinkos in other fields, we may yet have an American stage and Chicago has what it takes to become a leader in such a movement.

FOR THE HULL AGREEMENTS.

Vineland, N. J., Dec. 26.—Experience with reciprocal trade agreements to date shows no such dire results as predicted by opponents, but on the contrary beneficial increases in our foreign trade—increases which would have been even greater had normal international commerce not been interrupted by the war.

Never before in our history have tariffs been fixed with such careful attention to the interests of protected industries, export industries, and the general consuming public. Exhaustive interdepartmental and tariff commission studies have replaced congressional tariff log rolling.

In our trade agreements we have set a good example for the rest of the world, and not without profit to ourselves. What sound reason is there for now emasculating them or giving them up?

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Your editorial regarding the Municipal court of Dec. 22 may need tempering in some respects.

Perhaps the ponderosity of the rules of the court evidences the chief justice's overemphasis on the importance of the court. His referee may have failed twice in bar admission attempts. Men who made brilliant records in law school, but whose mental processes outran their writing speed, have failed the bar examinations at times. And they weren't dummies. Even Lincoln and Grant had their failures.

I have known the referee probably 20 years or more. He lives in my neighborhood. He is a Democrat. I am nonpartisan in my judicial politics. He came up from a court minute clerk. Twenty years he has worked in the court and clerk's offices. He takes his work seriously. He is conscientious and industrious. I see him getting to court on time mornings. He tries his best. He is honest. Maybe his advice to litigants, to hire lawyers in tort cases, is both wise and good judicial counsel.

My preferences run to a serious, conscientious, honest, and industrious judge or referee [who may, perhaps, have failed a bar examination or two] rather than to a first-passer, who dallies on the judicial job lukewarmly, with more dignity than effectiveness.

Add my testimony: That the referee is doing his share to retrieve the mistakes and failures of some of his Municipal court judicial brethren.

Jose Ward Hoover.

THE POOR MAN'S COURT.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—In the editorial of Dec. 22 you stated that the referee sitting in a branch of the Municipal court was twice turned back on his applications to enter the bar, but you did not mention, as your reporter did, that he was admitted 10 years ago. And you overlook that his duties are ministerial and not judicial.

The first of the series of articles on the Municipal court had to do with the events in room 1109 in the city hall on the morning of Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1939. I know, because I was present when Mr. Morgenstern visited that branch. One of your objections is that the referee advised litigants to hire a lawyer, and you contend that this is not consistent in a poor man's court. The man who was given this advice was a storekeeper who owed a few hundred dollars for sales tax, and the plaintiff was the department of finance. He, as in all other such cases, no matter what the amount or who the parties, was directed how to go about filing his appearance, and judgment was thereafter stayed two weeks to give him time to make up his mind what he wanted to do and whom he wanted to consult.

The Municipal court is, in fact, a poor man's court. Plaintiffs are allowed to sue without advancing the costs, in most cases only $3, if they are paupers. Even landlords, suing for possession, are allowed to file without engaging counsel, are helped to fill out and file the necessary papers, and I have it on good authority that once the costs were waived or abated even for that class of people until the present chief justice took the position that a man who owns property is not a pauper.

A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—How effective was newspaper publicity this year in connection with influencing public opinion to mail early for Christmas?

As I look in retrospect on this year's Christmas mailing, I am convinced that the space devoted by your paper toward shop early and mail early articles helped bring about the earliest mailing date in the history of the Chicago postoffice.

For years past, Dec. 22 and 23 were what we called our peak days, but this year, thanks to the wholehearted cooperation of the Chicago daily newspapers, that peak day was advanced to Dec. 20. It was in volume of mail handled the greatest ever, having reached a total of 23,140,907 pieces of letter mail and 2,517,702 parcels.

I am, therefore, very grateful for the splendid aid your paper gave the postoffice department in bringing home to your readers the advantages of early shopping and mailing, and I extend to you and your staff my best wishes for a most successful and prosperous New Year.

ATTACKS THREAT TO REGIMENT THE LAW PROFESSION

Bar President Replies to Solicitor General.

Charles O. Rundall of Chicago, president of the Illinois State Bar association, called upon Illinois' 102 state's attorneys yesterday to defend the legal profession against the threat of government regimentation.

Charles O. Rundall. [Moffett Photo.]

Rundall, speaking before the closing session of Illinois State's attorneys association convention in the Morrison hotel, based his warning on statements made by Robert H. Jackson, solicitor general of the United States.

No Cure for Problem.

Last summer Jackson told the American Bar association that unless the legal profession met the problem of providing legal aid and advice at a cost which the great middle class can afford the government would be forced to seek the solution. He implied that state controled free legal service would be the answer.

"A cure," said Rundall, "will not be found thru government distribution of legal services as tho this were a commodity like cotton, wheat, or corn.

"The totalitarian countries have tried that scheme and we are familiar with the disasters which followed. Individual rights no longer exist, nor can such rights exist without a militant and independent bar.

Cites Incomes of Lawyers.

"The lawyers are the only well knit group standing between individual liberties and government intrusion. We must guard against any system which might send us from door to door, like postmen, giving out legal advice."

A 1936 national survey, he said, proved that lawyers are far from being "economic royalists" enriched by high fees. It showed that 42 per cent of the lawyers have incomes under $2,000, and 81 per cent under $5,000.

The association adopted a resolution requesting the legislature to empower counties to install police radio systems and to appropriate state funds for their operation. At present 11 rural counties have radio systems connecting headquarters with squad cars, but are prevented by law from using any funds except sheriffs' fees for their operation.

Ward P. Holt of Salem, secretary-treasurer, was elected president of the association for 1940.

COURT TO HEAR ARGUMENTS ON GAMING REPORT

Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court ordered yesterday that arguments be presented Jan. 10 on a petition requesting that parts of the September grand jury's final report be expunged. The petition was filed by Municipal Judge George B. Weiss, who contended the jurors had no legal right to make a general charge that the Municipal court "passed the buck" in gambling cases.

Judge George B. Weiss.

The chief justice directed State's Attorney Courtney to answer the petition and appointed Attorney Stephen Love to represent the Criminal court in the proceedings.

Judge Weiss is represented by Attorneys George Quilici and Myer N. Rosengard. They declared in the petition that the grand jury had unjustly cast doubt and suspicion on the Municipal court, which the report characterized as engaging in a sham battle with the police as aids, against gambling in Cook county.

THREE INDICTED, BUT RETAIN JOBS IN RELIEF OFFICE

Three persons who were among nine indicted recently in connection with relief irregularities in Centerville township, St. Clair county, are still employed in the township relief headquarters in Belleville. The Illinois Emergency Relief commission was informed of this situation yesterday by Raymond M. Hilliard, IERC attorney.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the commission, directed that Harold M. Swank, acting township relief supervisor, make an investigation with a view to removing the employés from their jobs.

The commission also received results of a review of IERC cases in Illinois which was begun last Aug. 21. It showed that thruout the state approximately 3.4 per cent of 142,424 cases were rejected. In Chicago only 4.3 per cent of 83,377 cases investigated were rejected.

The commission makes its January allocations to Chicago and 552 other relief centers. The allotment for Chicago is $2,761,656, about $30,000 less than for the current month.

3 SILVER SHIRTS SENT TO PRISON IN STORE ATTACK

Jury Acquits Two in Window Smashing.

Three members of the Silver Shirt League of America, an anti-Semitic organization, were sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge John Sbarbaro in Criminal court yesterday after a jury found them guilty of malicious mischief.

Homer Herman Maertz

Those sentenced are Homer Herman Maertz, 28 East Huron street, and Fred Pokorny and Douglas Campbell, both of 3832 Janssen avenue. Two other defendants, George Heppner, 1113 Chicago avenue, and Joseph Schimpf, 1529 North Claremont avenue, were acquitted.

Accused of Smashing Windows.

The five men were accused of having thrown bricks thru four windows of a west side Goldblatt Brothers' department store on Oct. 23. Police said they admitted tossing the bricks while returning home from a Silver Shirt dance.

Mrs. Margaret N. White, 1716 West 103d street, forewoman of the jury, said that the jurors agreed that the case involved more than simple window breakage.

"We disagreed for a long time, but in the end we concluded it was not a simple case of malicious mischief," she said. "However, we also agreed that any one has a right to belong to an organization, so long as it is a patriotic organization."

Richard Devine, assistant state's attorney, prosecuted the case.

Judge Sbarbaro overruled a motion for a new trial. Defense attorneys indicated they would appeal. Bonds of the three were increased from $2,500 to $5,000 each and they were taken into custody.

SUSPECT MURDER IN DELIVERYMAN'S MONOXIDE DEATH

Investigation of the death Wednesday of Virgil Luken, 21 years old, a grocer's deliveryman, led Gary, Ind., police yesterday to the conclusion that Luken may have been murdered.

Luken's body was found in a one-car garage behind 554 Connecticut street where his employer, Edward Boer, kept his automobile. The delivery truck was parked nearby. The garage doors were closed and the engine of Boer's car was running. It was first believed that Luken had ended his life by carbon monoxide poisoning.

The new theory of Detectives Cecil Stinson and George Harms is that Luken was slugged and robbed after which his attacker started the motor of the car and left him to die. Dr. Robert Doty, Lake county coroner, found a large lump on the back of Luken's head. The young man's mother, Mrs. Amelia Luken, with whom he lived at 336 Harrison street, said he was carrying $39 of a Christmas bonus. The money was gone, but his wrist watch had not been disturbed.

HIRED GUNMEN SLEW PRESSMAN, POLICE REPORT

Detectives investigating the mysterious slaying of Paul Peters, union printing pressman, reported yesterday that they were nearing the solution of the crime. Peters was shot to death by two gunmen in front of his home at 3505 North Oak Park avenue Oct. 31.

Lieut. Kyran Phelan of the detective bureau, who has assigned a special squad to the case, said the identity of one of the killers is known. Lieut. Phelan said the killing was done by hired gunmen. "We are certain that we will solve this murder," he added.

Peters was a member of an insurgent group in Franklin local 4 of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union.

MUSIC PIRACY RING REVEALED; TWO ARRESTED

Charge Sale of 7,500 Song Copies Weekly.

A song pirating racket said to have netted one of its operators $25,000 a year was disclosed yesterday in a hearing before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

Government agents said the ring sold from 7,500 to 10,000 copies of pirated song hits a week, employing casuals in taverns and on street corners as salesmen.

Accused as operators of the ring are Jack Tickman, 25 years old, 3825 Grenshaw street, and Lawrence Rothenbaum, 22, of 1307 South St. Louis avenue. They pleaded not guilty to charges of violating the federal copyright laws and conspiracy to violate the laws and were held for hearing Jan. 9 under bonds of $1,500 each.

FBI Agents Tell of Probe.

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation said they had been investigating the two for almost a year after the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers complained that unauthorized editions of its songs were being sold at low prices thruout the country.

Martin S. Gerber, assistant United States attorney, said Tickman and Rothenbaum obtained copies of popular songs and had the words and the music reproduced in cheap pamphlet form, hiring printers in various cities to do the work.

The accused promoters paid no royalties and published the songs on cheap paper and thus, it was said, were able to sell pamphlets containing several songs at from 25 to 50 cents. Legitimate sheet music generally costs from 30 to 60 cents a copy.

Third Operator Sought.

Gerber said Tickman directed the operations and made approximately $25,000 in a year. Rothenbaum, it was said, was employed at a salary, which was not disclosed.

Other operators and salesmen took in at least an additional $25,000 a year, it was estimated.

Gerber said a third operator is being sought. Salesmen were questioned in several cities, but were released when they gave evidence that they did not know the songs had been published illegally.

SETUP OF COURT REVISED TO SPEED GAMBLING TRIALS

A shift of the automobile theft branch of the Municipal court to the Felony court was announced yesterday by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby. The change is made to leave the criminal jury branch of the Municipal court free to handle gambling and other cases in which jury trial is demanded.

More than 300 cases have piled up on the docket since gambling case defendants have started demanding jury trials. The Felony court now disposes of its work in the morning and is free to handle the automobile cases in the afternoon.

Under the new arrangement, which will become effective Jan. 2, Judge Joseph J. Drucker, who now sits in the auto and jury court branches, will sit in the auto and felony branches of the court. Judge J. M. Braude will sit in the jury branch, in which gambling cases will be heard.

2 VICTIMS SLAY 2 GUN BANDIT IN A PISTOL BATTLE

A two gun colored bandit was shot and killed yesterday by his intended victims in a pistol duel in a hamburger stand at 127 East 31st street. Neither of the two employés of the lunchroom who exchanged shots with him was injured.

The two employés are Percy Turner, 4545 Wabash avenue, a waiter, and Joseph Hutchinson, 124 East 31st street, a chef, both colored. The slain bandit was identified as Louis Dunlap, 35 years old, 4340 Cottage Grove avenue.

Dunlap entered the hamburger stand and ordered Turner to hand over the money in the cash drawer. Instead, Turner seized a pistol from under the counter and fired at the robber. The bandit fired back. The chef seized another pistol and fired at Dunlap. An examination of the bandit's pistols showed that he fired nine shots.

Accused Dentist Denied Writ to Block Hearings

Judge Grover C. Niemeyer refused yesterday to issue an injunction by which Dr. W. W. Tarr sought to restrain the state department of registration and education from holding hearings on charges it has brought against him. The department accuses Dr. Tarr, a dentist in the Morrison hotel, of unethical practices. Thirty-four other dentists who are said by the department to be associated with Dr. Tarr in his offices at the hotel joined in the injunction petition.

SUMMON O'HARE ASSOCIATES FOR BOSTON INQUIRY

U. S. Grand Jury Probes Dog Track Affairs.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 29 [Special].—A federal grand jury will begin sitting in extraordinary session here Tuesday to investigate the affairs of the Bristol County Kennel club at Dighton, Mass., 30 miles from Boston. Edward J. O'Hare, slain millionaire front man for the Capone gang interests in Chicago, is reported to have held a large interest in the track.

A number of O'Hare's business associates were expected to be subpenaed to testify before the grand jury. Miss Antoinette [Toni] Caravetta, O'Hare's confidential secretary, who held his power of attorney, arrived in Boston this afternoon. She was one of those questioned by Chicago police after O'Hare was slain by shotgun assassins Nov. 8.

Inquiry Delayed by Slaying.

It was reported here that the investigation would have started earlier if O'Hare had not been assassinated. This was interpreted to mean that the government expected to use O'Hare as a witness before the grand jury. The investigation is expected to center on the earnings of the Dighton track, and the incomes of the owners.

F. B. Whiting, a Boston agent of the intelligence unit of the United States treasury's internal revenue bureau, was in Chicago two weeks ago obtaining names of prospective witnesses. He also went to St. Louis, where O'Hare's former wife and two daughters live.

United States District Attorney Edmund J. Brandon, who will direct the investigation, declined to make public the names that Whiting obtained, but many of those who had business dealings with the race track man are known. Among them is John Patton, known in Chicago as the boy mayor of Burnham, who was O'Hare's partner in the Sportsman's Park half mile race track.

Operator of Three Dog Tracks.

In addition to holding the presidency of Sportsman's, O'Hare was known to have been interested in at least three dog tracks. These, in addition to the Bristol County Kennel club, are in Miami and in Jacksonville, Fla.

Besides the witnesses from the middle west a Boston architect and several politicians prominent in Massachusetts were expected to be called as grand jury witnesses.

Highway Police Sergeant Promoted to Lieutenant

BUSINESS WOMAN KILLED IN PLUNGE AT JOLIET HALL

Mrs. Edna Denby, 43 years old, head of a stockyards company in East St. Louis, Ill., leaped or fell to her death last night from a seventh floor room in the Hotel Louis Joliet, Joliet. Her body was found in an alley.

In Mrs. Denby's room police found a note addressed to a relative, Mrs. Arthur E. Benson, 116 East Akin avenue, Joliet, and giving directions for her burial.

Mrs. Denby's death occurred a few hours after her family had started a statewide search for her. She had been missing since 9 a. m. Thursday. She registered at the Joliet hotel Thursday night as Mae Parker of Chicago.

Mrs. Denby's firm specialized in clearing live stock for speculators and order buyers. Her husband, W. T. Denby, also in the live stock business, said his wife may have been worried over financial matters.

Movie Star Tells How He Became a Singer.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

How does a singer get to the top? Allan Jones, robust tenor of the movies, radio, and operettas, paused a moment in his dressing room at the Chicago theater to consider this question. And then he replied:

"Well, you need a lot of lucky breaks. . . . And you should be careful in picking your grandfather."

Jones had the right kind of grandfather. And he has had some lucky breaks. [Perhaps he has made some of his own breaks, too.] And now he is up there. Yesterday there was a block long queue of people waiting to see him in "The Great Victor Herbert," his newest picture.

Starred in Holiday Concert.

Tomorrow night Jones is to be starred in a special W-G-N concert with Kathryn Witwer and Harold Stokes and the W-G-N dance orchestra. This will be the third concert in W-G-N's series of holiday programs designed to give listeners the best in fine music and to stimulate interest and support in the Chicago City Opera company's fund campaign.

Allan Jones has made a number of singing pictures, among them "The Firefly," with Jeannette MacDonald; "Show Boat," and "A Night at the Opera." The Herbert picture is being hailed as his finest.

For his beginning you have to go back to Wales and Grandfather Jones, a miner who was also a singer and teacher. He taught voice, violin, and piano. He passed along this interest in music to Allan's father. The Joneses emigrated to Scranton, Pa., where Allan's father is still a foreman with a coal mining company.

A Home Filled with Music.

Since Allan was a baby his home has been filled with music.

"My father has a beautiful voice," Jones said yesterday. "There was always a trio or quartet in action at home. And when I was 5 I was already singing along myself."

Allan kept on singing when he went to work in the mines at the age of 15. He continued his studies at Syracuse and New York university. Then he studied for five years in New York City on a scholarship with Claude Warford. Further study in Europe followed, and then he started out with the Deauville opera. Lily Pons, who then was comparatively unknown, was a member of the company.

Returning to America, Jones appeared in "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time," "Red Robin," "Annina" with Jeritza, and "Bittersweet," in which Marion Claire, wife of W-G-N's musical director, Henry Weber, was featured.

He Prefers the Movies.

Jones prefers the movies to operetta and musical comedy.

"I lived long enough out of a trunk to last me a lifetime," he said. Besides, he thinks California is a great place to raise children—he has three of them. And he enjoys outdoor sports, especially riding. With Robert Young, the actor, Jones operates a riding academy.

The program in which Jones will appear will be presented from 6:30 to 7 p. m. tomorrow over W-G-N and the coast to coast Mutual Broadcasting system. His songs will include "The Donkey's Serenade," from Friml's "Firefly," and Victor Herbert's "Some Day."

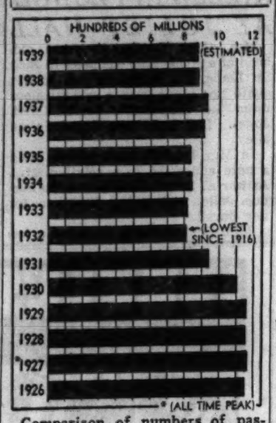
Record of Riders



Comparison of numbers of passengers carried by surface cars, elevated trains, and buses in Chicago in the last fourteen years.

TRACTION LINES FIND 1939 YEAR OF STEADY TRAFFIC

An Extra Sunday Cuts Total Slightly.

Slightly fewer people rode Chicago's street cars, buses, and elevated lines this year than last, because 1939 contained an extra Sunday, a day on which traffic normally falls a million riders from weekday totals.

Reports from the three systems yesterday, with December figures estimated, show that 879,574,964 passengers were carried this year, a recession of less than 1-10 of 1 per cent from the 880,430,661 total transported in 1938.

Surface Lines Has Decline.

Increased traffic was reported by the Chicago Motor Coach company and the Chicago Rapid Transit Lines, but a small decline was recorded by the Chicago Surface Lines. Traffic carried by the three systems for the two years:

NUMBER OF RIDERS.
[In thousands.]

	1939.	1938.	Per cent increase.
Surface Lines	676,273	678,677	*0.35
Elevated Lines	145,400	144,550	0.59
Buses	57,902	57,194	1.24

*Decrease.

This is the ninth consecutive year in which traffic has fallen below a billion passengers. More than a billion were carried for the first time in Chicago in 1923. An all-time peak of 1 billion 168 million riders was reached in 1927. The total held almost steady until 1930 when it fell sharply along with general business.

Decline Sets In.

In 1931 the total fell to less than a billion riders. The next year the depression low of 808,890,000 passengers was reached.

The peaks and valleys have varied with the three systems. The elevated lines carried a record volume of 228,813,000 riders in 1926, after which traffic declined to little more than half the total in 1933, the depression low. This year the elevated transported a little less than two-thirds as many riders as in 1926.

The peak of the surface lines' traffic was in 1929, when there were 900 million street car riders. The bottom since the world war was reached in 1932. This year's traffic was three-fourths of the 1929 volume.

Bus Riding Trend Varies.

The bus company's riding peak also occurred in 1929, when 69 million passengers were carried, but the depression low was not reached until 1935, when there were only 40 million riders. Since then, however, the bus system has made a steady and rapid comeback, and last year it carried 84 per cent as many riders as in 1929.

In 1939 all three systems reported roughly the same trend compared with 1938. The first four months tended lower than 1938, but improvement was shown in the following months.

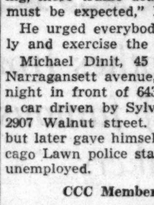
NEW YEAR'S EVE DRIVERS WARNED TO STAY SOBER

Look Out for Other Fellow, Says Coroner's Aid.

City streets are as dangerous as battlefronts on New Year's eve. You cannot safely drink and drive. It is not enough for you merely to be careful in your own driving—you must exercise extreme caution because of the other driver.



A. C. Prusinski.

These warnings were sounded yesterday by the man who presides at the aftermath of the highway massacre. He is Chief Deputy Coroner Anthony C. Prusinski. He warned that 21 persons were killed by automobiles in Chicago and the suburbs in the three day New Year's holiday last year. This was an all time high.

Warns Against Drinking.

"We are approaching another holiday that will be no holiday for death unless the public determines to cut down the massacre," Prusinski said. "In 21 inquests after the holiday last year one fact loomed out—alcohol and gasoline simply cannot mix.

"It is not enough that one driver is sober. The drunken driver in the other car can endanger and injure and kill the innocent. People who must drive New Year's eve should use double caution. They must allow for what the other fellow might do unexpectedly. If possible, it would be better to remain off the highways entirely."

10 Per Cent Increase Expected.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, warned that the traffic death and injury toll among New Year's revelers is expected to be 10 per cent higher than last year.

"Because improved business conditions will be reflected in more drinking, more traffic deaths and injuries must be expected," Hayes said.

He urged everybody to drive slowly and exercise the utmost care.

Michael Dinit, 45 years old, 6210 Narragansett avenue, was killed last night in front of 6435 63d street by a car driven by Sylvester Patterson, 2907 Walnut street. Patterson fled but later gave himself up in the Chicago Lawn police station. Dinit was unemployed.

CCC Member Killed.

A member of the Skokie CCC camp was killed and another was injured seriously when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a North Shore train at Sunset Ridge road, west of Winnetka.

Robert Manning, 21, of 215 Woodland road, Lake Bluff, died in St. Therese hospital in Waukegan of injuries incurred on Christmas day when his automobile struck a sign in front of a cemetery in North Chicago. Manning was a department manager in a Chicago department store.

John Nocis, 68 years old, 1658 North Leavitt street, died early today in the Alexian Brothers' hospital from injuries suffered late yesterday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 2534 Elston avenue. The driver was Walter Olson, 25, of 5720 Ainslie street, an elevator operator.

Pedestrian Dies of Injuries.

Rex Flach of Amboy, in Lee county, a state policeman, and Harold Moberg, superintendent for a grocery chain in Des Moines, Ia., were booked on manslaughter charges by South Chicago police after an accident Thursday in which a child was killed and two were hurt.

The victims, Virginia Rudd, 5, of 8540 Bennett avenue, who was fatally injured; Lois Curtis, 13, of 1520 East 73d place, and Jane Amelong, 12, of 1504 East 74th street, were watching skaters on a pond at 87th street and Jeffery avenue when the Flach and Moberg cars collided. Flach's car bounded over the curb and struck the girls.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 919 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan 1. Of these, 704 were killed in Chicago, where 22,389 were injured in the same period.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The interstate commerce commission reported today that malicious tampering with the tracks caused the derailment of the Southern Pacific's streamline train City of San Francisco near Harney, Nev., Aug. 12. Nine passengers and 15 dining car employés were killed in the crash. In addition, 99 passengers and 14 employés were injured.

The commission said that the evidence showed the train was not moving in excess of the maximum speed of 60 miles an hour when it was derailed. It added that "the train was riding smoothly and there was no indication of defective equipment. Prior to arrival at the point of derailment the track was structurally sound, maintained in excellent condition, and the automatic block signals were displaying proper indicators."

"Subsequent examination of the track," the commission said, "disclosed that angle bars had been removed from a joint and that angle bars, bolts, nuts, and tight lock washers were lying adjacent to the disconnected rail. Apparently a wrench had been used to remove the nuts, as none of the bolts was cut or broken."

DISEASE, HUNGER, AND COLD ADD TO TERROR OF QUAKE

Fear Death Toll in Turkey May Reach 50,000.

ANKARA, Dec. 29 (AP).—Thousands of Turks tonight faced the possibility of death from starvation, cold, and disease in quake split Anatolia. Blizzards and wrecked or snow blocked communication lines combined to hinder rescuers. The death toll was mounting hourly and officials said it might reach 50,000. The number of persons injured or suffering from exposure was believed to be at least 50,000.

Adding further to the fears of the populace was the prediction of authorities that more shocks might come in the next 10 days. Director Fatin of the Istanbul observatory said that this week's geological disturbance apparently occurred 16 miles below the surface of the earth and covered a wide area, and that as a result further movements might be expected before the strata settled.

Even if there should be no further shocks, it was felt certain that additional thousands of Wednesday's survivors would die before food and medical supplies could reach them.

Abandon Hope for Some.

Relief officials said that they had been forced to abandon all hope of bringing relief to some districts, and that they could only hope to reach the major points of disaster.

Indicating the difficulties of the relief task, a rescue train was able to reach Erzerum only after snowplows assisted by 10,000 soldiers with shovels had cut thru mountainous drifts of snow.

Later a second train got thru, and workers tonight were extricating victims from the demolished town. They faced, however, what they termed almost impossible conditions, being forced to work in blinding snow and intense cold. Temporary hospitals were set up immediately.

The trains reached Erzerum over Turkey's important new military railroad from Sivas, disclosing the line is still intact even tho it lies across the heart of the stricken area.

22 Degrees Below Zero.

The continuing cold—as low as 22 below zero Fahrenheit—seemed to be the greatest threat to the lives of the quake survivors. Reports indicated that thousands still were huddled in the ruins of their homes or outside still burning villages and towns with little or no protection.

Medical authorities continued frantic efforts to mobilize a precautionary relief against epidemics. Quantities of typhoid serum were being collected and may be flown into the earthquake area.

Latest reports said that the food supplies were dwindling fast in most districts. The plight of foodless, shelterless small children was especially acute. It was said that many of the quake deaths were due to one precaution the populace had taken against winter. This was the piling of stones and dirt on the roofs of houses to keep their interiors warm. These piles crushed many victims when the quake struck.

WOODSHED GONE, BUT 7 MILLION ESTATE IS AHEAD

Seven million dollars was the value placed upon the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick's Villa Turicum estate at Lake Forest in the boom days. Among its buildings were a 44 room mansion with 15 baths and a woodshed. The woodshed burned Oct. 6. The Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee, collected $521.46 insurance.

The company informed Judge John F. O'Connell in Probate court yesterday that an appraiser had decided it would require all the insurance money to rebuild the shed, but that the shed wasn't necessary. The judge approved the insurance collection, the decision to put the insurance money in the estate funds instead of rebuilding the shed, and another item: The appraiser's 10 per cent claim of $52.14 for finding that the shed wasn't needed.

LEAVES CHARITY $13,000 AND TIE PIN TO MAE WEST

The bulk of the estate of Oscar Monroe Abbott, retired business man and world traveler, will be shared by the Volunteers of America and Tuskegee Institute. His will was filed in Probate court yesterday.

Mr. Abbott died on Dec. 9 at the age of 69. He lived at 4711 Kenwood avenue. Attorney William Ewen said the estate, once valued at $30,000, had shrunk to approximately $13,000.

Included among bequests are souvenirs of the Spanish-American and world wars left to the Chicago Historical society and a pearl and diamond tie pin left to Mae West, actress, "with my sincere good wishes and a cordial invitation to kum up und see muh sum time." Miss West also was given a small wooden cross, cut from a walnut tree planted by George Washington.

They were carried to safety by firemen of the 8th battalion, commanded by Chief William Steed, and taken to County hospital.

STUDENT UNION BALKS, 322-49, AT BRANDING RUSSIA AGGRESSOR

Madison, Wis., Dec. 29 (AP).—The American Student union today refused, 322 to 49, to adopt an amendment branding Russia the aggressor in the war with Finland.

The one sided vote in the fifth annual convention surprised observers. The amendment, presented by Allen Gottlieb of Harvard university to a peace resolution, said:

"While the American Student union has no sympathy for the Russian attack on Finland and specifically condemns it as a clear act of aggression, nevertheless it does not want to see our neutrality prejudiced by those acts we consider to be unneutral."

Joseph Lash of New York, executive director of the union, and Molly Ward of Chicago, national chairman, both urged adoption of the amendment.

Herbert Witt, New York district secretary, who presented the original peace resolution, said the convention should wait for "a true valuation of conditions in Finland and Russia." His view prevailed overwhelmingly.

JAPANESE DENY BRIDGE SENTRY HIT U. S. WOMAN

SHANGHAI, Dec. 29 (AP).—A Japanese naval spokesman today challenged the statement of Miss Frances Donaldson of Louisville, Ky., that she had been struck by a Japanese sentry. He said that an investigation based on an American request was made by naval authorities in charge of the section of the international settlement where Miss Donaldson said she was struck Dec. 20.

The investigators, he declared, "conducted a complete investigation, and found no evidence thereof and they do not believe it occurred." The spokesman indicated that while an official record of the inquiry had not been completed the Japanese reply to Acting American Consul General Frank P. Lockhart's representations would be in accord with these findings.

"We consider the charges constitute a fishy allegation," the spokesman asserted.

MOTHER, SISTER OF VIOLINIST DIE; SHOT BY FATHER

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Mrs. Elizabeth Solovieff, 38, and her 12 year old daughter, Vivienne, died today from bullet wounds inflicted by Mrs. Solovieff's estranged husband, Aaron, 41, who became enraged when she rejected his efforts at a reconciliation. Solovieff, assistant cantor at Temple Beth Israel, San Francisco, turned the pistol on himself after the shooting last night and committed suicide.

The only one in the Riverside drive apartment to escape was Miriam, 18, who made her debut in San Francisco as a child prodigy violinist in 1931 and who was booked for a Town Hall concert here Feb. 7. She was practicing on her Stradivarius when her father—who had arrived yesterday morning from the west—began firing after a quarrel over whether he should live with them.

Three Patterns for Juveniles

STYLES FOR JUVENILES.

Style No. 2974 creates a simple dress or boy's suit. Only a minimum of material is required so that quite a sizable wardrobe may be created for your small fry at little expense. You needn't know much about sewing to use this pattern, either.

The other style, a little more intricate, fashions a dress for a small girl. Printed and striped materials are particularly good, and the "Scottie" pockets are a clever touch. They're an extra pattern, No. E-11159.

Style No. 2974 is designed for sizes 1, 2, and 3. Size 2 requires 1¾ yards of 35 inch material for dress and panties, with ⅜ yard of contrasting; 1 yard for rompers, with ¼ yard of contrasting.

Style No. 3207 is designed for sizes 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6. Size 4 requires 2⅛ yards of 35 inch material for dress and panties; ¼ yard of contrasting for collar.

Each of the three patterns costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Slogan for the New Year (offered by Bob Montgomery):
Life begins in '40.

"They shall not pass"—The yesteryears.
Old disappointments, sorrows, tears
Must all be left outside the door,
Forgotten, lost . . . forevermore!

In this New Year we shall not find
Old hangovers of tragedy
That chain our lives in slavery.

O, in this New Born Child rejoice!
And listen to his clear young voice!
"They shall not pass"—The yesterdays.
Good-by old griefs and sorrowed ways.

Back Door Incident.

Sometimes ladies not feeling up to the ordeal of fittings have a pick-up sent in to the fitting rooms in a fashionable Michigan avenue women's wear shop. The drinks are sent in from a café around the corner and are delivered at the back door of the shop. The other day two weary shoppers ordered a couple of old fashioneds. A new doorman was on duty at the back door. When the waiter from the café appeared with two drinks on a tray and handed them to him he looked pleased and astonished.

"Thank you and a Merry Christmas to you," he said, draining the glasses.

President's Mother Presides at Party for Margaret Houghteling

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of President Roosevelt, was hostess today at a White House luncheon for her great-niece, Margaret Houghteling, a capital debutante.

Miss Houghteling is the daughter of James L. Houghteling, commissioner of immigration, and Mrs. Houghteling of Chicago.

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, who had arranged the party, was absent because of the auto accident in which Franklin Roosevelt Jr. and his wife, the former Ethel du Pont, were slightly injured.

So the elder Mrs. Roosevelt, a White House guest over the holidays, received the 33 debutantes, subdebs and daughters of officials in the Blue room and presided in the walnut paneled state dining room. White House aids in gold encrusted uniforms escorted the guests to their places.

They will be at home after Feb. 1 in North State street.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

It's when you've got a date and know you don't look like even an imitation glamor girl that you realize what a wonderful preparation a pick-up mask can be. You can, if you're smart, do some beauty magic in the space of half an hour before your date that will transform you completely.

And you'll remember to do it, too, if you have the "Got a Date?" box one of the beauty houses has brought out. It's a marvelous idea, the box designed in the shape of a pink date pad, with a notation on the first flyleaf to be sure to use a cream mask for your face and neck and a pick-up bath powder in your tub. The two preparations, of course, are to be found beneath this flyleaf.

The mask is a lovely one; it's pink, with a pretty fragrance, and it doesn't harden on the skin. You merely apply a thin layer of it to the clean area of face and neck and leave it on for 10 or 15 minutes. Until you try it you've simply no idea how it changes the looks of your face; your skin is radiant when you remove the mask with tissues—and your makeup looks ten times more flattering than it otherwise would.

The best trick, we think, is to use the mask while you're tubbing. Use the powder in the water; it fills the tub high with shining bubbles. It softens the water, too, and gives you that wonderful luxurious feeling.

These two preparations are perfect for the tired woman who wants to look her best for a date—and they have a definite value for the business girl, date or no date. She will find them perfect for refreshing her, spiritually and physically, after a hard day. ELEANOR NANGLE.

At Last, Allan Jones Gets His Movie Chance

"THE GREAT VICTOR HERBERT."
Produced by Paramount.
Directed by Andrew Stone.
Presented at the Chicago theater.
THE CAST.

John Ramsey	Allan Jones
Louise Hall	Mary Martin
Victor Herbert	Walter Connolly
Dr. Richard Moore	Lee Bowman
Peggy [14 years]	Susanna Foster
Marie	Judith Barrett
Barney Harris	Jerome Cowan
Warner Bryant	John Garrick

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Victor Herbert's lovely music pervades, like a fragrance, this story about the great composer. And every melody will be a loved and familiar one to nine-tenths of the folks listening to it.

The tale, paced to the tempo of the '90s, isn't biographical. It is, rather, a sentimental tribute to a brilliant and kindly gentleman, essaying to show the effect of his life and influence on those with whom he came in contact, focusing attention on John Ramsey, male star; Louise Hall, Ramsey's protégée, whom he marries, and their child, who grows up to be a prima donna just like mamma.

For the three playing these rôles "The Great Victor Herbert" proves the Land of Opportunity. It provides Allan Jones with the chance he's been needing to show what he can do after a long rest, following several pictures in which he won no particular acclaims. It is the screen debut vehicle of Mary ["My Heart Belongs to Daddy"] Martin and may prove the stepladder to stardom for 14 year old Susanna Foster, who has a voice almost if not quite as good as Deanna Durbin's.

John Ramsey is not a particularly admirable character until the very end of the picture when, having learned sense from hard knocks, he comes thru in a great way, but Allan Jones plays the part for all it's worth —and how he CAN sing!

Miss Martin shows surprising poise, considering the fact that this is her first experience before the movie camera, and she impresses you more and more favorably as the action proceeds. She is charming as the ingenue for whom Ramsey falls with such a resounding thud, and as star, wife, and mother she is appealing and convincing. Susanna will probably always be a better singer than she is an actress.

Walter Connolly is splendid in the title rôle. It's a part entirely different from those he usually draws, but Mr. Connolly is just as much at home in new shoes as in old ones. He's REAL wherever you put him. Lee Bowman as the up and coming young doctor the heroine left behind her and Jerome Cowan as a narsty tempered agent are excellent. The tiny girl who plays Baby Peggy and the charming woman who is Mrs. Herbert are not named in the cast—but they deserve recognition.

The film is most cunningly directed. Note, for example, a certain bicycle ride, during which Ramsey and Peggy voice their sentiments toward each other to the words and music of Victor Herbert compositions.

Staging, scenery, and costumes are authentic and the whole picture is so atmospheric that it gave me moments of acute nostalgia. The older generation are certainly going to love this movie—and I don't just see how a younger one, for all their "swing" addiction, can help doing likewise.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Happy New Year!

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 29—To all of you and to each of you, wherever you are, the column extends sincere wishes for 1940 . . . I wish all of you good health, which is a fairly important asset, and I wish you good luck . . . may the sun, the moon and the stars shine brightly on your every endeavor, and let the winds follow, rather than oppose . . . In other words, Happy New Year.

This last year has been exceedingly kind to a good many Hollywood players . . . Vivien Leigh, for instance, would be perfectly content if 1940 gave her one rôle in one picture comparable to "Gone with the Wind" . . . Jane Bryan would settle with 1940 for another "The Old Maid" . . . George Raft hopes that the new year treats him as graciously as the old, because Raft in 1939 broke away from Paramount and went on to better things as a free-lance.

Charles Boyer, who got a reprieve from the Maginot line, asks only that 1940 permit him to stay out here in Hollywood . . . Henry Fonda petitions the new year to be as generous in its favors as were the preceding twelve months . . . Olivia De Havilland, Jack Benny, Zorina, Norma Shearer, Clark Gable, Carole Lombard, Ingrid Bergman, Greta Garbo, Irene Dunne, Marlene Dietrich—each one of them will settle for a 1940 that is as beneficent as its predecessor.

Despite the many marriages of 1939, there are quite a few eligible "catches" in the Hollywood colony at this writing . . . Cary Grant, David Niven, Howard Hughes, Rudy Vallee, Jimmy Stewart, Jeffrey Lynn, Robert Stack, Lew Ayres, Edgar Bergen, Tennis Champs Donald Budge and Gene Mako, Walter Wanger, Bob Ciskin, Joe Schenck, Franchot Tone, and William Powell are a few of the entries who are unattached as a new year arrives.

In the field of popular music, you girls can have your pick of Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Vincent Lopez, or Abe Lyman . . . If you prefer comedians, I can offer you Joe E. Lewis, Benny Rubin, Bert Wheeler, Milton Berle or Charlie Butterworth . . . In the last I can offer Woolworth Donahue, Jimmy Donahue, Dan Topping, Quentin Reynolds, Wall Street Lucius Ordway, Songwriter Lou Davis . . . Say, I think I'll open a matrimonial agency.

By the same token, a lot of very lovely lovelies are in the 1940 markets for husbands . . . Loretta Young, Olivia De Havilland, Ilona Massey, Ann Rutherford, Jane Bryan, Mary Martin, Eleanor Powell, Patricia Morrison, Linda Darnell, Lana Turner, Ginger Rogers, Dorothy Lamour, Gale Page, Ann Sheridan, Priscilla Lane and all of her sisters, Helen Parrish, Frances Robinson, Wendy Barrie, Joan Crawford, Joyce Matthews, Arleen Whelan, Marjorie Weaver, Margot Stevenson, Jean Parker, June Preisser, Rosalind Russell, Nancy Kelly, Mary Healy, Betty Grable, Norma Shearer—if you fellows can't pick one out of the galaxy of bedazzlers, you're slipping . . . and don't all of youse ask for Lamour.

Most important pictures of 1940, I think, will be "Grapes of Wrath," to be released late in January; Charlie Chaplin's "The Dictator," Tracy's "Northwest Passage" and possibly "Escape."

[Acme Photo.]

Figaro, the cat, is sleeping alongside a sandbox in the new Disney color feature, "Pinocchio." The film is expected to be one of the hits of the new year. It is reported to cost $1,500,000.

"Gone with the Wind," released in 1939, should have an important bearing on this coming year . . . For years, studios have been making perhaps 15 top pictures and 40 lower budgeted pictures . . . If "Gone with the Wind" takes in the money that is expected, you will find studios making more and more big pictures and fewer "B" pictures.

That this already is a possibility has been proven by the action of Warner studios in abandoning all "B's" for 1940 . . . I think that you will find other studios pursuing the same discriminate production policy . . . The double feature evil promises to collapse from within.

Sound and color having been introduced already to pictures, you cannot look for any new mechanical improvements in 1940 . . . Sound and color will continue to be refined, but 1940 will be distinguished only by advances in television . . . With the war already discounted, the industry looks ahead to a sound year that will concentrate on the domestic and South American markets, with both enlarged thru ballyhoo and a more intense sales policy . . . In fact, I trust that your new year is as profitable as Hollywood expects 1940 to be.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 29 [Special].—Miss Ruth McCormick, a student at Bennington college, Vermont, was presented to Charleston society tonight by her mother, Mrs. Albert G. Do Not Fret if Your Boy Has a Gentle Nature

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Repeatedly I feel the need of coming to the rescue of the boy who doesn't fit the stencil design marked BOY.

Probably the average parents would prefer to have a son who conforms to the pattern that immediately comes to mind with the words, "O, he's a regular boy." For to fit a conventional pattern does make life easier for the boy and for his parents. Being "different" makes life much more difficult.

I think the life stories of well known men, either of today or of the past are among the greatest aids parents can have to help them to accept the temperament which they see showing itself in their own children. For instance, this one as a child, his biography reveals, was physically timid; another disliked school work; another one was always drawing when he should have been studying or doing chores; another spent his spare time bringing home injured animals.

The gentle type of boy may be the exception while he's a boy, but when he reaches manhood his gentleness has its place. Also he may prove to be the thinker, the musician, the inventor, the poet, the devoted husband and father, or he may be just the understanding soul. And whether they make their mark or not, the world is always the richer for these last. We can't have too many understanding hearts. If your boy is the gentle type, that doesn't mean that he will be any the less a man for it.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Miss Marguerite Inez Williamson to Harold W. Handley is announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earl W. Williamson of Evanston. Handley of La Porte, Ind., is a graduate of Indiana university.

Hat Designers Make Good Use of Lacy Braid

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Fancy silk braid has been rediscovered by the hat makers, and some of the snappy white headlines destined for resort luggage literally use bolts of the stuff. It's the scalloped, lacy braid, not the prim military article. Such lacy braid hasn't been seen for years. Turbans have effective large swirls of the braid fashioned into front headlight formations.

And not all of these sugar white hats go south. Many of them are selected now and kept for a surprise on an occasional warm day in February or worn now with smart coffee brown or black costumes.

Feathered tops of shining small cog feathers are popular. Lovely turquoise blue, powder pink, and a particularly beautiful amber color, together with white models answer the problem of what to wear with midseason clothes as a pickup prescription. Most of these feathered affairs are exceedingly small and smart, slick hats for the fur-collared winter coats or the bulky fur coats.

Promised soon are the gay flowered hats, also small and infinitely becoming to all. A bunch of green roses, tied with green grosgrain or purple ribbon; a tiny turban of parma violets, red roses, and all the most romantic blooms will masquerade in artfully tied bunches as the newest hats to revive a winter wardrobe.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Margaret Rowley Golden, daughter of Mrs. Peter Thomas Golden, to James Robert Lytle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lytle of Woodlawn avenue, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning in the Holy Cross church.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McMahon of Chicago and Los Angeles announce the marriage on Wednesday of their daughter, Mary, to John Emmet Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan of Rogers Park. The wedding took place in St. Ignatius' church and was followed by a reception at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Mr. Hogan and his bride have left for a three week trip to California. They will live in Chicago.

How Do You Look on the Dance Floor?

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

You have to be a charming figure on the dance floor these days, young woman. You have competition in girls who carry themselves beautifully and are perfect dreams in motion. Apropos, Orchestra Director Woody Herman has classified dancing girls under certain classifications which we herewith present, with the suggestion that you check over the list to see how you might be pigeonholed by an onlooker:

1. The S-Girl: You know the type. When she dances her spine resembles the letter S. One shoulder is up and the other down.

2. The Clinging Vine: Practically falling against her partner at every step. She looks as tho she needed something to hold her up. In her case it's her partner.

3. The Dead-Weight: The girl who pulls her partner's shoulder down and is responsible for that look of desperation on his face.

4. The Jim Londos [or wrestling champion] Style: Her arm around her partner's neck is so tight that nobody, not even a circus strong man, could break away. Heaven help you if you try!

5. The Bowed-in-Thought Method: For this the girl is usually much shorter than her partner and increases the difference in height by putting her head down so that her partner's face is tickled by her hair.

6. The Women's Rights Believer: She wants to lead. No, she doesn't say so, but there is a glint in her eye and a purposefulness in her grip on her partner. The poor fellow can't do anything about it but follow meekly. That is, unless he wants to have a slight argument on his hands all during the dance.

7. The Dream Girl: Alas, too few! She stands straight and tall, follows perfectly, never lets her hair get in her partner's face, doesn't lean on him; in general, just a dream girl.

Danger on the Border

By FREDERICK R. BECHDOLT

[Copyright: 1939: By Frederick R. Bechdolt]

INSTALMENT XLII.
A DISAPPEARANCE.

Papago picked up the rifle and he held it to his shoulder. He watched Collins across the lined sights as he stumbled down the slope of the amphitheater. He was still holding the weapon leveled when the man returned. Until he was within a few yards. Then he exchanged it for the automatic.

"Open the cap," he said, "and give it to me."

But before he poured the water upon Leonard's face, he took out his bandana handkerchief and wiped the last traces of powder smoke away.

It was a long time before Leonard opened his eyes, and during that interval neither man spoke. Papago had gotten the gift of silence from the Collins and from the wide still reaches where he had roved. Collins had plenty of company in his own thoughts, unpleasant companions, but incessant.

Leonard's eyes were fixed on Papago. His lips moved, he was trying desperately to say something, striving, but he could not shape the words. Then, as Collins had been before him, he was violently sick. When the last spasm had passed he wiped his hand across his brow, he groaned.

"Collins . . ." he said.

Leonard started to rise and fell back. He muttered:

"I've got to make it."

"I've got to find Kent," whispered Leonard.

"He'll keep," Papago said, but the line between his brows was deep, his eyes were two slits. "Yo've got one of 'em," he went on. "We'll get the other. Pat's on her way to Nogales."

The minute which he had promised passed and more. At last Papago was to his feet, he helped Leonard up.

"Go on ahead," he bade Collins. He handed the pistol to Leonard. The burros regarded them curiously as they went down the slope: two who stumbled as they walked, the other striding easily, holding the rifle in the crook of his elbow. They made poor progress and the sun was yellowing high when they reached the Little Mesa of the Dead. Papago saw Leonard staring at the new grave and he said:

"I'm going to stick with yo' till this is thru."

The fresh air was clearing the poison from Leonard's lungs, but the mood was still pounding thru his head. There were moments when giddiness seized him and he reeled like a man far gone in drink. Papago revealed the two men from under lowered lids. Then he nodded at Leonard:

"I reckon," he murmured, "yo' had better ride behind. We'll put this mule in front beside me where yo' can keep an eye on him." When he spoke to Collins his voice hardened.

There was but little said during the first few miles. They were tooling over the mesquite flat when Papago flung the story of his meeting with Pat which hurled the other two back into the corners of the seats. By the time he had finished, Leonard was able to tell what had happened in the tunnel. Collins said nothing, he had not spoken since they left the old mine. They were coming out on the wide flat again and Golconda lay a few miles ahead of them, a strip of wooden buildings along the foot of the mountain with the smoke from the smelter chimney trailing over it like a black plume, when Papago called back:

"Aiming to stop in town for anything?" And Leonard answered:

"Go thru, straight thru."

"Got to fill up with gas," Papago shouted above the rattling of the cans and oil can. "It's safer there than acrost the line." Then he jerked his head toward the prisoner. "If he tries to start anything, or says a word to anybody, don't take a chance. Jest throw a slug into him an' let it go at that."

There was not much traffic on the main street, for the men who had come down the hill from the night shift had, for the most part, gone to bed by this time. And the garage hand who came out to fill the tank happened to know none of the car's passengers. He screwed on the cap, got his money, and vanished inside the building. Papago was about to release the hand brake and throw in the clutch when the garage wrecking truck came down the road. It made a wide turn and passed them, the derrick in the rear was holding the front of an automobile, the radiator was smashed, the headlights gone, there was a ragged hole in the windshield. Leonard uttered an exclamation.

"That's my car!" Then he groaned. It was Papago who called to the driver of the truck.

"Where's the lady who was driving?" The man called:

"Took her to the company hospital." And the truck rumbled into the side doorway.

Papago's little car started with a swiftness that set the tires to shrieking. The hospital was nearly a mile away. They were stopping before it within a minute. Leonard was opening the door but Papago said:

"Stick there. I can move faster and nobody's looking for me."

He was inside the building almost as soon as he had finished. A few moments later he was back again.

"She's gone," he said as he was climbing in. "A woman took 'er away. They don't know where."

It is one thing to be the commander, well in the rear, making plans for other men to carry out. It is quite another thing to be on the firing line where action is swift and oftentimes bewildering. Kent had always found a good deal of real pleasure, plotting for those criminals of lesser intelligence who had allied themselves with him. There was a certain enjoyment in readjusting his strategy when things went wrong, or when some unexpected complication cropped up. But these thrills which had come during hours of cold-blooded contemplation while he was sitting in a quiet office amounted to nothing. This morning he was experiencing the hot realities.

And it was a large experience. For the first time in his life his soft muscles had been compelled to take the punishment of severe effort. He had learned the bitter taste of danger, his nerves had quivered with pain. He was badly shaken by emotions of which he had never dreamed. The cold sweat of fear was mingling with the hot sweat of physical effort, his limbs were trembling and his teeth were clicking like castanets while he lay behind the rock awaiting the explosion.

Then he saw Leonard. It was unbelievable, it seemed as unreal as if he were looking at Dillon who had died before his eyes with the prospector's pick buried between his shoulder blades. And, while he was still incredulous, Leonard passed out of sight into the portal. The minutes that followed were like the hours thru which one passes in a bad dream. The noise of the blast awoke him.

His first feeling when he rose and started down the slope of the amphitheater was one of tremendous relief. There had been a possibility of Leonard's saying something in the hearing of other men, and there had been the even stronger likelihood of Collins' turning against him if anything went wrong. Now both of these potential dangers were removed. The two men, whom he had good cause to fear, were buried alive. And no one save himself knew where they were entombed.

The sun was up, but it had not yet gotten to work, the morning was still cool. His path lay down hill, and it was easy traveling now by daylight. But when he reached the mouth of the amphitheater he halted for some time, uncertain which way he was to go. It was, he remembered finally, to the left. And it was not merely luck which kept him on the unmarked trail. It was the fact that the route along the side hill, by which the burros had led him and Collins to the spot, lay in the main on a level course.

He did not want to climb uphill, and he had enough sense of locality to remember that this portion of his journey last night had been comparatively easy, so he did not descend. And when he arrived at the spot where the trail made its turn down into the canyon head, the marks of the burro's hoofs showed plainly in a mass of loose rubble. After that the walls of the canyon enclosed him, the only way he could have gotten lost would have been by clambering sheer rock cliffs.

Hold Assembly for Juniors at Casino Tonight

New Year's eve traditionally is the gayest night of the year for Chicago's subdebutantes and their beaux, for it brings the annual junior assembly. The women in charge of the party this winter decided against having the party on a Sunday night, however, and instead the 350 to 400 youngsters on the assembly list received invitations for 10:30 o'clock tonight at the Casino.

The junior assembly is patterned after the most formal of adult parties with the exception that it gets off to a prompter start than most balls and ends at a more reasonable hour. Preceding the dance there will be a number of dinner parties.

One of the larger dinner parties will be given by Mrs. Warner G. Baird and Mrs. Thomas Lyons for their daughters, Olive Baird and Kay Lyons, who are sophomores at Dobbs Ferry. Mrs. Graham Aldis and Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr. are giving another, at the Casino, for Mary Cornelia Aldis and Alys Faurot.

Some of those who have taken tables for the Casino's New Year's eve celebration are the Huntington B. Henrys, the Huntly H. Gilberts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummings, the Freeman Hinckleys, the Herbert E. Bradleys, Robert F. Carr, the Howard Fentons, Mr. and Mrs. Hal C. Bangs, Miss Elizabeth McCormick, and the James S. Kempers.

Welcoming 1940 at the Saddle and Cycle's gay dinner-dance tomorrow will be the Robert Gardners, Miss Loraine Logan, the Winfield Ellises, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Harris, the Walter Meads, the Robert Harveys, and the Herbert Stratfords.

The customary New Year's eve costume dinner-dance is being given in the Pine room of the Racquet club tomorrow night.

The debutantes and their beaux will see the old year out and the new one in at a variety of gay parties. The Frank E. Wilhelms and the Vaughan C. Spauldings are giving a dinner-dance tomorrow at the Shoreacres club for their debutante niece, Miss Sheila Cudahy. The dance is the first debutante New Year's eve party in several years.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Herbst and their daughters, Miss Dorothy and Miss Ruth, are entertaining at eggnogs late tomorrow afternoon for several buds of the season, Miss Jean Husted, Miss Carolyn Mellinger, Miss Barbara White, Miss Patricia Austin, Miss Shirley Garnett, and Miss Cherry Sue Orr.

From the Herbst party Miss Edna Johnson will take some of the buds and their beaux to the ice carnival at the Stadium, and then to her home in Evanston for a buffet supper. Her especial guests will be Miss Garnett, Miss Mellinger, Miss Austin, Miss Orr, Miss Jill Fabian, and Miss Jean Ladd.

Miss Patsy Blackett's closest friends will welcome the new year at a theater, supper, and dancing party that is being given for her by Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Mast.

Mrs. B. Botsford Young is entertaining at a 1 o'clock breakfast at home in Lake Forest tomorrow for Miss Grace Shumway, Miss Barbara Blossom, Miss Anita Smith, Miss Mary Faith Wilson, and Miss Mardo Pattou. Following breakfast the young pepole will go to the Winter club for skating.

Winter sports will be on the program, it is expected, following a luncheon Mrs. Roger Vail and her son, Bloss Vail, are giving tomorrow at the Exmoor Country club for Miss Dorothy Warner.

Mrs. Arthur Jackson is giving a "brunch" at home in Lake Forest tomorrow for Miss Josephine Wallace, Miss Wallace, Miss Marilyn Martin, and Miss Blackett will be the especial guests at an eggnog party the Frederick Burnhams will give in Hubbard Woods tomorrow afternoon.

"Different" Crochet Afghan

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The crochet worker who is looking for something "different" to make will find this afghan both unusual and useful. It is effectively made in strips, three dark ones in the pineapple stitch and four others in the simple single crochet. Begin creating this afghan at once and have it ready for use now that cold weather has arrived.

For instructions in crocheting this striped afghan, No. X-330, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: The problem, 'when to finesse,' plagues all players, from dub to expert. In fact, I have noticed that players may be divided into three groups, according to their handling of finesses. The beginner seldom finesses; when he becomes more advanced he is likely to finesse far too often, even when there is nothing to be gained thereby, and the expert never takes a finesse unless it is vital. Here is a hand which presented a tempting but fatal finesse situation:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ K 3
♦ K J 6

WEST
♥ Q 7 6 5 2
♦ 7 3 2

EAST
♠ J 9 2
♥ 10 9 8
♦ 10 8 4

SOUTH
♥ A J 4
♦ A Q 9 5
♣ Q 4 3

"The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	1 spade	2 clubs	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

"West led the spade five, declarer taking East's jack with the king. Declarer could now count in top tricks one spade, two hearts, four diamonds, and one club, a total of eight, with many more tricks available if the club finesse were to succeed, but disaster if it did not. As declarer, I decided to delay my club investigation as long as possible. I cashed four diamond tricks and then led the club queen. West showed out, so I won in dummy with the ace, then cashed the heart king and led dummy's remaining spade [which I had carefully preserved]. West took four spade tricks, but then had to lead up to my A-J of hearts.

"As to the bidding, there is a temptation to bid game in one of the minors, which can be made only with the help of the opponents. If West had held more than five spades, my contract would have been in danger, but even then he might have discarded spades during the play of diamonds. The point was that the club finesse was "refused" in order to take advantage of a throw-in play that would compel a lead up to a tenace position.

I am afraid that this is not a particularly good illustration of the principle that finesses should be avoided whenever possible. Declarer should have considered himself very lucky that West was void of clubs. If he had been able to follow suit on the play of the queen, declarer would have had the guess of a lifetime to make. Obviously, it would have been silly to finesse clubs when West's "failure" proved that the finesse could not succeed, and the alternative throw-in play that followed was nothing more than the result of getting this information. But if West had followed suit, South would have had to be second sighted to decide to put up the ace. In that case, how could he possibly tell that the club finesse would fail and that a throw-in play would succeed?

This brings up an excellent point for defenders to note: when they have one or two worthless cards in a suit that looks dangerous, they must hang on to those cards for dear life, so that when the suit is first led, they will not show out and reveal the situation. To be specific, suppose West had started with the singleton three spot of clubs. On declarer's lead of diamonds, that singleton should be the last card that West should think of discarding. To discard it would be to lead declarer to the easy solution that was presented by West's actual void in clubs.

NEW COOKBOOKS FOR RECIPE COLLECTORS:

1. "The South American Cookbook," by Cora, Rose, and Bob Brown. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.50.]

The well-traveled, recipe-prolific Browns always write interestingly about foods, and have collected here favorite recipes from South America, Central America, Mexico, and the West Indies. The book is more entertaining than useful, unless you go in for foreign parties, or like to experiment with unusual foods, tho there are quite a few recipes which may be used without searching out unfamiliar ingredients in specialty stores. Chilean "trincadillos," for example, are sage-flavored meat croquettes. West Indian "gilded slices," or "fatias douradas," are really French toast, excepting that the slices are dipped in wine instead of milk. Many of the dessert recipes are adapted to North American purposes.

2. "The Canned Foods Cookbook," by Virginia Porter and Esther Latzke. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.49.]

"A book for bachelors, working wives, and harassed mothers," this is a practical, concise book of easy-to-follow recipes. Each recipe states the number of servings.

The authors are two well known, experienced Chicago home economists.

3. "Home Sweet Home Cookbook," published by the Ladies' Village Improvement society, East Hampton, N. Y., reminds me, except for the Long Island clam chowder flavor, of the recipe books which women's clubs in the home town used to get out decennially. There are the same advertisments for local business, front and back, the same occasionally versified, hand-me-down recipes, and each recipe bears the name of its contributor.

Chicago Sees What Mr. Dali Calls a Ballet

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Salvador Dali's surrealist ballet, "Bacchanale," was given its first Chicago performance by the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at the Auditorium last night. The music was Wagner's, the choreography Massine's.

A great swan had its breast torn away and the landscape showed a rotting ship toward the mountains. The cabinets of skulls were nearer. A man with water wings knitted and knitted. A midget wound up the yarn.

As Mr. Dali himself said, "This is the moment to state, nailed to my own geology." Or again, "It is man's right to decide that lukewarm telephones are disgusting." He was a man who loved the sight of a lamb chop against a bare shoulder!

King Ludwig of Bavaria felt his mind going, as well he might, but he danced and danced and kept seeing other things. Nearly all the men had plants growing out of their heads. Naturally, two Lohengrins danced in with a sheet unfolded between them. A bacchante or a nymph or a grace had a tattered bathrobe to dance with, but she gave it to Ludwig. Venus had people that looked like her.

Of the umbrellas only one could dance. That one had a snakelike neck and a skull. The man who had been knitting ate a sandwich. There was a pair of castanets. At the end umbrellas bloomed everywhere.

"Man has the right," said Mr. Dali, "to demand costumes for his furniture, for his teeth, and even for his gardenias. If watches are good then watches that ooze softly out of shape and droop over table tops are obviously better."

But what of 1941? "The color of old absinthe will dominate the year 1941. 'Green I want green'—green wind, green ermine, green lizards swollen with sleep . . . green the light of my own Gala!"

HUXLEY DRAFTS PLAN TO ASSURE WORLD OF PEACE

Warns of Fate of Mighty Dinosaurs.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., Dec. 29.—A new religion of this world, a sort of mystic humanism, and a European federation of states in which the new resources offered to man by science can be utilized in a better common life, were proposed this evening by Dr. Julian S. Huxley, London biologist. He is the representative of British science at the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which is meeting here.

Taking a biological analogy in his discussion of science, war, and reconstruction, Dr. Huxley said that the building of great rival power states could lead only to a cul-de-sac or blind alley.

"The giant reptiles of the mesozoic age included the largest carnivores the world has ever seen," he said, "animals like the tyrannosaurs and the most heavily armored animals, like the stegosaurs and the ceratopsians. They answered bulk with bulk, aggressive with defensive warfare.

All Doomed to Extinction.

"But they were all doomed to extinction as soon as the changing environment gave the insignificant but brainier little mammals their chance. The contraction of the world due to better communications provides the corresponding change of environment today; brain power spent on devising new systems is inevitably destined to supplant the present armored monsters of the nation-state era. The only question is whether it shall be now, or after more waste and destruction."

For the immediate future, he said, both biological and historical experience demand a step-by-step advance. For this he suggested regional federations in Europe.

A league system would not work, he declared, but a minimum degree of federation might be effective. He would give this a council in which the smaller countries could be represented in groups. He would give it an assembly for discussion. He would have a staff college, a broadcasting service, a film unit, newspapers, and periodicals.

Asks Large Budget.

He would give it a budget of half a billion dollars a year, used in long term development schemes. He would handle the colonial question on the footing of mandates, with power moving away from the center. He would aid the tropical countries thru international chartered companies, world loans, and research. He would organize travel and leisure, international education exchange.

"The end of the war will face the world with a task for which it is ill prepared. It is urgent that every country, and perhaps, most of all, those countries which are not immersed in the struggle, should begin thinking out a plan of the new world order in detail, designing machinery which will work," Dr. Huxley said.

Telepathy and all extrasensory perceptions, which are not yet accepted by orthodox science, seemed to gain weight in a report presented to the session today of experiments showing that atoms emit and absorb radio waves. Whether part of the brain tissue of man or of a piece of steel the waves can be measured. This led to discussion among scientists as to the method of telepathy and similar phenomena of this order.

Reports on Radio Frequency.

The report on the radio frequency spectra of atoms was made by I. I. Rabi, P. Kusch, and S. Millman, all of Columbia university physics department.

The main result of the experiments, so far as physics is concerned, is to give a new tool for the study of the atomic nucleus in which such great power is locked. But in the case of brain emanations speculation arises as to the possible existence of what is popularly called telepathy.

Oren C. Durham, chief botanist of the Abbott laboratories, North Chicago, made a report today on his studies over a period of 15 years in atmospheric distribution of pollen and spores of nonflowering plants, including fungi. This relates to problems of hay fever and inhalant asthma. He has worked with commercial airplanes on a continent-wide survey, using a sterile agar plate or glass surface on which a thin film of vaseline was spread.

Dr. Wesley R. Coe of the Yale zoological laboratory reported on sex variations. The outstanding achievement of biology during the last decade, he said, relate to the physiology of reproduction and studies in the so-called sex hormones.

In some amphibia, he reported, complete functional sex reversal is possible. Development can be altered in birds and mammals. In certain amphibia sex can be controled merely by regulating temperature, delaying the fertilization of the egg. There is no evidence, however, of any real progress in pre-natal control of sex in man or other mammals. Attempts to direct activity in favor of one sex have been without effect.

Yankee Clipper Inaugurates Baltimore-Europe Service

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 29 (AP).—The Yankee Clipper pushed thru foggy skies today to inaugurate direct Baltimore to Europe service. The Clipper carried 1,997 pounds of mail and 37 passengers, among them Helen Halford, 6 years old, and her brother John, 4, returning alone to their home in England. The children, whose father is an officer in the British royal air force, were sent to New York last summer to escape possible air raids. Pan-American shifted winter operations to Baltimore because of fog and ice at the customary base, Port Washington, Long Island, New York.

Injured in Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 [Special.]—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and his wife, the former Ethel du Pont, were brought to the White House this afternoon following their injury in an automobile accident early today as they were driving to the capital from a party in northern Virginia.

Their car rammed a parked truck on a foggy stretch of road near Berry's Ferry in Clarke county, Virginia, between 5 and 6 a. m. A motorist took them to a hoaspital in Winchester, Va., where it was learned they had suffered painful but not dangerous lacerations on their heads and arms. The President's wife hurried to Winchester by automobile and brought them to Washington after they were released from the hospital.

U. S. ATTORNEY'S OFFICES MOVED TO NEW QUARTERS

Yesterday was moving day for United States Attorney William J. Campbell and his staff of 43 assistants and employés. They moved from offices in the south and east wings of the eighth floor in the United States courthouse to newly remodeled quarters on the fourth floor.

Campbell will have a four room suite, unholstered with red leather, and his 27 assistant district attorneys will occupy offices surrounding him. A new grand jury room also has been contructed on the fourth floor. It has three entrances and exits so witnesses will not be subjected to too much public scrutiny.

The remodeling program was provided for two years ago when congress voted $760,000 to renovate the courthouse.

North Shore Line Will Run 2 New Year's Owl Trains

The North Shore Line will operate two special "owl" trains, one in each direction, after midnight Sunday for New Year's eve merry-makers, it was announced yesterday. One special will leave the Adams and Wabash station in Chicago at 3:05 a. m., making all express stops to Waukegan, and all local stops from there to Milwaukee. Another will leave Milwaukee at 2 a. m., making all local stops to North Chicago Junction and all express stops from there to Chicago.

Principals' Club Settles Ousted Secretary's Suit

O. C. Taubeneck, ousted secretary of the Chicago Principals' club, has settled his $3,000 suit against the club for $1,150, it was announced yesterday by his attorney, John Ligtenberg. The club, composed of school principals, dismissed Taubeneck Sept. 30, altho he said he had a contract until next June 30. Taubeneck was accused of being active in factions opposed to the school administration.

Dog Catchers Have Dull Year; Nab 11,934 Strays

Business at the city dog pound fell off 25 per cent during 1939, Poundmaster Robert Forejt reported yesterday. The pound's six dog catchers picked up 11,934 strays and impounded 5,975 biters—dogs suspected of rabies. This total was 4,000 less than in 1938.

SCIENCE LEARNS WAY TO INCREASE FISH PRODUCTION

Speed Up Spawning by Use of Hormones.

Columbus, O., Dec. 29 (AP).—A new way to increase the nation's fish food resources by giving hormones to fish was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

The hormones speed up spawning by several weeks and even make some fish spawn which otherwise would not. The report was made by Arthur D. Hasler, Roland K. Meyer, and Howard M. Field of the University of Wisconsin.

Use Glands of Carp.

The hormone that suits fish was discovered at Wisconsin in the pituitary glands of carp. Altho the chemicals from this gland are not sex hormones, they possess the ability to direct sexual development.

This brain extract was injected into female muskellunges which refused to spawn because dams in rivers had cut them off from return to their natural spawning grounds. The "muskies" spawned, in captivity, in three days after getting the carp shots from a hypodermic. The same shots were tried on trout and induced spawning six to seven weeks earlier than normal.

Insects Eat Nicotine.

Nicotine is usually harmless when taken internally by insects. This was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by Doctors Roy Hansberry and L. B. Norton of Cornell university. The finding was a surprise, because nicotine dust poisons insects when it touches their exteriors.

Poison can be grown in plants to kill insects that are untouched by sprays and powders. This new method of insect fighting was reported by V. H. Morris, C. R. Neiswander, and J. D. Sayre of the Ohio agricultural experimental station, Wooster. They put a sprinkling of the metal selenium in soil and the plants took it up. The selenium killed red spiders which fed on the plants. Red spiders have been one of the main pests of corn. Selenium also is very poisonous to animals, but the Ohio scientists hope to find a light concentration that will kill pests only.

HAPPY HUNTING INDIAN THEORY BITES THE DUST

The Indians who inhabited the great plains area on this continent before Columbus discovered the new world were farmers and not bison hunters as long believed, Dr. Julian H. Steward of the United States National museum declared yesterday. He was one of the speakers at the 38th annual meeting of the American Anthropological association and affiliated groups at the University of Chicago.

"The direct historical approach to archaeology disposes of the conception that the plains were basically a bison hunting area into which a few horticulturists inadvertently wandered," Dr. Steward said. "Before Columbus and the Spanish conquistadors came the territory was in large part the home of farming Indians.

"The conquistadors introduced the horse into this civilization. This caused a shift to hunting as an occupation. The new picture of the plains culture, in the light of historic evidence, will require drastic revision of many theories previously held concerning it."

Dean Wigmore in Hospital Suffering from Pneumonia

John H. Wigmore, dean emeritus of the Northwestern university law school, was taken to Passavant hospital yesterday suffering from pneumonia. His physician, Dr. William Holmes, said last night he was doing as well as could be expected. Dean Wigmore is 76 years old. He lives at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Hearing of Personal Tax Objections Nearly Ended

CHEST COLD MISERY
THEN—spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.
RIGHT AWAY, VapoRub goes to work—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—clears air passages—relieves coughing. And often by morning, most of the misery of the cold is gone.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

West Palm Beach, Fla., Dec. 29.—Southern Florida begins the biggest football week-end in its history tomorrow. Mount Carmel High school, co-holder of Chicago's championship, will meet the West Palm Beach All-Stars in Andersen field here under the lights to open the program. Sixty-six miles away in Miami, Missouri and Georgia Tech are making final preparations for the sixth annual Orange bowl game on New Year's day.

The Chicagoans arrived in West Palm Beach this afternoon as a warm sun beat down and sent the temperature to 80 degrees, missing by 24 hours a tropical rainstorm which swept the east coast yesterday. The squad coaches, Wally Fromhart and Fred Mundee, and school officials, were led into waiting automobiles and then paraded thru the streets of West Palm Beach and Palm Beach.

5,000 to Watch Game.

Five thousand, all Andersen stadium can accommodate, will see the game. The West Palm Beach squad is composed of 28 seniors from three high schools in Palm Beach county. Winter residents of exclusive Palm Beach, football fans in West Palm Beach, and civic dignitaries will be among the crowd.

Seated in a box in the center of the field will be Mayor Kelly of Chicago, who will come to West Palm Beach from his winter home in Miami Beach; Ernest Metcalf, mayor of West Palm Beach; James M. Owens, mayor of Palm Beach; J. A. Dulaney, mayor of Pahokee, and Dr. Grady H. Brantley, mayor of Lake Worth. Close by will be Harry A. Johnston, former Florida department commander of the American Legion, and official of the local post sponsoring the game and Chet Grant, University of Notre Dame back field coach.

Orange Bowl to Draw 35,000.

In addition to Grant, many other college coaches in the vicinity for the Orange bowl game will be in West Palm Beach. Tickets for the prep game and the Miami contest are scarce. Roddy Burdine stadium in Miami has been enlarged to seat 35,000, which will set a new football attendance record for the state of Florida.

The crowds for the football contests indicate that Florida this year will enjoy one of its biggest seasons since the depression. The football games are becoming Florida's outstanding tourist attractions. Hotels and transportation officials report the heaviest business since 1929. Highways are lined with automobiles headed toward southern Florida.

The leading attraction along the coast at the moment is at Port Everglades, where visitors from eastern seaboard states and the middle west are more interested in trying to get a glimpse of the German steamer and the legally entangled tanker which barely escaped from a British battleship, than the Seminole Indians and the lumbering alligators.

Squad Holds Night Drill.

Eleven of the 28 members of the Southern squad are members of the Glades, county championship winners. 7 are from Lake Worth, adjoining city to the south, and 10 from West Palm Beach. Pahokee, located in the Everglades, overlooking Lake Okeechobee, had one of the outstanding prep teams in the south.

W-G-N TO CARRY STORY OF ROSE BOWL CONTEST

The Rose bowl football game between the Universities of Tennessee and Southern California in Pasadena, Cal., Monday will be broadcast in its entirety by the Mutual Broadcasting system, W-G-N, the Tribune station, will carry the broadcast, starting with pregame ceremonies at 3:15 Chicago time. The game will start at 4. Announcers Mike Frankovich and Tom Baker will share the broadcast.

New lands await, whereon our feet
Have never trod before.

And there is much to do and dare,

White Sox Acquire a Rookie to Plug Gap at Second Base

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

A new pupil was enrolled yesterday for the annual White Sox training school which Prof. James Dykes is scheduled to open in Pasadena, Cal., late in February. The addition will not increase the professor's prospective duties, because, while the name of the new infielder—Don Kolloway—was being engrossed on the roster four previously listed officially were assigned to minor league spots for 1940.

Tony Rensa.

Announcement of the sudden juggling of the Sox talent was made by Harry Grabiner, club vice president. First he revealed that Henry Steinbacher, the fly chaser, had been released outright to Toledo of the American association. Then, merely by shuffling a few papers, Grabiner revealed that Catcher Tony Rensa, Infielder Jesse Landrum and some cash had been turned over to the Oklahoma City club for Kolloway, the freshman infielder. Next was notice for Catcher Norman Schlueter that he'll work in St. Paul next season.

They Need a Second Baseman.

Kolloway, a 22 year old lad, who weighs 180 pounds and is almost 6 feet tall, served only one season at Oklahoma City but stepped along at such an impressive pace that the Sox front office felt it advisable to heed the recommendation of a scout. And Kolloway happens to play a position—second base—where Prof. Dykes is confronted by a problem, what with Jack Hayes' bum knee as uncertain as it was more than a year ago. Kolloway hit .302 last season.

Rensa spent several years with the Sox, but work was so light for him last season that he was in only 14 games, batted a cool .200. Schlueter has been off and on the Sox roster for several seasons, being the regular catcher for a short stretch early in 1938. Steinbacher, originally obtained from St. Paul, was sent back there on option and when he hit American league pitching for .331 in 1938 the management counted heavily on him for last season, but his summer's effort netted only a .171 average. Landrum was a rookie of several years standing.

Webb to See Hayes.

The state of Jack Hayes' health is of such concern to the Sox that Billy Webb, the club's farm chief, who is vacationing in Florida, will stop off at Clanton, Ala., the Hayes' home, on his way north. Webb may ask Hayes to do a few flip flops, hand springs and cart wheels to show the condition of the knee injured during the 1938 race and on which an operation was performed a year ago. The suspicion is that the mishap may put an end to the Alabaman's big league career.

If Hayes is forced out of the 1940 picture the second base fight will be between Aloysius Bejma and Freshman Kolloway, altho Eric McNair might get into it. His interest in second base will depend entirely on what happens to him as a third sacker, his present position. McNair's third base tenancy is threatened by Frank Metha, the Texas league graduate, and Bob Kennedy, who came up from Shreveport late last season.

Lane, Wells, Austin, Calumet Gain Prep Tourney Semi-Finals

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Lane will meet Wells and Austin will oppose Calumet in the semi-finals of the University of Chicago's interscholastic basketball tournament tonight in the Midway fieldhouse.

These four teams survived an afternoon and evening of unusually close competition to emerge safely from yesterday's quarter-finals.

Lane advanced by beating Farragut, 25 to 22; Wells beat Hyde Park, 30 to 28; Austin beat Waller, 49 to 42; and Calumet beat Hirsch, 35 to 33.

Austin Wins in Last Minute.

With the exception of the Austin-Waller engagement, all of those scores speak for themselves so far as closeness is concerned. Austin's margin, however, is deceiving, for the entire 7 point margin was scored in the last minute of play.

Calumet put across its winning stroke in the last 30 seconds, John Tebbins getting clear all by himself under the basket to take a long pass from Bert Swanson and score the field goal that broke a 33 to 33 tie. Bob Haarlow was a potent factor in bracing up the Calumet team after it had relinquished a 14 to 5 lead. Haarlow scored seven basekts and three free throws for 17 points.

Killian's Shot Decides It.

Casimir Killian's shot from beyond the free throw circle gave Wells its victory over Hyde Park after a minute and a half of sudden death overtime.

As in their first and second round games, the Lane boys kept their followers in suspense right up to the last gun. With about four minutes to go they relinquished the lead to Farragut. They promptly regained it on a field goal by Norman Schroeder after which Gunther Kotzian hooked in another to provide a margin which Lane defended to the finish.

Lane had a tough time with Farragut right from the start. At the end of the quarter Farragut was leading, 4 to 3, but Lane forged ahead to a 13 to 10 advantage at the half. Again Farragut returned to the attack and recovered the lead, but Lane was in front again, 19 to 18, as the last period began. Helwig promptly increased this with a field goal but baskets by Bachofner and Pasternak took Farragut to the front, 22 to 21. Then Schroeder and Kotzian came thru with the clinching points.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Wells Rallies Remarkably.

The Wells boys, working under a disadvantage of weight and height, made the most remarkable rally of the tournament, George Ruch tying the score in the last 20 seconds of regular playing time after his team had trailed 9 to 3 at the quarter and 16 to 5 at the half. The score worked its way to 18 to 7 early in the third quarter, then Wells made nine consecutive points on two field goals each by Killiam and Ruch and a free throw by Romanelli.

Hyde Park broke the attack temporarily with a free throw by Darch and a basket by Davis but Romanelli and Killian responded for Wells to cut Hyde Park's advantage to 21 to 20 at the end of the period. Hyde Park worked the count to 28 to 24 in the final period, then Len Chicko sank a long one for Wells and, with less than 20 seconds to go, Ruch flipped in the tying points.

7 Points in a Minute.

Austin overwhelmed Waller in the last minute after the score had been tied at 12 to 12 at the first quarter and Austin had led 24 to 22 at the half and 37 to 35 at the third quarter. Austin protected a slim lead until only two minutes remained. Then Mallich of Waller dribbled in to tie the count at 41-all. The teams exchanged free throws, and in the final 60 seconds Lundy, Felt, and Navigato made quick field goals for Austin and Navigato added a free throw.

After trailing Calumet 14 to 5 at the quarter, Hirsch rallied with determination to take a 21 to 17 lead at the half. Hirsch was still ahead, 27 to 23, at the third quarter.

In the last period, four baskets by Haarlow and another by Swanson

IRISH, WILDCATS RENEW AN OLD RIVALRY TONIGHT

Games Tonight

Notre Dame at Northwestern.
Iowa at Marquette.
Wisconsin vs. Nebraska at Milwaukee.
Centenary vs. De Paul at 78th street and Racine avenue.
Michigan vs. Cornell at Columbus.
Drake at Iowa State.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The undefeated Northwestern university basketball team may not win the Western conference championship when the campaign opens next Saturday. And Notre Dame, beaten by Illinois, Michigan and Southern California, possibly no longer is concerned over national rating. But records are forgotten when Notre Dame plays Northwestern, and the 25th court engagement tonight in Patten gymnasium is expected to produce the customary quota of thrills.

Don Kruger.

As usual, this game, almost as much a part of the New Year celebration as New Year's eve itself, will be played before a capacity crowd. Some few hundred seats remain and some of these undoubtedly will be available at game time, for seats allotted to students, who now are vacationing, can be sold.

It's Always a Battle.

No other midwestern series equals this for intense rivalry. Three games have been decided by one point. Three others were decided by two points and on five occasions only three points have separated the rivals. Then there was the memorable contest at Northwestern a few years ago, which ended in a 20 to 20 tie because of error in scoring by the officials.

That night Notre Dame left the floor believing it had lost 20 to 19 but Northwestern officials later accepted the tie which was verified by unanimous poll of newspaper men's box scores. Recently, there has been a belated tendency to call the game Northwestern's since the Irish have won 13, but this perhaps only adds to the interest in the competition.

The incorrect score attributed to Northwestern is balanced by incorrect timing by Notre Dame officials. Several years ago, when Joe Reiff, Wildcat center, scored 11 field goals against the Irish, it was found out that the watch had stopped in the second half and instead of 20 minutes, the teams had played nearly 30 minutes. Northwestern won that game.

Kruger Will Start.

Don Kruger again has been picked to start the game for the Wildcats at forward, paired with the veteran Les Harman, and the coaches still believe if he can get away to a good offensive start his scoring will improve. So far he has taken few shots altho he has had many opportunities. There is no question of Kruger's defensive ability.

The other positions will be filled by Dick Klein, Capt. Ad Vance, and Bob Shepard. These men already have clinched regular jobs, altho frequently they may yield to such substitutes as Al Butherus, Charles Melchoir, and Don Clawson.

Notre Dame's Eddie Riska is feared by the Wildcats. He led the team in scoring last year and has been highly effective this year, except against Illinois. Riska comes from De La Salle High school and Lawrence Ryan, a guard, is a graduate of Fenwick High school. Other starters will be George Sobek, forward; Capt. Mark Ertel, center, and Eugene Klier, guard.

WHIP LEADING BRUINS; TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

15,575 Watch Game in New York.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Before the season's biggest hockey crowd in New York—15,575 seated and standing in Madison Square Garden—the New York Rangers ran their streak of undefeated games to 13 tonight by beating the Boston Bruins, 4 to 0, in a bruising contest reminiscent of the teams' thrilling Stanley cup playoffs last spring.

Supporting Dave Kerr's grand goal tending with a dazzling display of offensive and defensive hockey, the Rangers got a goal lead in the first period and stood off every assault by the champions, who had gone seven games without defeat before tonight. The Ranger goals were divided among Alex Shibicky, Neil Colville, Lynn Patrick, and Kilby MacDonald.

Rangers Set Fast Pace.

Tho their last two goals were scored while the Bruins had every man up the rink, the Rangers deserved the wide margin for they had blasted thruout at the Bruin goal with the poorest of luck. Three times early in the last period the Rangers fired at an empty net and missed each time.

The Rangers' run of 13 undefeated games, of which five have been ties, was the longest since they went 13 games without defeat five seasons ago. It was the first time Boston had been shut out since the first game of the season, when Toronto walloped the Bruins, 5 to 0.

The victory elevated the Rangers into a second place National league tie with Toronto, each being two points behind Boston. Tonight's defeat was the first for the Bruins since Dec. 10, when they lost to the Rangers here.

Shibicky Starts Scoring.

The first goal was fired by Shibicky late in the first period when he raced thru the Bruin defense to pick up and convert Neil Colville's perfect pass.

From the start the teams had the crowd roaring with fast skating and heavy bumping. Only in the bumping did the Bruins come out better but the Rangers took all the body checks and still were firing shots at Frank Brimsek at the end. Lineups:

HAWKS AT TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 29 [Special].—Paul Goodman, the Blackhawks' new goalie, will have a chance to show his defensive skill tomorrow night when the Chicagoans meet the high scoring Toronto Maple Leafs. One of the shotmakers Goodman will be called upon to check is Gordon Drillon, who leads the National Hockey league scorers with 14 goals.

Goodman, called in by the Hawks from Providence when the Hawks' management gave up on Mike Karakas, veteran net minder, failed to hold the New York Americans when he made his debut earlier in the week. The Americans tied the score at 2 to 2 late in the final period, then made two goals in overtime.

Bentley Helps Check Drillon.

The Hawks defeated the Leafs, 3 to 1, in Chicago the last time they met. Manager Paul Thompson again will assign fleet Doug Bentley to the task of harassing the agile Drillon every minute of the game. In three games played against the Hawks this season Drillon has scored only once and much of the credit is due Bentley.

Chicago will return to its home ice after the game for their New Year's night game against the Detroit Red Wings.

Tomorrow's game is important for Toronto as it will tie for the league lead with Boston by defeating Chicago. The Maple Leafs showed a strong offensive in Montreal Thursday night when they whipped the Canadiens, 6 to 4.

SIMMS MAKES IT OFFICIAL; BEATS FRANKLIN AGAIN

Cleveland Fighter Wins Split Decision.

Eddie Simms, veteran Cleveland boxer, who defeated Lem Franklin a year ago, made it two in a row by winning a split decision over the 1937 Chicago Golden Gloves heavyweight champion in a 10 round bout in the Civic Center auditorium in Hammond last night. Franklin handed Eddie a beating in the last round.

The men were on even terms going into the fifth round, Franklin winning the first two and Eddie the third and fourth. In the first Simms was sent to the canvas for an eight count. Franklin staggered to his corner at the end of the third round, the result of a series of rights. They traded punch for punch in the sixth. Franklin weighed 200 pounds and Simms 198.

Card Attracts 1,400.

Promoter Mique Malloy said the attendance was 1,400 and gross receipts $1,140.

In a four round secondary feature Steve Souris, Gary, 149 pound fighter, scored his fourth consecutive victory by conquering Jack Peneau of Milwaukee. The decision of Referee Dave Durock and Judges Harry Kennedy and Joseph Joy was unanimous.

Ed [Tipperary] Murray, Cleveland heavyweight, knocked out Frank Bozic, also of Cleveland, in the first round of a scheduled six round event. Bozic, a last minute substitute for Johnny Miles, was booed by the spectators. They questioned the authenticity of the knockout.

Seward Stops Sherman.

Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont., lightweight, was awarded a technical knockout over Billy Sherman when the South Chicago southpaw was unable to come out for the second round. In a four round opener Tony di Pasquale, Chicago welterweight, pounded out a decision over George Feltes of Milwaukee.

The Savoy Athletic club has entered 50 boxers in the eighth annual amateur tournament in the Illinois Athletic club, 112 South Michigan avenue, Jan. 16, 17, and 24. It is the largest and strongest team to register. The club will be represented in each of the eight weight classes.

Willie Johnson will head the flyweights, Ray Brown the bantamweights, Andy Sterling the featherweights, Homer Williams the lightweights, Art Reese the welterweights, Frank McBride the middleweights, Hezzie Williams the light heavyweights, and Julius Glen the heavyweights.

Most of the Savoy boxers are experienced, but Homer Williams is the club's star. He will be seeking his second I. A. C. title, having conquered Bob Jarrell for the featherweight championship last Jan. 25.

FORMER DE PAUL STARS TO FACE EASTERN PROS

Two stars of recent De Paul university basketball teams, Nick Yost and Vince McGowan, will be in the Harmons' lineup tomorrow night when they meet the Philadelphia Sphas, also known as the Hebrews. The game will be played in the Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue.

Yost was named on several All-American teams after the 1935-'36 season. McGowan also played with the same team and was a star with the Lifschultz Fast Freights in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. league.

BRADLEY KEEPS PREP TITLE IN 46-43 VICTORY

Kankakee, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—Bradley High school successfully defended its title in the second annual Kankakee High school holiday invitation basketball tournament here tonight, defeating Watseka, 46 to 43.

After holding a 24 to 21 advantage at the half Bradley lost its margin in the third quarter and the lead changes hands eight times in the final period. Laverne Hahs, Bradley's center, scored 11 field baskets and four free throws for 26 points.

SILVER SKATES TEAMS TO BID FOR NEW AWARD

Old Eckersall Trophy to Be Retired.

Chicago ice skating teams will contest for a new Walter Eckersall memorial trophy in the eight Silver Skates Derbies sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in Garfield park on Jan. 13 and 14.

After the first Silver Skates Derbies in 1917 a team trophy was added to the list of awards. Then, when Walter Eckersall, founder of the races, died in 1930, it was decided to name this trophy for him, and to make permanent possession dependent on three team victories. The trophy was retired in January, 1939, but the winner is yet to be determined.

Two Organizations Tie.

The Northwest Skating club, coached and managed by Bill Beck, and the Catholic Youth organization, coached by Pete Miller, who now is the president of the Illinois Skating association, had won two legs on the Eckersall trophy. Last January these organizations tied for the team championship with 360 points. Instead of tipping a coin for possession of the tall silver shaft on which is mounted the figure of a skater, the coaches decided to let the 1940 results determine which team will gain possession.

Whichever scores the most points in the races Jan. 14 will receive the trophy.

They All Get Buttons.

To encourage competition by clubs and organizations which probably cannot expect to score enough points to win the team trophy, another award is made. This silver cup goes to the organization, club, playground, or park that has the largest number of contestants competing in the Derbies. This trophy almost always has been won by a playground or park.

Each contestant also is given a souvenir bronze button and each winner of a preliminary race receives a gold medal. More than 200 of these are distributed annually.

Post Entries Barred.

Since Chicago has had freezing temperatures for several days and also is long overdue for extreme winter weather, it seems probable the Derbies will be held on schedule. In any event the list of entries now being compiled will determine eligibility, no matter when the races are held.

Post entries are not accepted. Your name, age, home address, and club affiliation must be sent to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and must be postmarked before midnight Jan. 7. You may use the entry blank printed daily in these pages, or merely write out name, address, and age on paper and submit it. Playground and park instructors may send in their complete list of skaters as long as all requested information is given.

300 Compete Today in Ice Skating Meet

The Chicago speed skating season will open this afternoon when the Catholic Order of Foresters holds its annual derby in Waveland park, Addison street and the Outer drive. The 15 race program is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock.

Events on today's program are open only to boys and men, but girl skaters, as well as the boys and men, will see action tomorrow when the Illinois Skating association sponsors a complete list of events for all classes and age groups. These events also will be held in Waveland park.

Max Fischer, athletic director of the Foresters, reports there will be more than 300 participants, including Leo Frelsinger, Vic Ronchetti, Armin Massin, Bob Hackenbach, and Bernie Cannata.

The largest team entry of 87 came from the Tilden S. C. Tilden lists among its speedsters Frank Gregory, Tri-State junior champion, who this season will compete in the intermediate class, and Tom Baacke.

OPEN EVENTS—Class A, 220, ¾, and 1 mile; intermediate, 220 and 1 mile; junior, ½ mile; juvenile, 220 yards; midget, 220 yards.

CLOSED RACES—Senior men, 440 and 1 mile; intermediate, ¼ mile and 220; junior, ½ mile; juvenile, 220 yards; midget, 220 yards.

INVENTORY OF J. LOU COMISKEY ESTATE UPHELD

An inventory of the estate of J. Louis Comiskey, who owned the Chicago White Sox, was approved yesterday by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. The inventory was filed by Paul E. Godehn, representing the First National Bank of Chicago, executors of the estate.

At the time of Mr. Comiskey's death, on July 18, his estate was estimated at $2,325,000.

No decision was made yesterday of granting an award to the widow, Mrs. Grace Reidy Comiskey. She was bequeathed half of the estate, left in trust, in Mr. Comiskey's will. The other half went to the three children, Dorothy, Gracie Lou, and Charles II.

Award Is Excluded.

Mr. Comiskey's will specifically excludes a widow's award, it was pointed out by Mr. Godehn.

However, Roy J. Egan, representing Mrs. Comiskey, said this question would be raised again later. Under the law, a widow is entitled to one-third of her husband's estate outright. Mr. Egan also asked that the appraisers of the estate be discharged because they had not acted. There was no action taken on this, however.

Assets Are Given.

Assets listed include 7,450 shares of White Sox stock. There are only 50 other shares outstanding. They are not appraised.

Bonds total $161,770, of which $95,000 are classed as desperate.

Mortgages are listed totaling $82,200, $17,000 of which is desperate. Eight parcels of land in Chicago and Maywood are included, of which four are occupied by small apartment buildings. These are located at 7847 South Bennett avenue, 4809 Belmont avenue, 1319 East 53d street, and 6450 North Mozart street.

Includes Hotel Stock.

Other real estate is held at 3341 West North avenue, Bryn Mawr and Artesian avenues, and 1401 and 1411 South 5th avenue, Maywood. Four lots are held near Eagle River, Wis., the Comiskey summer home.

Salary due from the baseball league is listed at $6,563.99. The sum of $210 is due under the social security act. Bank accounts total $4,973.72.

Vol Rooters Arrive for Trojan Game

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—Five hundred shouting rooters rolled in today to help the Tennessee cause in the Rose bowl football game against the University of Southern California on New Year's day. Attired in coonskin caps and heavy wraps, the arriving delegation promptly set up a chant for victory.

Scores swarmed from the Los Angeles station to Pasadena, hoping for a peep at their heroes, but the Volunteer team remained in seclusion at its Pasadena hotel.

Many More En Route.

Hundreds of additional supporters are en route by plane, train, and automobile, all pledged to help the Vols retain a record of no defeats or ties in 24 consecutive games.

The Tennessee rooting section in the bowl, augmented by ex-residents of the state who live in California, will number around 5,000.

Southern California's football squad meanwhile took up quarters in Pasadena near the Rose bowl itself, but journeyed back to the S. C. campus in Los Angeles for an afternoon workout.

CLEMSON, BOSTON DRILL

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 29 (AP).—Practice sessions tomorrow will wind up the work of the Clemson and Boston college teams for their Cotton bowl engagement here Monday.

Coach Frank Leahy of the easterners said he would hold two workouts, the same as today. He said some of his boys still are below par from the effects of an attack of the grippe that struck them before they left Boston.

CROWD GREETS AGGIES

New Orleans, La., Dec. 29 (AP).—A band played "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" as the Texas A. and M.'s Sugar bowl football squad of 52 players arrived at the Union station here today en route to Biloxi.

A large crowd of officials and admirers from New Orleans and their home state greeted Coach Homer Norton and the team and many took part in a parade to the hotel where breakfast was served.

After breakfast the players boarded two buses and continued their trip to Biloxi, 80 miles to the east on the Mississippi coast, where they will train secretly until New Year's morning.

CRITICIZE BOWL GAMES; BASKET, DOUBLE BILLS

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Post-season bowl games and the steadily growing crop of college basketball double headers were criticized today as the college physical education association closed its 43d annual meeting.

Because, he claimed, they serve no real educational purpose and stress the commercial aspect of the sport, the bowl games were indicted by Joseph C. Clarke of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., in his report on "Public Relations in Intercollegiate Athletics." The leader of the discussion on this paper, Dr. J. H. Nichols of Oberlin [O.] college included in the indictment the basketball double headers which started in Madison Square Garden and since have spread to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, Columbus, O., White Plains, N. Y., and other points.

Faurot Denies Taking Stanford Coaching Post

Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP).—Coach Don Faurot of Missouri denied tonight he has accepted the head football coaching job at Stanford university. Told that the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette had reported he had agreed to become Stanfords' head coach at $8,500 a year, Faurot said:

"That is not correct. I have not been offered the job at Stanford."

Faurot declined further comment, refusing to answer queries as to whether he had been negotiating with the California school.

The Gazette said it had learned from usually reliable sources that Faurot's agreement with Stanford would be announced after Missouri plays Georgia Tech in the Orange bowl New Year's day.

GRADE SCHOOL TEAMS ADVANCE TO SEMI-FINALS

The semi-final bracket in the Queen of Angels Catholic grammar school basketball tournament was completed last night, with St. Mathias furnishing the chief surprise by defeating the pretournament favorite, St. Elizabeth, 16 to 14.

In other quarter-final games St. Mel won from St. Mary of the Lake, 6 to 4; Queen of Angels defeated Little Flower, 21 to 12, and St. Ignatius beat St. Gregory, 20 to 4.

St. Mathias will oppose St. Mel in the first semi-final at 10 o'clock this morning. Queen of Angels and St. Ignatius meet an hour later.

North, South Elevens Open Bowl Battles

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29 (AP).—Sectional rivalry conceived in war's bitterness and revived in peaceful sportsmanship will be renewed here tomorrow in the second annual Blue-Gray football game between college stars of north and south. It is the first of the major bowl games to be played.

Mayor W. A. Gunter, whose city administration sponsors the game and turns profits to charity, predicted 10,000 would turn out in clear, cold weather after a morning of parade and pageantry.

North Coaches Optimistic.

Coaches Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern and Carl Snavely of Cornell viewed their 1939 Yankee club as speedier, more versatile, and better balanced than that with which they turned back the rebels, 7 to 0, a year ago.

Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt and Josh Cody of Florida skipped a flat prediction, but Morrison said: "If a break comes our way, watch out!"

Whether Paul Shu, Virginia Military institute back, would be able to start still was a question. Bern Sweeney, Columbia guard, who suffered a bruised leg two days ago, was listed as a Blue starter.

War Veterans to Attend.

The youngsters will be cheered on by men now commanding the remnants of opposing armies of the 1860s. Gen. John E. Andrews, Quincy, Ill., commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. J. F. Howell, Bristol, Va., head of the United Confederate Veterans, clasped hands this afternoon across a wreath the former placed on a confederate monument.

Besides the football game there'll be a parade, featuring 16 bands, 12 historic tableaux with a cast of 200, and a confederate ball.

Summon Hockey Owner to Explain Attack on Official

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 29 (AP).—President Frank Calder of the National Hockey league said today that Ernie Savard, president of the Montreal Canadiens, will be summoned to explain his actions during an argument with Referee Frank [King] Clancy last night.

Savard, after Clancy disallowed a Canadiens' goal in a game against the Toronto Maple Leafs here, seized and shook the official in a subsequent sideline discussion. The Leafs won the game, 6 to 4.

"Savard is not a player, he is a president of a club," Calder said. "Before penalizing a man in his position he must be given an ample opportunity to justify his actions."

In an interview Savard said today: "I figure King Clancy is a good referee and I have nothing against the man. The only thing is that I believe he had a bad night when the Leafs were here and we were the victims."

NAME EAST QUARTER

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—After some trouble in finding a quarter back Coach Babe Hollingbery selected Dick Favor of Oklahoma for the post on the West team in the Shrine charity football game New Year's day.

Hollingbery said Favor has been outstanding on the defense, besides doing a pretty good job of calling signals.

Ray Flaherty, coach of the Washington Redskins professional team, watched the workout of four players drafted by his team. They were Steven Andrako, Ohio State; Willard Perdue, Duke; Steven Sitko, Notre Dame, and Edward Boell, New York university.

Flaherty said he was pleased with the way the four boys handled the ball and ran.

George McAfee, Duke half back, injured in practice yesterday, was reported on the mend and is expected to be in condition for the game.

Edens' 3,280 Sets Record in Beverly Pin League

The Walter C. Eden bowlers broke their own week old Beverly Major league record when they rolled 3,280 in a series with the J. F. Bambas team last night. The Edens opened with 1,001, then hit 1,106, and finished with 1,173. The performances of the five individuals were unusually uniform, Henry Kluge, leadoff man, rolling 633; Claude Gordon, 679; Harold Grogan, 658; James Keating, 648, and Adam Plunge, 662. The Bambas five bowled 3,168, led by Frank Brown, who had a 279 game and 688 series. Ed Kucic of the Bambas team turned in a 661 series. The Bambas five won the first game with a 1,117 total.

In the last half, Lyle Neat, Butler guard, shot four straight field goals. Despite Neat's accuracy, Southern Methodist twice tied the score only to have the Bulldogs pull away again. The score:

EVERT, LARNED GAIN SEMI-FINALS OF JUNIOR TENNIS

Albert Shafer, Seeded in Boys' Tourney, Beaten.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The national junior indoor tennis seedings proved to be right in the groove today as the four ranking players advanced into the semi-final round, led by top seeded Bill Umstaedter of Milburn, N. J., who had the toughest time defeating seventh seeded Fred Krais of Pelham Manor, N. Y., 11-9, 6-3.

Umstaedter's upper bracket opponent will be Gardner Larned of Chicago, seeded fourth, who toppled sixth seeded Judah Lober of New York, 8-6, 7-5. In the lower bracket, Jimmy Evert, second seeded Chicagoan, ousted the only remaining unseeded entry, Calvin Friedman, 6-3, 6-3, and will face Dick Bender of Westfield, N. J., seeded No. 3, who routed fifth seeded Melvin Schwartzman of New York, 6-1, 6-0.

Unseeded Player Scores.

The seedings in the boys' division stood up nearly as well, with the first three ranking entrants gaining semi-final berths. Like Umstaedter, top seeded Bobby Bensinger of Washington, D. C., stayed longest and played hardest before winning from Lawrence Cahall of Germantown, Pa., 6-2, 7-5.

Bensinger will meet unseeded Fred Kovaleski of Hamtramck, Mich., who scored over fourth seeded Albert Shafer of Tarrytown, N. Y., 6-4, 6-4. Irvin Dorfman and Jack Geller, second and third seeded New Yorkers, will clash in the lower bracket. Dorfman toyed with Ted Backe of Bayshore, N. Y., 6-1, 6-2, and Geller turned back Roome Parmele of New York, 6-1, 6-1.

Evert, Larned Win in Doubles.

Umstaedter and Bender, top seeded in the junior doubles, came thru easily in the quarter-final round, defeating Edwin Stephan and Paul Napolitan, Trenton, N. J., 6-2, 6-2. Evert and Larned, second seeded pair, had to battle an extra set before they could reach the semi-finals, conquering Schwartzman and Allen McDonald of Kenyon college, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

In the boys' doubles quarter-final round, Dorfman and Bensinger, first seeded, defeated John Morrison and Sylvan Raphael, Trenton, N. J., 6-0, 6-0, and the second seeded pair, Kovaleski and Shafer, advanced at the expense of Eugene A. Sands and Mitchell Polstein of New York, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

HAIR PIN FIRM AGREES TO ABIDE BY LABOR LAWS

Consent Decree Restores $103,000 in Wages.

Two consent decrees were entered in federal court yesterday by Judge John P. Barnes against the Hump Hairpin Manufacturing company and an affiliate, the Chain Store Products corporation. One prohibited the companies from further violation of the child labor laws. The other enjoined them from further violations of the wages and hours act, and required restitution of $103,000 to 1,000 workers in about 300 homes.

Charges against the companies, located at 1918 South Prairie avenue, were filed earlier in the day by United States District Attorney William J. Campbell on behalf of the regional office of the wages and hours division of the department of labor. The Hump company was said to be one of the leading manufacturers of hair pins.

Wage Restitution Heavy.

Thomas O'Malley, regional director of the wages and hours division, said the amount of restitution in the case established a record in this district. It also was the second highest amount ordered returned to workers in any district since the wage law went into effect, he added.

Payments to the home workers were made last night at the Merchandise Mart offices of the wages and hours division. Among the group several received checks for $800 each. Many had worked at a rate of from 10 to 20 cents an hour, O'Malley said.

According to Alex Elson, attorney for the wage and hour division, the home workers were engaged in inserting hairpins in cardboard containers. Most of these workers, including about 250 children, live within a radius of a mile of 35th and Halsted streets, he said. The average amount of restitution to the 300 families will be about $300, he added.

Report Many Children Employed.

O'Malley said the child labor investigation, conducted by the children's bureau of the federal department of labor, showed the companies, thru distributors, had extensively employed children under 16 years of age since the law became effective in October, 1938.

M. R. Goodman, an official of the Hump company, said the point at issue was whether the company or the distributor was the employer of the home workers. The company took the position it was not the employer because its products were placed with the home workers by distributors, he said, and therefore the company felt it was not required to police their working conditions.

Week's Auto Production Dips, Due Partly to Holiday

Automobile production this week totaled 89,365 passenger cars and trucks, Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc. estimated yesterday. Production was 117,705 cars in the preceding week and 75,215 a year ago. The decline this week was due in large part to the Christmas holiday.

[Tomorrow's story about the farm will be the last until early spring, when the daily reports on the farm activities will be resumed.]

Ready for Winter.

December 29, 1939.

As 1939 draws to a close it finds the Du Page county farm well prepared for the coming months of midwinter. This week we saw a comfortable looking woodpile behind one of the farm cottages, which holds assurance that there will be warmth in that house during the coming months. This woodpile was unusual—it is the first of Osage orange wood that we have seen on the farm. The large reddish colored roots of the trees were stacked five feet high to form a real spot of color behind the farm cottage.

The swans are in their winter quarters, the sheep are protected from snow and severe cold, the winter supply of meat has been prepared, the wood is stacked and ready for use—and cellars hold rich stores of vegetables and canned foods. So the farm is ready to say good-by to the old year and face the winter months ahead.

Starlings On Move.

We saw our old bird friends, the apple-eating starlings, on the farm this week. A number of these much discussed and often condemned birds nested on the farm this year. The starlings now move not only from field to field to find food but also from farm to farm looking for apples that have been left in the orchards, for the starling is extremely fond of old half-decayed fruit which may still cling to the trees at this time of the year.

This is the first winter that the starlings must face concerted effort to reduce their numbers. John M. Phillips, former president of the Pennsylvania game commission, has launched a movement to enroll both bird fans and conservation departments to fight the starling.

"Already millions of these birds have spread from our east coast to the Rocky mountains and from Canada to the gulf," he said. "This increase would not have become a national problem if the starling had not acquired bad habits on American soil.

Habits Are Objectionable.

"The starling's aggressions against native hole-nesting species and its depredations on cherries, apples, corn, and garden truck, along with its objectionable roosting habits, have been cited as reasons for condemnation of the species. Bluebirds and flickers have suffered most from the starling, but martins, house wrens, robins, and a few other wild species are molested in their nesting operations. They have almost exterminated the red-headed woodpeckers in many sections.

"They are also a problem in our cities, as well as in the country and the woodlands, since they make buildings insanitary and kill trees with their droppings."

Phillips wants to promote the idea of popularizing the starling as a food. He says that one of our beautiful song and insectivorous birds, the bobolink, a much smaller bird than the starling, is killed and sold along the eastern coast as a "reed bird." As such it appears on dinner tables as an expensive and delicious delicacy. Few, however, seem to consider the starling as food.

202 OF ARMOUR BRANCHES GO TO DELAWARE UNIT

Takes Step Toward Consolidation.

Armour & Co. of Illinois is turning over 202 branch houses in the United States and foreign countries to its subsidiary, Armour & Co. of Delaware, it was learned last night. The shift is being made as a step toward eventual consolidation of the two companies.

The agreement under which the properties will be transferred to the Delaware company was approved by the directors of the company recently. Most of the branches are now being operated by the Delaware concern. Armour of Illinois owns all of the common stock of the Delaware company. The Illinois company also guarantees the dividends on the $57,-700,000 of preferred stock of the Delaware company, which is publicly owned.

Considered for Several Years.

The consolidation of the two companies has been under consideration for several years. The dividends on Delaware company's stock are being paid regularly. The Illinois company is not paying dividends on its prior preferred stock or preferred shares. It is expected that the Delaware company's preferred stock will be retired or given a prior position in eventual merger of the companies.

The transfer of the branch houses, it was explained, will do away with the dual selling organizations of the present structure. Both the Delaware and the Illinois companies now maintain their own selling organizations. The Illinois company will continue to operate its packing plants in Chicago and other cities and its produce and creamery houses. With the addition of the Illinois company's branches the Delaware company will operate a total of 300 branch houses.

Aid in Financing.

The Delaware company was organized in 1922. It took over certain of the parent company's properties. The step was taken largely to aid in the financing of the business. Since its organization the Delaware company has expanded its activities to include cottonseed oil, margarine, leather, fertilizer, and various other specialized operations. The consolidated assets of the Delaware company aggregate $205,000,000.

It is not expected that a merger of the two companies will be effected in the near future. The necessity of obtaining new capital to retire the underlying preferred stock of the Delaware company makes such a step impossible under present market conditions, it was said. The Delaware preferred is redeemable at $110 a share. More than $60,000,000 would be required to carry out the redemption.

Branches in Many Countries.

The Illinois company's branches involved in the transfer include selling organizations in Spain, South Africa, Porto Rica and Panama, in addition to the domestic branches. The Delaware company operates branches in Great Britain, South America, Cuba, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands. It also has packing plants in Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, and Canada.

HOLIDAY SALES OF STORES GAIN OVER YEAR AGO

Department store sales thruout the nation soared 13 per cent above the corresponding 1938 levels in the week before Christmas, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. The twelve federal reserve districts reported individual increases ranging from 8 to 21 per cent, with 7th district [Chicago area] sales spurting 14.7 per cent. Sales in Chicago proper in the week ended Dec. 23 were 13.3 per cent larger than in the comparable 1938 week. The largest gain for any principal city in the 7th district was shown by Indianapolis, where department store sales jumped 21.1 per cent. Sales in the nation for the four weeks ended Dec. 23 indicated department stores did a 5 per cent better business than in the month preceding Christmas last year. Chicago district sales for the four weeks increased 14 per cent, and sales in Chicago proper were up 8 per cent.

In only one district, the Boston area, did sales drop below the corresponding 1938 figures. A decrease of 1 per cent was reported for that district. Increases elsewhere ranged from 1 to 10 per cent.

TRADE APPEAL TO JAP LEADER HAS 'NO RESULT'

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The United States Chamber of Commerce was advised today that the Tientsin, China, chamber had requested the Japanese commander of that area to revise trade regulations to bring about better relations, but had yet had seen "no concrete result." The communication from Tientsin, dated Dec. 28, said:

"A delegation of the American Chamber of Commerce called this morning on Gen. Homma [Lieut. Gen. Seisaburo Homma, commander of Japanese troops] seeking to correct the impression that they are hostile, which he charged in a press interview.

"They requested both orally and in written statement a lifting of orders and asked that Americans be relieved of the necessity of passing thru searching sheds; that American owned cargoes be given immediate passage thru the barrier; that passage of the barrier by alien employes [of American firms] be expedited and that additional passes be issued for such employés."

Kuppenheimer Reports Profit in Fiscal Year

Bertram J. Cahn.

B. Kuppenheimer & Co., Chicago manufacturer of men's clothing yesterday reported a net profit of $36,431 for the fiscal year ended Oct. 28. The company had a net loss of $136,-377 in the preceding year.

Bertram J. Cahn, chairman of the board, told stockholders in the annual report that results were "not satisfactory" during the first half of the 1939 fiscal year, but that a substantial increase in orders and shipments resulted from improved general business conditions in the last six months. Cahn also said that there has been an encouraging increase in advance sales for the coming spring season.

He said the company hoped that continued improvement would warrant the payment of a dividend next year.

Reports Profit Gain.

Cherry-Burrell corporation reported its net income in the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 increased to $458,068, or 87 cents a common share, from $445,810 or 84 cents a share in the preceding year. Walter L. Cherry, president of the dairy equipment manufacturing concern, said that taxes of $270,000 applicable to the 1939 fiscal year were equivalent to 77 cents on each dollar paid to common stockholders in the form of dividends. This tax expense compared with 74 cents in 1938, and 62 cents in 1937.

Cherry said that the company expects to acquire next month two distributors in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Payment for the companies will be made in cash.

U. S. BUYS GOLD FASTER THAN IT IS PRODUCED

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The United States, with its government price of $35 an ounce for gold, is acquiring the metal at a rate faster than it is produced, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported today.

As a result of fresh shipments of the metal here from abroad, the government's gold stock this month climbed to $17,640,000,000, an increase of about $3,130,000,000 during 1939, compared with a gain of $1,750,000,000 in 1938.

"During the last quarter of 1939 the increase in the United States gold stock has averaged about 230 million dollars a month, an amount substantially in excess of the current rate of gold production thruout the world," the bank said.

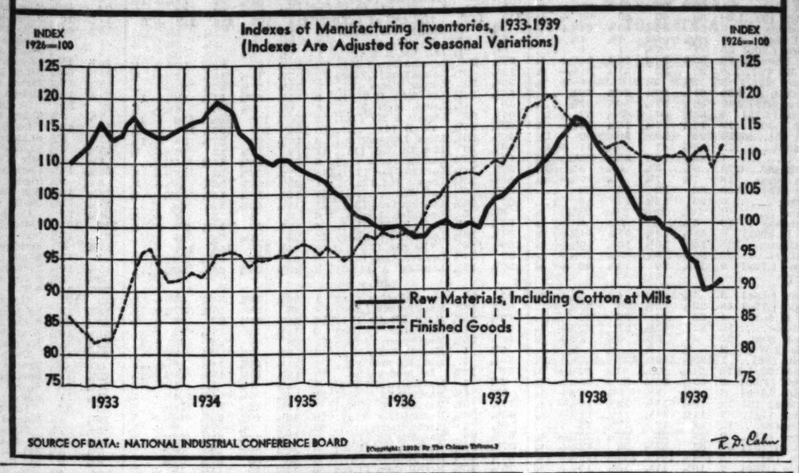
"How Large Are Inventories?" Here Are the Facts



Wallace Cuts Sugar Import, Market Quotas

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today established sugar import and marketing quotas for 1940 totaling 6,725,100 short tons, raw value. This compared with 1939 total quotas of 6,755,386. The quotas by areas for 1940, compared with 1939, follow:

Domestic beet area, 1,559,695 short tons and 1,566,719; mainland cane area, 422,823 and 424,727; Hawaii, 943,697 and 948,218; Porto Rico, 803,-026 and 806,642; Philippine Islands, 1,036,356 and 1,041,023; Virgin Islands, 8,972 and 9,013; Cuba, 1,923,680 and 1,932,343; foreign countries other than Cuba, 26,581 and 26,701.

Quotas Set Up in 1937.

The quotas were set up under provisions of the sugar act of 1937, which is designed to promote "orderly" marketing of sugar, to assure producers a fair price and to protect consumers against excessively high prices.

Establishment of the quotas follows action by President Roosevelt earlier in the week reëstablishing the quota system which he suspended in September when prices, spurred by war buying, advanced sharply.

Wallace said that when additional data on domestic sugar consumption during the last few months becomes available it may be necessary to adjust the quotas slightly.

Plan Domestic Production Program.

Officials said the department was taking steps to inaugurate a sugar production program for the domestic beet and cane areas, and Hawaii. Under such a program, growers who met certain conditions, including nonemployment of child labor and soil conservation practices and complied with acreage allotments, would be eligible for subsidies which in former years have totaled about $48,000,000. Funds for these subsidies are secured from an excise tax on the manufacture of sugar.

Illinois' Fall Pig Crop 22 Pct. Larger than in '38

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29 (AP).—The Illinois fall pig crop was estimated today at 2,869,000 head, or 22 per cent larger than that of 1938, on the basis of the December survey by the state and federal departments of agriculture. The report said the fall crop, combined with 4,560,000 spring pigs, made the year's total 7,429,000 pigs saved, or 17 per cent above the combined 1938 crops.

BRENTANO BOOK FIRM BUYS CHICAGO BRANCH OF NEW YORK CONCERN

Brentano's Bookstores, Inc., yesterday bought the stock of the Double-day-Doran Book Shops, Inc., at 10 North Michigan avenue. It also made a lease thru Hooker & Slosson for three years on the space occupied by the Doubleday firm during the last five years. According to W. W. Goodpasture, manager of Brentano's, the new unit will be operated, beginning next Friday, as Brentano's Boulevard branch. Double-day-Doran is a New York corporation.

Gretchen Kroch.

This will give Brentano's four Chicago book stores. The main store is at 29 South Wabash avenue. It has branches in the Pittsfield building lobby and in the Stevens hotel.

Adolph Kroch, who is president of Brentano's, also has three Chicago stores and one in Detroit, operating under the name of A. Kroch, books. His daughter, Gretchen Kroch, will be manager of the new Brentano store.

WHEAT FIRMER; LOW ARGENTINE CROP FORECAST

Wheat futures closed ⅛ to ½ cent a bushel higher on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, the May delivery making the larger advance. Scattered selling caused prices to react from an early upturn of 1½ cents.

The buying which entered the market shortly after the opening and pushed prices higher was based on a bullishly interpreted unofficial estimate that Argentina has a crop of only 114,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, or 33,000,000 bushels less than the government forecast earlier in the month. Trading was slow after the first rush of buying.

A southwestern chain bakery was said to have bought 250,000 barrels of flour, which was equal to more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, and orders for 350,000 barrels more, it was reported, may be placed shortly.

Corn prices held within narrow limits. Altho export sales were placed at 500,000 bushels there was relatively little buying against this business. Futures closed unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Rye declined ⅜ to ⅝ cent with brokers who frequently act for northwestern elevator interests on the selling side. Soy beans declined 1¾ to 2 cents on selling attributed to professional traders.

Report L. & N. Bond Offering Selling Well

The $60,000,000 issue of Louisville and Nashville railroad bonds offered publicly yesterday by a syndicate headed by Morgan Stanley & Co. was reported to have been well received. The 20 year 4 per cent bonds were quoted slightly above the offering price of 100½. The 10 year 3½ per cent bonds, offered at 101, sold at the offering price.

Large institutions, including insurance companies, were the principal buyers, it was stated.

The L. & N. yesterday asked the Interstate Commerce commission for permission to issue and sell the bonds to the Morgan Stanley group. As a railroad bond issue is discussed with the ICC before it is brought out, the asking of permission to sell the bonds is held to be largely a formality. However, the sale of the bonds was made conditional to receiving the authority.

Controversy on Competitive Bidding.

Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago investment banking house, started a controversy when it criticized the action of the L. & N. directors in placing the bonds with the Morgan Stanley syndicate instead of thru competitive bidding. The Chicago house has been an advocate of competitive bidding in the offering of railroad and utility stocks.

In the meantime Otis & Co., Cleveland investment banking house, which in the past has joined with Halsey-Stuart in attempting to bring about competitive bidding on other issues, declared that the Securities and Exchange commission's decision with respect to a proposed $28,594,000 Consumers Power company issue was "an important milestone in establishing correct principles for the future."

May Require Competition.

The SEC statement said it "might deem it desirable in the future to adopt a rule requiring competitive bidding."

The SEC ruling provided that Consumers Power could sell only $18,-594,000 of bonds, covering the amount wanted for refunding purposes; ordered the fees of the two principal underwriters impounded until the question of their relationship with the utility was decided; and held that the Commonwealth and Southern corporation was free to acquire 125,000 shares of Consumers Power common stock at $28.25 a share.

Otis & Co. sought to compel Commonwealth and Southern, holding company which controls Consumers Power, to cause the Consumers Power common stock to be offered thru competitive bidding for it.

Morgan Stanley and Bonbright & Co. announced yesterday the $18,594,-000 of Consumers Power company 3¼ per cent bonds would be publicly offered next week "assuming market conditions are satisfactory."

BANKERS' RULE ON DISHONORED CHECKS CHANGED

All banks were notified yesterday of a change in the rules of the federal reserve system whereby dishonored checks in amounts of $50 or less are not to be "protested." The old rule set the amount at $10.

The change in the reserve system's rules is expected to result in a substantial savings for merchants and others because of the fee charged in connection with the protesting of checks dishonored because of insufficient funds or other reasons. These fees average about $2.50. They are paid by the persons who endorse the checks.

From 4,000 to 5,000 returned cash items, including checks and drafts, daily pass thru the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. Dishonored checks are "protested" to provide legal evidence that they have been duly presented and payments have been refused.

Employment Service Finds More Jobs in November

During November the Illinois unemployment service found jobs for 13,539 unemployed workers, Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, reported yesterday. This was 774 more jobs than were found in November, 1938.

FISK RUBBER'S SALE VOTED BY STOCKHOLDERS

United States Firm to Pay $11,227,330.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 29 (AP).—A majority of Fisk Rubber corporation stockholders tonight approved sale of the corporation to the United States Rubber company for about $11,227,330.

A flurry of opposition developed at the meeting. There was little debate, but a group holding proxies for stockholders opposed to the purchase at the price United States Rubber offered indicated it would challenge the vote in the courts.

With the stockholders' approval, the $14,000,000 Fisk concern would be absorbed completely by the $180,000,-000 United States Rubber company.

Terms of Purchase.

United States Rubber has said it would pay $6,827,336 in cash and 109,-981 shares of its common stock for all Fisk properties and assets. Fisk stockholders would receive $6.75 in cash and one-fourth of a share of United States Rubber common stock for each share of their stock. Holders of Fisk preferred stock would receive $110 for each share.

The vote authorizing the sale was: For the sale, 24,056 shares of preferred and 280,617 shares of common stock, against 28 preferred and 58,506 common. Most of the lengthy meeting was taken up counting the proxies.

Opposition to the sale came principally from a group of stockholders represented by Whitfield Reid, former secretary and general counsel of Fisk, and from public officials of Springfield, Mass., and nearby Chicopee Falls—site of the Fisk plant.

Peddling Charge Denied.

Roy W. Dykstra, minority stockholder from Springfield, demanded that minutes of all directors' meetings at which the Fisk sale was discussed be read.

To Dykstra's intimation that Col. Charles E. Speaks, Fisk president, approached other tire companies in an effort to "peddle" Fisk before agreeing to the United States Rubber offer, Speaks replied:

"I deny that. And if there weren't ladies present I'd deny it more emphatically."

Col. Speaks also denied an intimation by Dykstra that he once was connected with the United States Rubber company.

Hints Trust Violation.

Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold previously had suggested that the proposed deal "may violate the federal antitrust laws." Expressing his views in a letter to United States Rubber which, however, he did not advise against going ahead, Arnold indicated that antitrust action might be unnecessary if the two companies were operated as separate corporations to preserve the independence of dealers thruout the country and to protect interests of stockholders and employés.

Another meeting of stockholders will be held Jan. 9. Officials present today said dissolution of the corporation probably would be approved at that time. Without dissolution, it was pointed out, Fisk stock would remain on the market and distribution of the purchase money to stockholders would be held up.

FREIGHT TOTAL DIPS, BUT RUNS ABOVE YEAR AGO

Loadings of revenue freight in the week ended Dec. 23 totaled 654,817 cars, a decrease of 26,349 from the preceding week, but a gain of 80,619 cars over a year ago, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. A heavier demand for coal, ore, and coke caused a less than seasonal decline for the week.

Last week, according to the report, was the third consecutive period in which loadings have shown a decline which was less than seasonally expected. The decrease was 4 per cent from the preceding week. Loadings were 14 per cent higher than in 1938 and 43 per cent over 1937.

The report compared the various loadings as follows:

STANDARD GAS WILL SPEND 37 MILLION IN '40

Utility Plans Five Major Projects.

A tentative construction budget of $37,047,735 during 1940 for public utility operating companies in the Standard Gas and Electric company system was announced yesterday by Bernard W. Lynch, president. The amount, he said, includes $5,365,152 carried over from the 1939 budget on projects not completed this year.

Bernard W. Lynch.

Five major projects, involving additional generating capacity totaling 135,-000 kilowatts, are included in the program. A classified summary of the preliminary budget shows estimated expenditures in the electric department of $32,718,999; in the gas department, $3,454,021; and in other departments, $874,715.

Another Project Considered.

In addition, Lynch said, the system is considering one other project that would involve 25,000 kilowatts of added generating capacity. This project was not included in the budget, however, because no decision had yet been made that it would be authorized, he explained.

The five projects included in the tentative budget were as follows:

New York Stocks.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The stock market today recorded another selective recovery move despite the handicap of belated tax selling. Offerings for establishment of income losses came out in larger volume than in the preceding session, but reinvestment demand, brokers said, aided many issues to weather the squall. Altho numerous stocks were at Thursday's final levels or down a shade, advances of fractions to more than a point predominated at the close.

Transfers of 1,135,361 shares compared with 1,080,680 yesterday. It was the third consecutive session in which the turnover exceeded a million shares.

Business news was to the liking of Wall street and some traders stepped over into the purchasing ranks in the growing belief better times were due for markets in 1940, even tho a moderate recession in industry is experienced in the first quarter.

Among prominent gainers were Sears-Roebuck, du Pont, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Commercial Credit, Burlington Mills, American Telephone, American Airlines, Cerro de Pasco, North American, American Can, and Chesapeake and Ohio.

General Motors was up a shade and Chrysler off slightly. United States Steel showed a slight loss and Bethlehem was up a small amount. Declines were recorded by Johns-Mansvills, Texas Corporation, United States Rubber, Anaconda, Consolidated Edison, United Aircraft, and Union Carbide.

New York Bonds.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The bond market wrote up new gains today in a year-end rise that started Thursday. Rail liens again supplied a buoyant touch. Some of the individual gains ran to as much as 4 points.

Corporate issues generally participated in the move which bond dealers associated with a generally favorable sentiment on business prospects for the first quarter of 1940.

United States government issues added moderately to a quota of good gains scored during the week. The most actively traded issues in the foreign sector accounted for many new advances under the lead of Belgian, Norwegian, Italian, and South American groups.

Chicago Stocks.

Transactions increased to 75,000 shares on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in the final full session of the year. Trading was at the highest pitch since the early days of the European war, and included $100,000 par value of bonds. Gains ruled among the stocks.

Two issues reached new peaks for 1939. Commonwealth Edison finished at the year's new mark of 32¼, up ⅛, on a turnover of 6,850 shares. Rath Packing advanced 1¾ at a 1939 high of 47. Chicago corporation, volume leader with sales of 20,550, ended ⅛ lower at 7¼. Butler Brothers, Central and South West, Bendix, Fuller Manufacturing, Jarvis, and Consolidated Oil were other active issues closing with fractional gains.

A total of 141 issues was traded. Of these, 67 advanced, 35 declined, and 39 closed unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago Title and Trust and City National shares each rose a point in bank stock trading yesterday. The former closed at 119 bid, and the latter at 114. Northern Trust declined 3 points to a bid of 565. Other issues were steady.

PANAMA CANAL'S TRAFFIC LARGEST IN LAST DECADE

Secretary Woodring.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Secretary of War Woodring today reported the heaviest year of traffic for the Panama canal in a decade. He said traffic netted a return of 2.86 per cent on the cost of the waterway.

A total of 5,903 ocean going commercial vessels made the trip between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans in the fiscal year ended June 30, Woodring said in his annual report to President Roosevelt.

"This was the highest number of commercial transits since 1929 and the fourth highest since the canal was opened to commerce," he said.

Tolls totaled $23,661,021 and cargoes 27,866,627 long tons, a 2 per cent increase over the preceding year. Combined net revenues were estimated at $14,522,343, which represented a 2.86 per cent return to the United States on a capital investment of $508,346,823.

In the 25 years since the canal was opened to commercial traffic, Woodring said 104,417 ships passed thru it, paying $453,046,858 in tolls.

American Ships Lead.

Of the commercial vessels using the canal last year, those of American registry carried 35.6 per cent of the cargoes. British ships carried 24.4 per cent, Japanese 6.1, German 5.3, Swedish 3.5, and the remainder was distributed among ships of about 15 countries.

The Panama Railway company, operating rail lines and a steamship service to New York, reported a net profit of $1,387,559. It has just placed three steamers costing about $13,400,000.

GORHAM.

I am interested in the stocks of Gorham, Inc., listed on the New York Curb. Kindly send me a report on the company.—N. D.

Answer: Gorham, Inc., sells thru retail stores of its several subsidiaries a variety of jewelry, precious stones, silverware, china, and numerous novelties.

Capitalization consists of 43,073 shares of $3 cumulative preferred stock, 125,000 shares of common class A stock, and 25,000 shares of common class B stock. All of the class B stock, and 33,000 shares of class A stock, and 3,000 shares of the preferred were held on Jan. 5, 1938, by the Gorham Manufacturing company. The extent of Gorham Manufacturing's current holdings in the issues has not been reported.

The preferred stock has prior right to assets and to cumulative dividends of $3 a year. It is redeemable at $50 a share. This stock has equal voting rights with the other classes because dividends have not been paid since 1931. The preferred acquires voting power after dividends have been in arrears more than two years.

Nothing has been paid on the common stocks since incorporation in 1928. Accumulated unpaid dividends on the preferred stock total $25.50 a share. Nothing can be paid on the other classes until this accumulation is eliminated.

The company has lost money each fiscal year except in 1930, 1937, and 1938. Net loss in the year ended Jan. 2, 1939, was $980,000 after an inventory write-down of $800,000. This compared with net profit of $52,455 in the 1938 fiscal year and $23,191 in the 1937 fiscal year.

Current assets last Jan. 31 totaled $2,795,493 and exceeded current liabilities by $3,669,763.

HASKELITE.

I am told that Haskelite Manufacturing corporation has a process to produce a strong, lightweight plastic. What are the other products? What are its general operations?—H. B.

Answer: About one-half of the net sales of the Haskelite Manufacturing corporation is of metal-covered plywood used for floors and sides of autos, buses, elevators, and railroad cars. Its plywood products are employed in aircraft making for wing surfaces, fuselages, floors, partitions, and doors. Most of the company's products are made to custom specifications.

Among the recently developed products is a "duramold," which is reported to be a plastic developed under heat and pressure from wood fibers and plastic resins. The lightweight plastic is being tested for strength and durability.

In the first half of 1939 the company incurred a net loss of $30,135 compared with net loss of $51,226 in the corresponding 1938 period. Net loss before federal taxes in 1938 was $65,613 against net income of $64,799 in 1937.
